Rioters Burn Saigon Jeeps

SAIGON (UPI) —Thousands of Buddhists stormed through Saigon today in a series of anti-American and antigovernment demonstrations. They shouted "Down with President Johnson!" Burned American and South Vietnamese jeeps and stoned riot police fighting back with tear gas and clubs.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky ignored the Buddhist efforts to bring down his government and went ahead with plans that may keep his military regime in power well into 1967. This was expected to inflame the Buddhists still more since it ignores their demands for prompt elections.

Riot police also inflamed the Buddhists by lobbing tear gas shells into their Vietn Hoa Dao pagoda while putting down a riot this morning. The Buddhists reformed their ranks and another 5,000 or so poured out of the grounds in an even noisier riot later in the day.

The demonstrations took a angry anti-American turn when a suspected security agent shot and wounded three Buddhists who were attacking him.

False rumors spread that it was Americans who did the shooting and the mob turned its wrath on any soldier they could find.

The hooting demonstrators swarmed past the residences of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Viet Nam, and Deputy Ambassador William C. Porter, but neither official was reported at home.

The rioters stole at least one submachine gun from the American military police jeep before they doused it with gasoline and danced wildly about its flames. A Vietnamese SAIGON — Two U.S. Navy jets scrambled from the 7th Fleet carrier Ranger today and shot down an unidentified plane picked up on fleet radar off the North Vietnamese coast.

The 1,500 mile an hour F4C Phantoms also chased away a second unidentified plane that had been picked up by sensitive radar on the guided missile frigate USS Coontz.

Pilots of the two Phantoms first made radar and then visual contact with the two "bogeys" about 18 miles northeast of the North Vietnamese coastal city of Thanh Hoa.

The targets took "evasive action" but one of the Phantoms unleashed a radar-directed Sparrow missile and "both pilots observed an explosion," the Navy spokesman said.

The second plane turned tail and flew back into North Viet Nam, watched on radar screens by the Phantoms, the Coontz and several 7th Fleet ships at sea nearby.

The Communists have never before launched an air strike against ships of the fleet, but the Navy regards as fair game any plane coming at them.

North Vietnamese motor torpedo boat attacks on 7th Fleet ships in the Gulf of Tonkin first led U.S. authorities to order air strikes against North Viet Nam last year.

Match Play Blamed For Novato Fire

One boy, watching the fire fighters, was injured when a six-inch tree branch fell and hit him on the head and right shoulder. He is Bruce Ferreira, 11, of 898 Vallejo Avenue. He was given emergency treatment at Novato Hospital and then taken to see his own doctor.

FALSE REPORT

When the fire was first reported, two other false reports kept the department from sending all of its equipment to the scene immediately. The tower at Hamilton Air Force Base reported a fire on Highway 37 in the vicinity of Black Point, so one truck was sent there. An unidentified person reported a fire at Wilson Avenue and Mill Road in the western part of Novato. This turned out to be the same fire seen clear across town, according to Fire Chief George J. Cavallero.

The brush blaze started near the home of Borden Harley at 7 Cherry Court, said chief Cavallero. Two boys playing in the area said they saw the fire and tried to put it out, but it went too fast. They denied starting it, the chief said.

DRY GRASS

The blaze swept up the south side of the hill through dry grass. It jumped newly cut fire trails and burned into the timbered area on the north side of the hill.

The Novato fire department sent 40 regular and volunteer firemen to the fire. They were assisted by approximately 100 men, women and youths.

Firemen were kept on the mop-up operation until 11 p.m. and returned this morning to watch for possible rekindling of embers, the chief said.

The hill has been the scene of a grass fire almost every year for the past six years, according to Cavallero.

Water Use Puts Drain On System

Areas of San Rafael, Mill Valley, Larkspur, Corte Madera and Tiburon were without water for three hours last night because county residents used a third more water than ever before yesterday.

General Mgr. William R. Seeger said the Marin Municipal Water District customers used 50 million gallons of water, 12 million above the previous high. "This is an unprecedented demand on the system," he said.

About 100 customers were without water from 7 to 10 p.m. on Reservoir Road, Bungalow Avenue and Bret Harte Road in San Rafael; Chevy Chase Court in Larkspur; Paradise Drive in Corte Madera and Tiburon, and in Homestead Valley, Seeger reported. All are served a low pressure gravity feed system, he said.

Seeger asked Marin residents not to waste water. "The use of discretion as long as the hot spell continues would be helpful," he said.

He minimized the danger to fire protection, saying fire mains have "plenty of water in them." Fire departments "have

Bullet-Fed Blaze Demolishes Home

Flames, fed by gunpowder and shells, erupted in the garage of a Terra Linda home shortly after 7 p.m. yesterday, forced two youths to flee for their lives, and destroyed the house.

Two firemen were injured fighting the blaze and a neighboring home was damaged. Total loss was estimated at $48,800.

The fire broke out in the James Robert Robertson home at 704 Las Colindas Road at 7:11 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson were away on brief errands. Left in the house were Laura Robertson, about 20, and Steve, about 17.

Miss Robertson heard popping in the attached garage and opened the door. The garage was full of flame.

She warned her brother, and the two fled.

About the same time, former Terra Linda Fire Chief Richard Flaherty, now operator of the Mobil service station about three blocks away at 625 Del Ganado Road, saw a column of smoke and turned in the alarm.

A crew of 28 from Terra Linda, fire department, three regulars and 25 volunteers, responded. The San Rafael fire department sent a truck with five men.

"When we arrived the Robertson home was totally involved," Terra Linda Chief George Walser said. "Flames were spreading to the neighboring home."

The M. L. Buckley family at 700 Las Colindas was quickly evacuated and firemen put a curtain of spray between the Buckley and Robertson homes and succeeded in putting out the blaze in the Buckley home.

They also cooled off a car parked in the driveway of the Robertson home.

Mercury Shoots To 104 Degrees

Cooler Winds Forecast

Heat that hit Marin suddenly yesterday, sending the mercury to 104 degrees in San Anselmo and 103 degrees in San Rafael and Novato, was staging a return today—but with Weather Bureau promise that westerly wind would bring some relief.

At noon, the San Rafael temperature atop the Independent-Journal Building was 88, only two degrees down from the noon reading yesterday.

Portions of Marin were without water for three hours last night as result of what William R. Seeger, Marin Municipal Water District manager, said was an all-time record water use during the day.

GRASS FIRES

A number of grass fires in the county were fought in the blistering heat, the worst of them in Novato, where 30 acres burned on the hillside above Cherry street.

Another 4,000 square feet burned in Fairfax near 56 Willow Avenue. Small spot fires were put out in Southern Marin, one near Manzanita School in Marin City, the other near the Bridgeway sidewalk across from the Bayside Iron Works in Sausalito.

Farmer's Hunch Traps Two Murder Suspects

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

A hunch of a dairy farmer at work high on the sun-scorched hills of southern Marin County led yesterday to the dramatic gun-point capture of two murder and armed-robbery suspects by sheriff's deputies.

As the two men were being questioned today, the search began for a third man, armed and dangerous, who may be hiding out in the county.

Booked last night were Garry Rice, 27, of 210 Mission Avenue, San Rafael and Joseph J. Tatton, 31, of San Mateo. Both were wanted in connection with the murder of a store guard in Mountain View and robberies in the East Bay resulting in loot exceeding $133,000.

An all-points bulletin was issued today for Rice's brother, Byron James Rice, 30, who may be able to help police in their inquiries.

He is believed to be driving a

DALLAS SPECTATOR—Mrs. Marguerite Oswald clicks a shutter alongside newsmen at the sanity trial of Jack Ruby in Dallas, Tex. Mrs. Oswald said she was an "interested observer" at yesterday's trial, and repeated her claim that her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, whom Ruby killed, was made a "patsy" in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. (UPI Telephoto)

Ruby Ruled Sane; Appeal Slated On Lee Oswald Murder Verdict

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Jack Ruby murder case, plagued by legal complications and wrangles among defense lawyers, appears finally to be on its way to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Ruby's conviction and death sentence for the Nov. 24, 1963, killing of Lee Harvey Oswald has not yet technically progressed beyond the trial court level. Oswald was named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy. Kennedy was shot Nov. 22, 1963.

But one major obstacle to the movement of Ruby's trial was removed yesterday when a Dallas District Court Jury ruled that the 55-year-old former strip joint operator was legally sane.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals—the highest court in the state for noncivil cases—had indicated that it would not take up the appeal of the murder conviction until the sanity issue was settled.

Ruby was convicted of murder March 14, 1964, in the same court— Criminal District Court No. 3—that adjudged him sane.

The defense, claiming that Ruby was insane, had requested a sanity hearing a month after the conviction. It was repeatedly delayed for various reasons.

The Texas appeals court, ordered May 18 that Ruby's sanity be judicially determined without delay.

It took a seven-man five-woman jury only 10 minutes yesterday to rule that Ruby was sane.

The defense last Friday had asked that the sanity trial be put off. Reasons given were that such a proceeding at this time would violate Ruby's constitutional rights and would only serve to slow the appeal of the murder conviction.

But Judge Louis Holland denied formal motions to that effect yesterday and the jury panel was selected and sworn in 42 minutes.

The state chose 1 2jurors and put on five witnesses—four jailers and the jail doctor—to back up its contention that Ruby is of sound mind.

Ruby himself took the witness stand for one minute during the trial to say: "Never at any time have I tried to make anyone believe that I was of unsound mind. I never tried to camouflage my mental capacities."

Seven Chicagoans Wounded In Second Night Of Rioting

CHICAGO (AP) — Police fought with more than 1,000 rioting Puerto Ricans last night in the second straight night of violence on Chicago's Northwest Side.

Seven Puerto Ricans were shot and wounded and 37 more were arrested before the rioting was brought under control early today, police said.

STRAY BULLETS

Police officials said the other six apparently were hit by stray bullets.

Among several other persons injured by flying bottles and bricks was John Elmer, 31, a Chicago Tribune reporter. He was released after treatment for cuts on the jaw.

Hospital authorities had no count of the injured who were treated.

Looting was reported in some stores in the area, where police ordered stores closed for the night. Glass from broken store windows littered the streets where Puerto Rican youths walked with signs charging police brutality.

MARCH PLANNED

Puerto Rican spokesman said they planned a protest march today from Humboldt Park to City Hall in downtown Chicago.

More than 200 policeman finally put down the riot after seizing dozens who refused to leave when given this ultimatum: "Go home or be arrested."

The area where the two nights of rioting occurred contains about 40,000 Spanish-speaking persons.

The two nights of violence began Sunday after a policeman shot a Puerto Rican youth, identified as Cruz Arcelis, 20. Police said the youth was armed and was trying to escape. On both nights, more than 1,000 persons clashed with police.

Last night's violence erupted suddenly in a neighborhood where most of the businesses are run by and cater to Puerto Ricans. Spanish prevails on store signs.

blinking, they broke and ran down the street, breaking windows and yelling. They ignored the pleas of clergymen and community leaders.

The Rev. Donald Headley, executive director of the Cardinal's Committee for Spanish-Speaking People, has said there is a "lack of communication" between the residents and police.

O. W. Wilson, police superintendent, said that efforts are being made to recruit more police from the Latin-American community and that 40 policemen are now enrolled in Spanish classes.

Child Custody Battle Shifts

WALNUT CREEK (AP) — Harold W. Painter's demand for custody of his young son is headed for the U.S. Supreme Court.

Painter

"I'm relieved that we're getting out of the hands of the Iowa courts," he said yesterday. "Our main goal now is getting the Supreme Court to review the case."

Painter, 34, a Job Corps photographer, spoke after the Iowa Supreme Court refused to reconsider its decision, granting custody of Mark Painter, 7, to the youngster's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bannister of Ames, Iowa.

The refusal, made yesterday without comment, clears the way for an appeal to the nation's highest court.

Mark

Iowa's high court had ruled the youngster would be better off in a "stable, dependable, conventional, middle class, mid-western background." It said the boy would probably find intellectual stimulation with his father, and said Painter had a "bohemian approach to finances and life in general."

The youngster has been living with his grandparents since their daughter, Jean, was killed in a 1962 automobile accident. Painter has since remarried.

'Sambo' Is Target

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Two Negro groups plan to ask the Seattle Library Board to take the book, "Little Black Sambo," from its shelves, says Keve Bray, executive director of the Central Area Action Committee. The book "is derogatory to the Negro and it strongly suggests inferiority to the Negroes," Bray said Monday.

More German Crashes

BONN, Germany (AP) — Two more West German air force E-104 Starfighter jets have crashed, bringing to 59 the number of the U.S.-designed planes lost by the West Germans since 1961. One pilot was killed and another missing in the crashes yesterday.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Communist terrorists in northeastern Thailand ambushed a government patrol Saturday and killed seven policemen and soldiers, government officials disclosed today.

Turncoat To Sail

HONG KONG (AP) — Korean war turncoat Clarence Adams is leaving for the United States tonight aboard the liner President Cleveland, a spokesman for the American President Lines said today. The spokesman said the 37-year-old Negro from Memphis, Tenn., would be accompanied by his wife and their two children.

Surveyor To Freeze

PASADENA (AP) — Surveyor 1 begins two weeks of minus 250-degree cold and darkness today after the sun sets in the moon's Sea of Storms. The moon robot, which has taken 9,000 pictures since landing on the moon June 1, will be without power for the period of darkness since its batteries are recharged by sunlight.

Cool Sea Air Helps Fighters At Huge Blaze

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—An influx of moist, cool ocean air today aided firefighters battling an out-of-control, 38,000-acre brush and timber fire in the rugged San Rafael Primitive Area of Los Padres National Forest.

"But it will be days until we can contain it," said a Forest Service official. "It's in some of the most inaccessible country in California and the fire's burning along a 40-mile perimeter."

A crew of 160 men was airlifted into the northeast end of the blaze after flames leaped Sierra Ridge, despite massing of 25 tankers and eight bulldozers.

On the south end, firemen set a backfire to prevent the blaze from moving into inhabited areas.

Two thousand firemen were on the lines, among them 50 Indians from Arizona and New Mexico.

Desert air sent humidity plunging and temperatures soaring into the high 90s on the fire lines yesterday. The weather forecast called for a wind shift from the west today, bringing ocean air.

The fire broke out Saturday after a plane crashed killing two Vandenberg Air Force Base airmen and injuring two others.

Rusk Discusses NATO Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee has ended its investigation of "the crisis in NATO" after hearing Secretary of State Dean Rusk testify there is no need for pessimism.

Rusk said yesterday there was "irrefutable evidence" at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's recent ministerial meeting that the remaining 14 members consider it as essential as ever.

Athough the meeting accomplished its objectives "to the fullest extent that might be hoped," he told the subcommittee, some questions still remain to be negotiated. They include, he said, the continued stationing of French troops in Germany.

Nurses Told Low Pay Endangers Profession

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— An international authority on nursing says that the profession "will not survive" unless nurses' pay is improved.

Sheila M. Quinn, director of the Social and Economic Welfare Division of the International Council of Nurses in London, said yesterday that nurses are "poorly paid" in comparison with industrial workers.

She spoke at the opening of the American Nurses' Assn. convention in San Francisco. More than 8,000 members are attending the convention which continues through Friday.

Mrs. Quinn cited a study by the International Labour Office which showed that in half the countries examined "the staff nurse has a lower hourly rate than the lowest industrial worker, and in two-thirds of those countries the head nurses are on a lower rate than the lowest grade of skilled workers."

She said that some people argue that nursing is a vocation, "but no community has the right to make use of and exploit any person's sense of vocation."

Dr. Abraham Kaplan, professor of philosophy at the University of Michigan and author of "American Ethics and Public Policy," delivered a talk as the convention's keynote speaker.

Dr. Kaplan said that nurses "need all the help they can get, from everywhere. In many ways the pressures of the job, pressures from other medical personnel, from the patient, from his family, from society, keep you away from the thing that makes you unique, the wonderful feelings that made you enter the profession in the first place, those feelings that are of the highest order."

He said that the compensation nurses receive "must be commensurate with the service you are providing society."

Jo Eleanor Elliott, president of the ANA, noted that the New York State Nurses Assn. recently conducted successful contract negotiations for its members who are employed by the New York City Department of Hospitals.

She said that the New York nurses were able to raise their employment standards significantly through a determined stand.

She said that the ANA has followed closely the efforts of nurses at Kaiser Hospital in Richmond to negotiate a new contract.

$7 Million Budget On School Agenda

The San Rafael Board of Education is scheduled to adopt tentative 1967 budgets for elementary and high school districts totaling more than $7 million tonight.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the district office at the former E Street School, with the budgets as item 12 on the agenda.

Tentative budgets reviewed at the last board meeting were $3,772,325 in the high school district and $3,417,540 in the elementary district.

The board also is scheduled to accept the resignation of Supt. Bert C. Corona, who has resigned effective July 29 to accept a similar position in his home town of Modesto.

Corona is scheduled to leave July 1 to go to Modesto and be granted accumulated vacation time by San Rafael city schools during July.

Frank Alvin Stocking, principal of Terra Linda High School, to succeed George A. Yertson, who resigned to become principal at Santa Venetia Junior High School next fall.

Alan Ellsberg, principal at Emery High School, Emeryville, will be assigned as principal of San Rafael High School to succeed Alfred N. Thomson, who resigned and was reassigned as a teacher at Santa Venetia Junior High.

The board is scheduled to adopt a new policy for handling complaints about books and other instructional materials, which has been under discussion for several months and has been revised.

ALTERNATIVE DUEL

Staff members will present an alternative to expansion of the Coleman School site to accommodate the influx of pupils. The plan to buy four acres of adjacent Dominican College land has been opposed by the Dominican Sisters and the Marin Music Chest, which holds its summer concerts at the site.

The staff also will present a recommendation on school participation in the San Rafael city recreation program. The schools contribute to the recreation program. The city asked for $1,636 in additional funds for the past year. The board refused to pay it and decided to study the recreation allotment policy.

NEW TEACHERS

Teachers slated for appointment are Mrs. Christine Limm, girls' physical education, high school district, at $7,625 a year; Gary Parfit, mathematics and science, elementary district, at $8,030 a year.

Resignations are to be received from Thomas Place, mathematics teacher at San Rafael High School; James Sherman, social studies, San Rafael High; Robert Tobias, crafts, Terra Linda High; Lorna White, first grade, Laurel Dell Primary School, and Marie Woelfl, instructional materials clerk, San Rafael High.

Councilmen Ask Lower Tax Rates

The city council noted that mounting property taxes are a burden on property owners with low or fixed income, and are causing families to move from Marin. It unanimously passed a resolution asking all agencies that have taxing jurisdiction in Fairfax to try to lower their rates.

'VERY UPSET'

These agencies should make this effort particularly since reassessments have increased assessed valuations "substantially" and will bring additional revenue, the council noted.

Mayor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. aid he was "very upset" to read yesterday that the Marin County tax rate has been estimated at $2.456 per $100 assessed valuation, 27.1 cents more than this year's rate.

"Before they (the county) decide any more programs, they should find the money first," he said.

TO DISTRICTS

The council's resolution will be sent to the county, the Fairfax School District, mosquito, flood control and other districts which tax Fairfax property owners.

The council noted that only 18 cents of a tax dollar goes to pay for city government, and that it will make an effort to lower the city tax rate.

The council also unanimously passed a resolution urging the state legislature to enact legislation to relieve the tax load on real property.

Councilmen received a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wallace of 68 Park Road saying they are being forced to move because of increasing property taxes.

Sausalito May Shift Incinerator Hours

An amendment to the Sausalite burning ordinance, to change the hours of 8 a.m.-1 p.m. to 7 a.m.-noon, will be considered by the city council at an 8 p.m. meeting today.

The council will hold a hearing on a request by Sausalito Community TV for a permit to alter and repair a tower at Currey Lane, and will consider awarding a contract for widening Glen Drive.

Fireman Appointed

Stephen M. Osborn of 4 Glen Drive, Sausalito, has been appointed fire fighter recruit in the Sausalito fire department. He succeeds Robert Nelson who resigned to go to law school. Osborn has been a journeyman carpenter and has resided in Sausalito for three years.

Sonoman Faces Theft Charge

A Sonoma County man was arrested Sunday in San Rafael and booked on suspicion of car theft, drunken driving and hit-run driving.

Willie Andrew Cole, 43, of Rohnert Park, was arrested at the top of Lincoln Avenue by Police Sgt. Thomas L. Stephenson an hour after two parked cars were damaged outside 908 Fourth Avenue at 1:50 a.m.

Parts torn from the car driven by Cole were found at the Fourth avenue address. The car had been reported stolen from A. Brandon of Rohnert Park.

Manor Homeowners Seek Again For One-Way Street

The Fairfax City Council is slated for at least one more go-around on whether Scenic Road should be one-way between Bay Road and Tamalpais Road.

Councilmen voted 3-2 on April 12 to restore the section to two-way traffic, after the one-way system had been given a 90-day trial.

Last night the council received a 10-page report from the Manor Hill Homeowners Assn. requesting that one-way traffic be restored.

Councilmen decided to study the report and take up the issue at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution granting pay raises from 2.5 per cent to 12.5 per cent to fulltime city employees.

The raises were approved last Thursday. The only change made was to grant the public works foreman a 5 per cent pay boost instead of the originally approved 2.5 per cent.

City Engineer Richard Nelson recommended the 5 per cent boost for the foreman on the grounds that the foreman is a "key person" and is engaged in supervisory work.

The council also approved salary step increases for 26 employees totaling $12,600.

Councilmen appointed former Mayor Frank L. Lawrence Sr., the lone applicant, to the board of review, and accepted the resignation of Albert Re from the park and recreation commission.

Councilmen also agreed to study the possibility of underground or partial underground utility lines in connection with widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Marinda Drive and Oak Manor Drive. City Administrator David J. Sumbardo estimated undergrounding would cost $63,000. Councilmen postponed action until their adjourned meeting next Tuesday.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

1. Gave first reading to an ordinance amendment that would prohibit building on a site unless it is contiguous to a city street for at least 35 feet.
2. Passed an ordinance amending the electrical code changing the computing of fees.
3. Called for an interim ordinance to forbid construction of residential buildings in commercial and industrial zones, pending completion of the city's general plan, except by use permit.
4. Received a report from Councilman George Pagni that plans for bicycle races conducted by the Amateur Bicycle League of America in Fairfax Sept. 25 may be expanded to include an art show and band concert.
5. Accepted as complete the street resurfacing projects at Rothin and Marin roads by W. K. McLellan Co. of San Anselmo at a cost of $4,209.

Temporary Post Lasts 26 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — In July 1940, when Fiorello LaGuardia was mayor of New York, Patrolman Joseph T. Prevratil was assigned temporarily as a guard at Gracie Mansion, then being restored as a permanent home for mayors.

Italian Communist Lose Ground In Local Elections

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's Catholic-Socialist coalition emerged from scattered local elections with a prestige boost today after smashing Communist hopes of becoming the strongest party in the city of Rome. It was the last extensive election before the parliamentary elections in 1968.

The Communists lost ground in the nation's capital for the first time since the war in a major election. Backers of the center-left coalition claimed the growth of the Communist party — second largest in Italy — had been arrested.

Although the coalition partners — Christian Democrats, Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans — gained support in Rome and elsewhere, the Communists showed they were still formidable vote-getters. Their votes continued to rise in areas where they have become the single biggest party but where they sometimes lack controlling majorities because of the center-left alliance.

The Reds lost badly in Rome, where they were within 18,000 votes of the dominant Christian Democrats two years ago. They trailed the Christian Democrats by more than 78,000 votes — 437,945 to 359,571 — and the center-left won assured control of the 80-man Municipal Council with 41 seats.

Previously the four parties had 40 seats and governed with the support of a defector from the Fascist party.

Christopher Aide Set To Help Reagan Drive

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Financial managers in the primary campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nominee Ronald Reagan and his defeated opponent George Christopher plan to join forces for the November campaign.

Henry Salvatori, a Reagan supporter, and Thomas Pike, a leader in Christopher's campaign, said yesterday a fund-raising banquet will be held in the Sports Arena June 23 at which they hope to raise $500,000 for the campaign.

U. S. Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy are honorary co - chairmen and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be the speaker.

Pike said Kuchel would be absent due to a prior commitment, but added the Senator has indicated "he will support the whole Republican ticket."

Pike said he considered Reagan's political views similar to the "moderate conservative philosophy" of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Pike read a letter from Christopher restating the former San Francisco mayor's pledge to support all Republican candidates in the general election.

"We are delighted that unification of our party has come," Pike said, "and we are going down the victory road together."

Collision Hurts Elderly Novatans

An elderly Novato husband and wife were injured in a two car collision on Highway 101 at the Silveira Ranch, five miles north of Novato, at noon Sunday.

Benjamin F. Collier, 83, and his wife Gertrude, 76, of 2004 Novato Boulevard were treated for hand, arm and shoulder bruises at Novato General Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol reported Collier was crossing west into the ranch when his car was hit by a southbound acr driven by Arnada D. Pacheco, 23, of San Francisco.

Heat Wave Kills 353

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — At least 353 persons have died in a 10-day heat wave in the eastern Indian states of West Bengal and Bihar, and officials fear the toll may be much higher in rural areas where many deaths aren't reported. The temperature hits 120 degrees daily in many areas.

military jeep met a similar fate.

Shooting broke out when the rioters grabbed a man they claimed was a government security agent and began kicking and pummeling him. The man backed away, whipped out a pistol as the crowd surged toward him, and fired six times.

A 19-year-old girl screamed and fell. A boy tumbled to the pavement and a man clutched his chest and fell.

The girl was identified by monks as Nguyen Thi Lan. They said she was shot through the liver and in critical condition. The boy was only nicked on the leg and the man suffered slight chest injuries.

The gunman disappeared into a crowd of riot police. There was no official confirmation he was a government agent.

In the northern city of Hue, which has been under virtual Buddhist control for three weeks, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky relieved the pro-Buddhist commander of the Vietnamese 1st Division of responsibility for re-establishing government authority and gave it to Lt. Col. Phan Van Khoa, the tough province chief.

Government forces immediately began pushing a slow, but thorough campaign to arrest the leaders of the Bufdhist struggle movement. Nguyen Cuu Giao, leader of the student element, has reportedly fled but struggle forces Chairman Buui Ton still is in the Dieu De Pagoda.

all been alerted and know what to expect," he said.

The Marin County Fire Department said no danger presently existed.

To help prevent further shortages the district was transferring water throughout the system today. At 1:30 a.m. a new service line was opened in Southern Marin which added five million gallons to the system, Seeger said.

"The hot weather is bad timing," Seeger said. "Next week, the district is completing four storage tanks that will hold two million gallons."

The shortage caused some upset for residents. Mrs. Jack E. Haehl of 499 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, sent a telegram to district director George W. Thierbach protesting the district's "failure to provide continous water service." Seeger said that the district office received many phone calls.

Speed Limit Cut On Tiburon Road

The speed limit along Tiburon Boulevard will be cut from 45 miles to 35 miles per hour this week, the State Division of Highways announced today, with the new zone extending from the Highway 101 off-ramp for about 1.1 miles to 200 feet east of Cecelia Way.

An 8-year-old Strawberry boy, Robert Scholz, was killed on Tiburon Boulevard March 22 when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Lynnea C. Topham of Tiburon. She has been charged with misdemeanor manslaughter.

New signs will be posted on the road this week, the Division of Highways said.

Jury Begins Hearing Sentence Trial For Labor Day Murderers

The legal fight for the lives of Mark C. Osuna and Jack R. Gorman began today in Marin Superior Court.

The two men were convicted yesterday of first degree murder in the Mission Inn slaying of bartender Mario Ferrari last Labor Day.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales has said he will ask death sentences for both in this penalty phase of the trial before the same jurors.

The 22-year-old San Francisco woman whom Osuna married 11 days after the murder today described their courtship and wedding.

Susan Osuna, placed on the stand by defense attorney Thomas P. Boyd, said she met Osuna at Half Way House in San Francisco, where she was a part-time volunteer social worker.

She said she knew he had served a term for armed robbery when they became engaged last May, two months after he went from San Quentin Prison to the hostel for released prisoners.

Mrs. Osuna was vague as to details of how he supported himself on occasional jobs between his release from his prison and his rearrest four days after their marriage.

Jack Gorman was an usher at their wedding, she said. Among the guests, Mrs. Osuna said, were Harold Frank Percell, Ralph McKay and Betty Wright, later to be key witnesses against Osuna and Gorman.

Another defense witness, Jan Marinissen, described both men as cooperative and friendly durinug their stay at Half Way House.

Marinissen, a minister of the United Church of Christ and supervisor of Half Way House, said he had interviewed both men at San Quentin before their release last year and arranged for their moving into the hostel.

The defense plans to call several other character witnesses to establish the convicted killers' claim to leniency.

Bales said he will call about 12 witnesses to support his request for the death penalty.

Supervisor Will Apply For Federal Park Fund

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The Marin county board of supervisors today approved application for $496,240 in federal land and open space grants for park purchase and development, confirming in most cases policy adopted several months ago.

The board also learned of the possible donation of the Nicasio Town Square to the county and took the first step toward curbing Bolinas Beach erosion.

The federal application would, if approved, cover half the cost of purchase and development of Stafford Lake Park, purchase and development of a small park at the south end of Nicasio Reservoir, and recreational development of Marin Municipal Water District lands in the Deer Park-Phoenix Lake area.

In addition, Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske recommended applications for funds to purchase and develop Paganini Point on the north side of San Rafael Bay.

He added this to the board's earlier authorizations because of the importance of early acquisitions, he reported.

Matching funds for the projects would come from Marin's $453,000 share of state park bond money, and from a land acquisition fund of $50,000 in the county park and recreation department's current reserve.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss reported that negotiations are in progress for the gift of the small square in Nicasio by owner Nick Kobseff. Gnoss said he was sure negotiations could be completed successfully.

Supervisors authorized a request to the Army Corps of Enginners for a study of erosion control needs from Duxbury Reef to Bolinas. The study will be done at no cost to the county, Joske said.

He reported that the Bolinas cliffs are sloughing off at the rate of a foot a year in some areas. Salvage and widening of the beach could provide additional swimming and surfing area and perhaps solve the problem of weekend crowding in Bolinas, he said.

The recreation commission last week sidestepped an issue raised in a letter from Gottheiner by saying that his seat was vacant due to absences from meetings. Gottheiner had written that he wisher to resign if the commission was unwilling to consider providing organized recreation programs. He criticized commission emphasis on land acquisition.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who nominated Gottheiner, said today it was not necessary to discuss Gottheiner's absences since he had resigned. There was no debate today on the issues Gottheiner raised.

On another park matter, Kettenhofen noted a recent news article saying George W. Wheelwright, owner of the Green Gulch Ranch in southern Marin, expressed the wish to donate his property to the state, retaining life use.

Kettenhofen wanted a motion authorizing Supervisor Peter H. Behr to ask that the land be donated to the county. Behr objected to any formal motion. It was agreed, instead, that Behr could speak for the board in any conversation with Wheelwright.

ARRESTS

green or gray 1964 Ford, license number MHG-312. He has relatives in Marin County.

Yesterday's capture began as a routine trespassing complaint to deputies by rancher George Giannecchini of Tennessee Valley Road, west of Mill Valley.

Two men had stopped their car near his property and were searching the ground close by. There was something about them he didn't like.

Giannecchini said today: "We have people on our property from time to time walking down to the sea. But these two were different. I had a hunch there was something wrong."

Giannecchini asked them what they wanted. Tatton, thick set, wearing blue shirt and denim pants, told him, "My wife and I were here on a picnic a few weeks ago and she lost a valuable diamond ring."

The rancher said they could search the area; but he was still not satisfied. He remembered that several officers had been to a neighbor's ranch last Saturday to start digging for what they said was evidence in a murder.

He called the sheriff's department. Deputies Foster Hines and Ernest Nielsen arrived on the scene.

The two men repeated their story. The officers said they were going to run a check on their car.

According to Hines: "The men grew red and nervous. They quickly recovered and asked if they could continue the search for the missing ring."

While the car was being checked, the deputies drove out of sight and waited. Almost immediately, according to the deputies, the men set off running toward the spot where officers had been digging.

A radio message was received by officers that the car was wanted in connection with a robbery in El Cerrito. The deputies, reinforced now by more officers, closed in on the suspects.

They were arrested at gunpoint, handcuffed and searched. Tatton had $120 in notes and Rice, slim-built and wearing a tan polo shirt and black slacks, had $137.

Officers said they also recovered several pawn tickets for guns.

FIRE

the Robertson home with a hose, but retreated because of exploding shells. He estimated that 10,000 or more rounds exploded. He found shell casings today embedded in studs.

"To think that I was in there—boy!" he said today.

Walser entered a second and third time before the flames could be controlled. He salvaged about 10,000 rounds of ammunition and 80 pounds of gunpowder.

"We are sure the fire started in the garage, but we do not yet know the cause," Walser said. A new coat of tar was put on the roof yesterday.

Robertson, an executive with the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union, has long been a gun collector. About 45 rifles, many valuable collector's items, were destroyed, Walser said.

He estimated structural loss to the Robertson home at $30,000, loss of contents at $15,000, and damage to the car at $300. Structural loss for the Buckleys was $3,000 and loss of contents $500.

Fireman Thomas Kelstrom was cut over his right eye by a hose coupling that swung while pulling hose from a truck. Fireman Steve Meadows suffered a mild burn on his right eye.

Kelstrom was taken to Marin General Hospital where the cut was stitched. He then returned to help fellow firemen put out the embers.

OBITUARIES

Rites Set For Sharon Cohen, 15

Funeral for Sharon Ruth Cohen, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin W. Cohen of 8 Venus Court, Tiburon, will be tomorrow at 11:30 a.m., at Sinai Memorial Chapel, San Francisco.

She died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital following a long illness and a six-week hospitalization. She was a native of Marin, and was a sophomore at Redwood High School. She had been active in Girl Scouts.

Her family moved to Marin in 1949. Her father works at the Army Corps of Engineers testing laboratory in Sausalito.

She is survived by her parents; two sisters, Mara Lynn, 13, and Heidi Rebecca, 6, and by her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Cohen of San Francisco.

The chapel is at Divisadero and Geary streets in San Francisco.

WALTER WHITT

Funeral for Walter Whitt of 238 Olema Drive, Fairfax, will be held at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow, on what would have been his 84th birthday, at the B. C. Wallace Funeral Home, Stockton.

He died Sunday in a Modesto rest home after a year's illness.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Whitt taught elementary school in Missouri for several years before moving to Stockton in 1926. He took a job as a mail carrier and continued to work for the Post Office Department until he retired about 16 years ago.

After five years in Oakland, he moved to Fairfav two years ago and lived there until he became ill.

Surviving are a son, Sterling Whitt of Fairfax; four daughters, Mrs. Blanche Barnett of Forest Knolls, Mrs. Shirley Brown of Oakland, Mrs. Marie Covington of Sonora, Tuolomne County, and Mrs. Verna Weikert of Portland, Ore.; five grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Park View Cemetery, Stockton.

JOSEPH HANNA

Joseph T. Hanna of Menlo Park, brother of Mrs. Hazel Trevland of San Rafael, was killed Saturday in an auto accident in Bismarck, N.D.

A native of San Francisco, Hanna grew up in Corte Madera and graduated from Tamalpais High School. For the past 23 years he lived in Menlo Park.

Until his retirement in April, he was treasurer and controller of the Alemite Co. of Northern California. He was a member of the Sierra Club and a former Menlo Park fire commissioner.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth B. Hanna of Menlo Park; a daughter, Mrs. Toby Williams of Pensacola, Fla.; his sister, Mrs. Trevland, and a granddaughter.

There will be no funeral at request of the deceased. Memorial contributions to the Stanford Children's Convalescent Hospital, Palo Alto, are preferred by the family.

HEAT

Street, Novato. Police took her to Novato General Hospital at 4:05 p.m. after she was overcome by the heat at her home. She was returned home after hospital treatment.

The water shortage affected about 100 customers in parts of San Rafael, Larkspur, Corte Madera, Mill Valley, and Tiburon, according to Seeger. He said 50 million gallons of water were used by the district's customers yesterday.

In San Francisco, where the temperature hit 91—a scorcher for the "cool gray city"—the heat expanded cable car slots on California Street, shutting down service for about an hour.

Bolinas and Point Reyes Station, the coolest spots reporting in Marin, had high temperature readings of 80 degrees yesterday. Highs elsewhere in the county ranged from those figures up to 99 in Tamalpais Valley and the 103 in San Rafael and Novato and 104 in San Anselmo.

Beaches were thronged with residents trying to escape the heat. Much of the record water use went into home swimming pools for the same purpose.

The heat wave was general in Central and Southern California. Redwood City reported 103 degrees; Woodside, 102; Lafayette-Orinda-Concord, 100; Oakland, 96. Sacramento, Fresno, Fairfield and Red Bluff all recorded 104-degree highs.

Smog added to the discomfort. The oxidant reading was only .08 in San Rafael, but was noticeable. Elsewhere in the Bay Area it ranged as high as .32 in San Leandro.

The Weather Bureau forecast readings above 110 degrees this afternoon in Southern California desert areas, but said the wind was expected to keep the heat peak below 100 in the Bay Area. The 11 a.m. reading in San Francisco was down 11 degrees from yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Glessner of Tamalpais Valley reported her own "heat insulation" scheme worked fairly well in yesterday's 99-degree temperature. She insulates her house by covering windows with newspapers, tack-up four folds thick.

"I use the I-J exclusively," said Mrs. Glessner. "It's longer and wider than other papers."

RUBEN STIRTON

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Ruben Arthur Stirton, 64, director of the University of California's Museum of Paleontology in Berkeley since 1949, died today of a heart attack. He also was chairman of the university's department of paleontology 1049-56.

Dr. Stirton, a leading scholar in prehistoric mammals, was stricken at a professional meeting.

Studies in which he participated at Columbia University in 1944 with a Guggenheim fellowship led to discovery of the jaw of a dog-like animal called the condylarth. Stirton participated in fossil expeditions to South America from 1945 through 1949 compiling evidence of a sea barrier between the North and South American continents in the tertiary period.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral Wednesday, June 5, 1966 at 9 a.m. from the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, thence to St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo, where a Mass of Requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul commencing at 9:30 a.m. Recitation of the Rosary at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Mortuary. Interment Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. (Parking Court on E Street) (6/13-14)

CARD OF THANKS

Once again I take this same means of thanking each and everyone who shared in large and small, though very important parts in my progress and recuperation from this very recent illness, which an enforced rest of four months at Ross General Hospital Terrace subjected me.

Words are inadequate to describe my innermost feelings of gratitude and appreciation towards the above-mentioned, and to those whose beautiful "Get Well" messages, gifts of spiritual bouquets, Masses, enrollments, and the many prayers offered that were certainly instrumental in putting me on the road to recuperation. Without them all I might not have survived.

To my dear friend Dr. Alex Miller and his lovely wife and family; also Dr. Robert Clark, Dr. Gauder, Dr. John Bettinger, and last but not least Dr. Sidney Schipman, a heartfelt thank you. Also to the clergy of St. Anselmo's Parish, St. Sebastian's St. Raphael's Parish, Sisters of Social Service, the following Lodges, S.P.R.S.I. Co., #19, Aurora Co., #31, Catholic Ladies Branch #24, and the trustees of the Portuguese - American Hall Association of San Rafael. Also to my sewing club group for all their gifts of beautiful potted plants, arrangements, cut flowers and lovely lingerie.

To all my family for their help and encouragement and the many wonderful friends individually and collectively for the many gifts of lingerie, flowers, and toilet articles; writing materials and, most of all, their prayers without which no one can survive.

To the Marin General Hospital and staff: the Ross General Hospitality Hospital, truly well named. And, again, last but not least to my friendly neighbors for their kindness and courtesies extended to my husband John while I was away convalescing.

Also to each and everyone who was so thoughtful in sending cards at Thanksgiving and Christmas, but who forgot to write names or addresses, a kind thank you, God Bless and keep each and everyone.

Affectionately and gratefully,
Most Sincerely,
FRANCELINE A. DeROSA
(Mrs. John H.)

Mrs. DeRosa passed on June 6, 1966, and we feel that this is the best expression of her and our gratitude for your heartfelt demonstrations of sympathy.

THANK YOU,
HER FAMILY

TRUDGING IN THE RAIN—A handkerchief was some shelter from yesterday's showers for one participant in the freedom march through Mississippi. (UPI Telephoto)

Freedom March Warned Of Hostile Watching Eyes

GRENADA, Miss. (AP) — Men and women of the Mississippi march, warned that hostile eyes are alert for scandalous behavior, spent another night on a grassy campsite. Nine miles of walking and another voter registration demonstration are on today's schedule.

They bedded down in two huge revivalist-style tents, in sleeping bags or on blankets spread on grass after Floyd B. McKissick, a march leader, admonished them.

"Remember Selma? A man got up in Congress after that and said civil rights people are immoral, that they were doing very personal things in the presence of each other," McKissick said.

The Mississippi march, started in Memphis, Tenn., by James H. Meredith June 5, had covered 81 of the 225 miles to Jackson, the state capital. Meredith was shot June 6 near Hernando and is recuperating in New York. He had planned the march as a demonstration that Negroes should not fear to register as voters.

Aubrey James Norvell, 40, the white man from Memphis accused of shooting him, was scheduled for a hearing today in Ripley on his petition to have his $25,000 bond reduced. Norvell has been jailed in Hernando since the shooting.

The ragged column, moving along the freshly mowed shoulder of U.S. 51 added nearly 14 miles to the total yesterday. It stopped nine miles out of Grenada. The number of marchers fluctuates daily as some join, others leave. There have been as many as 600 and as few as 125.

The KKK signature of the Ku Klux Klan, the fiercely segregationist secret organization, was written with spray paint on U. S. 51, on trash barrels and on road signs.

There were no incidents. Spectators were few. Handfuls of Negro residents clustered at several points — but not many responded to the chant of: "Raise your hands for freedom."

Costly Yacht Stolen At Sausalito Harbor

Dan Eugenio Hodel of Ross reported to Sausalito police yesterday the theft of his 33-foot sailboat, valued at $15,000, from the Sausalito Yacht Harbor.

Hodel, who lives on Winding Way, said his boat was taken between June 5 and Sunday. The boat is of the Voyager class and is painted white.

Klan Wins Probe Records Subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal court has subpoenaed the chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to appear at the contempt of Congress trial of the Ku Klux Klan Leader Robert M. Shelton.

At Shelton's request, Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., the committee chairman, was subpoenaed along with the committee's staff director, Francis J. McNamara.

They were told to bring along all committee records on the Klan. The House group held hearings last fall into the Klan's activities. Shelton was called as a witness but refused to testify.

The subpoenas ordered Willis and McNamara to appear as witnesses for Shelton when he goes on trial in U.S. District Court here Sept. 12.

Willis said the subpoena was served at his home last Sunday night shortly before midnight.

"It's kind of unusual — I would say nervy rather than unusual," Willis said in an interview. He added: "You can't ignore a court order if it's valid. But I don't think I can do him much good."

The subpoenas requested by attorney Lester V. Chalmers Jr. in behalf of his client, Shelton, call for Willis and McNamara to present "all books, records, documents, correspondence, transcripts and memoranda relating to the organization and conduct and affairs of the Klan."

'FANTASTIC'

McNamara described Shelton's petition as "a kind of fantastic move."

"It's difficult for me to take this seriously and believe that Shelton really believes the court will uphold him," he told a newsman. As the subpoena now stands, McNamara said, he and Willis are required to bring to the court all documents pertaining to the Klan "even before we thought of investigating the Klan."

PREDICTION

Thes taff director said he expects the Justice Department's Internal Security Division, which is handling prosecution of the case, to move to quash the subpoenas before the trial opens.

Trial of Shelton, 37, identified by the committee as imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, originally was scheduled to begin here Monday. But Chief Federal Judge Matthew F. McGuire continued it until September after a brief hearing.

Johnson Signs Coulee Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill designed to make Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia River the largest hydroelectric power project in the world.

The $390-million authorization measure provides for a third power plant that eventually will add 3.6 million kilowatts to the two-million kilowatt capacity of the present installations.

At the same time, Johnson sent Congress a request for $3 million to start construction at once.

West Marin Schools Near Budget Figure

West Marin School District Board last night accepted a $258,222 proposed budget for the 1967 fiscal year, including $14,500 for remodelling Inverness School.

Board president Gordon J. Plattes said he was eager that the district build up its general reserve fund to prevent borrowing from the county each year to tide the district over until taxes are collected.

The proposed budget allows $20,000 for general reserve funds, and $9,080 in undistributed reserves.

The board voted to apply for the customary loan from the county this year. The amount requested is $60,000.

Board member G. M. Johnston submitted his resignation. A real estate salesman, he is moving back to North Carolina. He has been on the West Marin district board for a year.

The board announced it will accept nominations to fill Johnston's place at the superintendent's office until July 11.

It was voted to advertise for bids this week for the addition to West Marin School, estimated at $246,000, with the contract to be awarded early in July.

The board also discussed remodelling of Inverness School, for which $12,000 in matching federal funds has been applied, with $2,500 set aside in the new budget. No approval has been applied, with $2,500 set aside in the new budget No approval has yet been received from federal authorities.

The West Marin School District Board also:

1. Authorized a new teacher's contract for Jack Mohror, who will be a team teacher for third and fourth grades at West Marin school.
2. Instructed Supt. Howard F. Brose to purchase a fire-proof file the next time a file is necessary.
3. Awarded an auditor's contract to Begley and Deaton of Petaluma.
4. Awarded a contract to Decarli Co. of Petaluma to supply butane gas to the district. Decarli was low bidder at 14.75 cents a gallon.
5. Inspected samples of furniture suitable for the new school addition collected by Superintendent Brose.
6. Changed the date of the August board meeting to Aug. 1.

Fairfax Against Freeway In Town

The Fairfax City Council doesn't want the proposed east-west Route 17 highway going through any part of the city.

Councilmen passed a resolution last night opposing routing of the highway extension through Fairfax and sent it to the State Division of Highways.

According to the resolution, they mean not just the downtown area of Fairfax, where Route 17 now runs, but "any part or sector" of the city.

San Rafael Plans Same Tax Rate

San Rafael's tax rate remains at 94 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the city's proposed $4,019,929 budget for the 1967 fiscal year.

Budget sessions are scheduled tomorrow and next Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. in City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen's city hall office. It is expected the budget will be adopted at the city council's meeting July 5.

The budget—down over $1 million from last year's $5,235,722 figure—is divided into an operating budget of $2,707,821, with $1,322,108 remaining for capital improvements and reserve funds.

Estimated assessed valuation for the city of San Rafael is $96,045,878, an increase of about four per cent over last year's $91,472,265.

San Rafael's tax rate has been 94 cents for the last three fiscal years. In 1963 it was 96 cents.

A breakdown of this tax rate includes 61 cents for general fund; 12 cents for park fund; 11 cents for library fund, and 10 cents for employees' retirement fund.

City Manager Andersen is recommending an across-the-board five per cent salary increase for all city employees. In a letter to the mayor and city council, Andersen said: "It is reported the cost of living has increased 4.5 per cent. This increase was in staples—groceries, meats, clothing, etc."

The salary increase is not actually mentioned in the proposed budget, but funds to cover such a raise are present in the budget's unallocated reserve of $155,398 of the general fund.

Tomorrow and next Wednesday the mayor and city council will go over all aspects of the proposed budget. Andersen said the public may attend the meetings—"but they never do."

"If the salary question can be determined at the first meeting, half of the problem will be solved," he said.

Orrin Wendling, city finance director, said tomorrow's budget session will probably cover salaries, and the following departments: city council, general services, health, city manager, city clerk, city attorney, finance, city treasurer, engineering, planning, building and police.

Next week's session will cover civil defense, public works, parks and recreation, library, parking district, special districts and unallocated reserve.

The largest sum asked under the capital improvements total of $892,400, is $250,000 for widening South San Pedro Road. Money for this project — a joint powers agreement with the county—will come from state gasoline tax revenue to the city of $277,680.

A further $106,000 is budgeted for resurfacing various city streets, and $100,000 is requested for the Bret Harte storm drain system in the Irwin Street and Woodland Avenue area. Another major storm drain improvement costing $78,000 is budgeted for the Miracle Mile.

The largest parks project is $165,000 requested for the construction of the Albert Park recreation center.

There is nothing in the proposed budget for construction or supplies for the new city hall. According to Wendling, the $1,225,000 budgeted for the current fiscal year took care of all construction, equipment and landscaping costs. "As far as the taxpayer is concerned it's paid for," he said.

Hub Firemen, Police Seek 10 Pct. Raise

An attorney representing an organization of all San Anselmo police and firemen except the chiefs last night told the San Anselmo City Council that public safety officers should receive an across-the-board 10 per cent pay raise.

The police and fire chiefs recommended a 7.5 per cent salary increase for their employees during the council's opening budget session Thursday.

James B. Leech, attorney for the San Anselmo Police and Fire Assn., told councilmen his organization's request would give the men a maximum salary of $700 a month, according to City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt.

Councilmen finished reviewing all sections of the budget last night, but said they wanted more time to discuss it and the salary proposals. They set another hearing June 23 at 8 p.m.

Assembly Passes Transit Tube Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to get more money for the Oakland-San Francisco rapid transit tube has gone to the governor following final legislative action by the Assembly.

The measure approved yesterday raises the bond limit for the tube to $180 million from the current $133 million. Tolls from three bridges will be used to back up the bonds.

Delayed-Action Assembly Ethics Code 'Lost,' Sen. Gibson Says

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate appeared today to have quietly discarded a lawyer - inspired plan to hold off action this year on Assembly proposals to regulate legislators' outside activities.

As an informal two - house committee trying to resolve the touchy conflict of interest dispute met again, Assemblymen stood firm on their demand that any raise in pay for lawmakers must be coupled with rules regulating nonlegislative work of legislators.

One member of the 12 - man group, Assembly Republican Caucus Chairman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, said Monday that "There must be conflict of interest" rules in a stalled measure that has brought the lengthy 1966 session to a halt on major issues.

His comment came as lawmakers returned to the Capitol after an 11 - day recess called when the impasse developed before the primary election. Most talk yesterday was not over the problems still confronting the session, but of the election and its meaning.

Mulford talked to newsmen along with Sen. Luther E. Gibson, D-Vallejo, chairman of the group trying to solve the three-cornered issue of conflict of interest, pay raise and constitutional revision.

Current talk is of raising the pay of California's 120 lawmakers from $6,000 annually to about $16,000.

But a group of senators led by lawyers are distinctly unhappy with the tough conflict of interest rules in the bill, which cleared the Assembly overwhelmingly and now is stalled in Gibson's Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee.

It takes only a majority to pass the bill in the upper house, but requires a two-thirds Senate majority of 27 to pass the constitutional amendment that would trigger the pay raise-interest bill if voters approved the amendment.

Assemblymen maintain the pay hike can win backing from the people only if lawmakers also cut their lucrative fringe benefits and set up rules governing such things as appearances by legislator-lawyers before state agencies in their private capacities.

Gibson told newsmen when asked that the suggestion that conflict of interest legislation be put off this year had "become lost" somewhere and apparently no longer is under consideration.

Proposed by Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan, D - Santa Rosa, it would have allowed the constitutional revision but removed the conflict of interest section of the pay raise bill. Instead, lawmakers would have pledged officially to enact a code of ethics at some future date.

This was unacceptable to the lower house.

Fair Housing Proposal Protested In Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Realtors from Oregon and Rhode Island told Congress today that state fair housing laws there had proved unworkable and denounced President Johnson's proposal for a similar federal law.

E. G. Stassens, president of the Oregon Real Estate Assn. said Oregon's seven-year-old law banning discrimination in sale or rental of housing had led to harassment.

Dennis M. Lynch, president of Rhode Island's Realtors Assn., called the federal plan "nothing but a phony, high-sounding effort that unfairly offers pie in the sky to the people who need help, and then it isn't there."

Rep. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., testified against the entire civil rights bill of which the housing section is only one of five parts.

Other congressional news:

Calls: Deputy Atty. Gen. Ramsay Clark told a Senate subcommittee he did not think Congress should pass any new laws to deal with the problem of obscene, threatening and harassing telephone calls. Clark said the burden of such investigating should remain where it is—with local government and telephone companies, not with the Justice Department.

Pollution: Vernon G. MacKenzie, Assistant U.S. Surgeon General, testified at a Senate hearing that the problem of air pollution still is serious—more so, even than three years ago, when the so-called clean air act was passed by Congress.

Defense: Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Service Committee urged passage of a $17.8 billion military procurement bill containing some funds that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara did not want. In a speech prepared for House delivery, Rivers said it was time Congress told the Pentagon it wants a nuclear Navy and to get started with it. Some of the funds included by Rivers' committee are for two nuclear surface ships that McNamara had not sought.

Tunnel Mud May Be Put Outside Gate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Millions of cubic yards of mud from the excavation of the Oakland-San Francisco Bay Area transit tube may be deposited in the Pacific Ocean just off Seal Rocks.

In a proposal revealed today, Transbay Constructors of Burlingame, builders of the tube, requested a permit from the Army Corps of Engineers allowing them to dump four million tons of dredged material over a three-year period.

Engineers have said the limit of 6,000 tons per day to be deposited 3,000 feet offshore would be dispersed by the strong ocean currents.

The materials was originally to be used as fill for an area of the bay adjacent to the Oakland Army Terminal. However, the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which has opposed bay fill projects, requested rapid transit officials to find another site.

Over one million yards still are scheduled to be used for a new Oakland marine terminal officials said.

Artists Face Strike

MEXICO CITY (UPI) —Nude models at the government-run San Carlos art school said today they will stage a "clothes-on" strike unless their wage is increased from 72 cents to $1.60 an hour and they are given an allowance for medicine "because we are always catching colds."

LBJ Expounds Wishes For Young And Old

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson suggested today it might be a good idea to start children in school at age 4 and to somehow add 10 meaningful years to the lives of older citizens.

Johnson tossed these ideas out for further study in delivering a commencement address in the White House rose garden where he handed high school diplomas to 26 graduates of the Capitol page school. The page boys, who serve Congress members, get special schooling while in Washington.

Information Freedom Bill Nears Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker John W. McCormck announced today that the House will take up Monday a Senate-passed freedom-of-information bill aimed at opening most government records to public view.

The bill comes to the House in the identical form approved by the Senate. And it will be brought up under a suspension of rules procedure barring amendment. That means House passage will send hhe bill to the White House.

The administration has opposed the measure. However, its backers do not expect Johnson to try to kill it by veto.

With the exception of eight categories of sensative information—such as military secrets and investigative files—the bill would require each federal agency to "make its records promptly available to any person" upon request.

Persons refused what they believed to be nonsensitive information could file suit in federal district court. The court could order production of the withheld information.

The bill grew out of continuing controversy about alleged denial of access to government records either by the press and public or in some cases by Congress.

Its passage has been sought by press groups including Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalistic society; the American Society of Newspaper Editors; the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. and broadcasting organizations.

Foreign Language Classes Expanded In Mill Valley

Instruction in either French or Spanish will be given daily to all seventh and eighth grade students in Mill Valley, starting in September. Languages have taught three days per week.

This change, which will add $17,500 to the proposed fiscal 1967 budget, was approved by trustees last night in a revision of junior high school curriculum.

Trustees also agreed in principle to require all students to take a foreign language, and that seventh graders be required to take only nine weeks of general music instead of 18, thus permitting a nine-week elective in art or drama.

The board approved a tentative general purpose budget of $2,219,630. It agreed to include an addition of 4 and one-half cents override tax to finance employees' health benefits.

The total 1967 budget is $2,525,690 as compared with the rate for next year is $3.11 per $100 assessed valuation as compared to the current tax rate of $2.68. The board plans to adopt a publication budget at its July 5 meeting.

Supt. G. R. McConnell and Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson requested that the board reduce proposed expenditures prior to budget adoption because of increased tax delinquency, and a probable decrease in the rate at which students are entering the schools. No specific figures were used in this request.

Trustees agreed to sponsor a five-day workshop starting June 20 at which Dr. J. Cecil Parker, educational consultant, will assist the professional council in writing educational specifications for a building program.

There will be a meeting at Old Mill School at 8 p.m. on June 20 for parents interested in the fifth through eighth grade integrated program for Mill Valley pupils at Sausalito's Richardson Bay School .

Bank Trustees Face Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The management of the Central Valley National Bank of Oakland has filed a $21.5 million damage suit against a voting trustee group headed by Sam Wahyou, wealthy Chinese owner of Bay Area supermarkets.

The damage action was filed in federal district court in an answer and counter claim to an injunction suit filed by the trustee group in April.

The injunction asked that the management headed by Board Chairman William G. Rafton be restrained from soliciting proxies with assertedly false claims in a struggle for control of the bank.

Bay Area Fisherman Rescued In Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Menlo Park man, adrift in his small boat in the Pacific 90 miles west of Morro Bay, was picked up today by the Japanese vessel Masayan Maru.

The Coast Guard, advised of the pickup, sent its cutter, Cape Porpoise, to rendezvous with the ship and get the rescued fisherman, Mark Lewis, of Menlo Park. Lewis was reported in good condition.

Council Bows Out On Old Flood Issue

The Tiburon City Council last night handed the problem of winter flooding in the Tiburon Boulevard firehouse back to the Tiburon Fire District.

"The flooding is not the city's financial responsiblity, but we're anxious to cooperate in solving it," Councilman Gordon W. Strawbridge said.

At the April 25 council meeting, a delegation from the fire district board asked the council for city action to solve the flooding problem.

A report last night from the city engineers, McCreary-Koretsky, recommended either moving the building, razing it, or constructing a concrete dike with pump.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said the firehouse was flooding six years ago before subsequent construction, and the city did not create the problem by allowing later development around it.

The Tiburon City Council also:

1. Adopted an ordinance authorizing Rose to draw up regulations to govern the use of recently leased state parkland near Little Reed Heights on Richardson Bay.
2. Introduced an ordinance, similar to a county ordinance, setting up procedure of the abatement of public nuisances.
3. Agreed to meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. for 10 minutes to approve a subdivision map of Tiburon Knolls Unit 3 which was not ready in time last night.
4. Instructed Rose to request from the State Division of Highways right of way land opposite Lyford Drive at Tiburon Boulevard for a park, and to refer to the planning commission plans for its use.
5. Referred to planning commission study of stricter regulations on "for sale" signs on residential property. Thomas E. Drohan commented that nine homes in Little Reed Heights are for sale and said the signs made it look "like a disaster area."
6. Met in closed session to discuss appointments to the parks and recreation commission. Mayor John S. Hoffmire said the appointments would be announced later this week after those chosen have been notified.
7. Instructed City Att. Robert I. Conn to draw up an ordinance to change the city council meeting place from Del Mar School to the new City Hall at 80 Main Street.

Spilled Chemical Burns Two Men

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Two men received serious chemical burns last night when their truck overturned, spilling plastic bottles of chlorine bleach on Highway 99 south of here.

Keither Rainey, 17, and his father, Robert Rainey Jr., both of Watsonville, were taken to San Joaquin Hospital.

The Highway Patrol said the accident occured when the truck hit a smaller truck which was parked at the side of the road.

Meeting Date Shifts

The Sausalito Recreation Commission will meet at 8 p.m., June 29, in City Hall. It will not meet Thursday, as normally scheduled, since some commissioners are on business and vacation trips.

Seminarian Heads State Church Body

Dr. Gurdon Corning Oxtoby, dean of the seminary at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, has been elected moderator of the California Synod of the United Presbyterian Church, holding its annual meeting this week at Occidental College in Los Angeles.

Dr. Oxtoby, a member of the seminary faculty since 1929, was elected by acclamation and will preside over this meeting and serve until next June.

The synod is the church's governing body on the state level and is made up of the state's presbyteries. Moderator is the synod's highest elective post.

Police Chiefs Are Criticized

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A police chief who is a member of President Johnson's Crime Commission criticized his professional colleagues today, contending they have promised too many things that they can't deliver.

Joseph P. Kimble, Chief of the San Carlos (San Mateo County) Police Department, said law enforcement officials have claimed they can prevent crimes, cure criminals and rehabilitate juveniles.

"In most cases," he asserted, "The magic elixer they've hawked has turned out to be snake oil."

Californian Wins Auction Crown

ACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (UPI)—H. Skinner Hardy, 28, Bakersfield, last night was named the world champion livestock market auctioneer at a contest on this resort island.

Hardy, who was the reserve world champion last year ,auctioned off 29 head of cattle. It was the first auction on the island which is isolated from the mainland except by boat in the Straits of Ackinac.

Kentfield Trustees See Budget, Make No Cuts

Kentfield School District trustees last night reviewed Supt. Howard C. Harmon's $1,123,202 budget proposal for fiscal 1967, making no change in it.

Since first proposing it, Harmon himself had whittled the budget down by $12,969 from $1,136,171. The superintendent said he did this by eliminating some maintenance projects such as painting of schools.

Harmon said his office has estimated assessed valuation in the district will rise by 20 per cent this year. "This could drop the tax rate by two or three cents," he said. The district's total rate this year was $3.34 per $100 assessed valuation.

Kentfield school district trustees also:

1. Set a completion date of Sept. 17 for changing the multiuse room at Adaline E. Kent school to a gymnasium and remodeling the office, teacher room and kindergarten area there. Contractor on the $121,570 project is Page Construction Co.
2. Charged Filippo Construction Co. $250 because it ran five days beyond the agreed completion date in adding a shop and storage area at Kent School.
3. Called for bids for a three-year transportation services contract. The present contract with Patchetts Transportation Co. for $4,475 per year up to 7,500 miles expires this year.
4. Awarded a contract to Patchetts for field trips during summer school for $585 for 18 days.
5. Rehired all regular non-teaching personnel.
6. Hired Col. Jack Waller, Joseph Botwright and Dennis G. Dusek for custodial and maintenance services June 18 through Sept. 8 at $1,244.93 apiece.
7. Hired teachers for summer school.
8. Hired Gene Leroy Hendsch, who has been principal of an elementary school in Lompoc, Santa Barbara County, for seven years, as principal of Wolfe Grade School at $14,000 a year.
9. Accepted the resignations of three teachers: Jo Ann Alpegini, second grade at Greenbrae School; Christine Limm, girls physical education at Kent School, and Brenda Reeve, second grade at Greenbrae School.
10. Granted a one year leave of absence to Loretta Samet, a district wide resource teacher.
11. Hired Lana Walker to teach fourth grade at Greenbrae School for $6,270 and Anita E. Fonte to teach second grade at Greenbrae or Kent School for $7,125.
12. Accepted the resignations of two half-time custodians, Leonard Clark, Greenbrae School, and Joel Pistone, Wolfe Grade School.
13. Hired the firm of Leader and Jarvis as auditors for the year at a cost of no more than $600.
14. Hired Dr. Muriel Bennett at $25 an hour and nurse Helen Elrod at $6 an hour to screen educational handicapped children.

Rec Commission Meets Al Fresco

The city parks and recreation commission made a field trip to the proposed Blithedale Park in Blithedale Canyon and said they are in general agreement with Engineer Dean A. Rhodes, that the creek be cleared behind some of the dams so pools can form for children to wade in, that trails be developed and rock walls repaired.

The commission discussed proposed repairs of steps, lanes and trails and agreed to make definite proposals at its June 27 meeting.

Veteran Enters Insanity Plea

FRESNO (UPI) — Herbert Charles Kerr, a retired Army sergeant, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity yesterday in U.S. District Court to charges that he threatened the life of President Johnson.

Kerr made the plea following psychiatric examinations in which he was found mentally capable of participating in his defense.

Election Dilemma Faces Novato Sanitary District

The Novato Sanitary District board still does not know for sure whether the three incumbents were reelected in the primary election.

The whole matter hinges on how many votes were cast and this was not tabulated by the county clerk's office, said Charles Joseph, distirct engineer-manager. When the number of votes cast is known, only then can it be determined who had a majority or whether there will have to be a runoff.

The board discussed this at length last night, but reach no conclusion.

Three positions were up for election. The three incumbents, Thomas D. Hardcastle with 3,093 votes; Clayton D. Payne with 2,626, and George P. de Tuncq with 2,437 were high men. Eugene R. Trombley, with 2,164 votes, could possibly be in a runoff, depending on the total number of votes cast.

The board set 8 p.m. for Thursday study of the preliminary budget for fiscal 1967. The budget calls for operating expenses of $198,165, with income estimated at $153,930 from taxes and $31,450 from fees. The district has a carryover balance of $118,295, Joseph said.

The district this year levied a tax of 39 cents per $100 assessed valuation, with an additional 10 cents for bond retirement in the Novato portion of the district. If the assessed vauation is increased by the expected 10 per cent, the tax rate would drop four cents, Joseph said.

The board approved an agreement between the City of Novato and the sanitary district to operate a tiny tot playground on disrict land at Olive and Railroad Avenues.

Administration's Socials Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican congressman said today "the glaring spectacle of social high-jinks in the White House" is undermining public confidence in President Johnson.

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., in a statement printed in today's Congressional Record, said polls showing a decline in Johnson's popularity can be linked to White House partying.

"In one headline," he said, "Americans read that 18,000 more American troops are being sent to fight, and possibly die, in the deep jungles of Southeast Asia; in another that some 2,200 are to attend a formal White House wedding for one of the President's daughters."

Two-thirds of all Californians make their home in what is regarded as southern California, says National Geographic.

FUND-RAISER

Art With Fashions To Benefit Clinic

"Canvases and Couturier," a champagne evening to benefit the Alliance for Health Project, will be held June 24 from 6 to 8 p.m., at the Musee d'Art International at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

Models from the Marin Mannequin League will model fashions donated for the occasion by designer Jacqueline DeBray, who resides in Marin. Paintings from the Musee d'Art will be displayed to tie-in with the fashions.

The Alliance for Health, a California non-profit organization, was begun three years ago by Dr. Richard S. Hahn of Belvedere, Marin County thoracic surgeon. He and his family spent their summer vacation in Mexico skin testing children for tuberculosis and immunizing them against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus, entirely at their own expense.

This project has grown until this year 25 doctors, nurses and technicians will volunteer their time, transportation and living costs during the three month project. Heading groups this year in addition to Dr. Hahn will be Dr. Michael Franzblau, dermatologist and Dr. Catherine Pike, pediatrician. Some 15,000 children will be skin tested and immunized. The Alliance for Health team members and their Mexican colleagues will conduct a complete chest X-ray and treatment program for 5,000 suspected cases of active tuberculosis. It is a massive effort for the community of Zacapu, Mexico, which was chosen as a result of a plea to Dr. Hahn from Sister Theresa, a registered nurse who runs a local clinic there.

Ticket chairman for this fund-raising benefit are Mrs. David Storm, Mrs. James Wasley and Mrs. Paul Hughes.

PREPARING FOR a champagne evening called "Canvasses and Coutourier" with proceeds to benefit the Alliance for Health Project, are fashion designer Jacqueline DeBray of Terra Linda and Mrs. Norman Sanguinetti of Corte Madera, member of the Marin Mannequin League, who will take part. Distinctive paintings will also be on display. The benefit will be held June 24 from 6 p.m. at the Musee d'Art International at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Silver Wedding Fete Tonight

By MOLLY MARIN

Dr. and Mrs. Orville F. Grimes of San Rafael will be honored at a cocktail party celebrating their silver wedding anniversary tonight to be given by the Edward W. Johnsons at their home in Mill Valley. The Grimeses were married on June 14, 1941. They have four children, Orville Jr., 23; Nancy, 18, a Marin debutante this year; Douglas, 15; and Dianne, 13.

The family has lived in Mill Valley four and a half years and has resided in San Rafael since 1953. Some 26 guests invited will be people the Grimeses have known in Mill Valley. Friday afternoon Mrs. Johnson was hostess at a luncheon and card party at the Cherish Inn in Strawberry honoring her mother, Mrs. William H. Perkins of Grand Rapids, Mich. Mrs. Perkins has been visiting the Johnsons since January and will return home on June 23.

MRS. WILLIAM CARPENTER of Novato spent Thursday evening in Hollywood where she saw her daughter, Patty, starring at the theatre, P J.'s, where she has been an understudy to Ann Worley and is now in the cast of five in "The Mad Review."

Newlywed Dr. And Mrs. Rosser To Make Their Home In Tokyo

Dr. Henry Kuizenga officiated at the 2 p.m. Sunday wedding of Lynn Sadler Schrumpf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry August Schrumpf of San Anselmo, and Dr. Jack Gill Rosser of Alameda held at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

Lynn wore a full length gown of white crepe with mantilla of Alencon lace for the double ring ceremony. Her sister, Mrs. Robert Echard of Ogden, Utah, wore a full length yellow linen dress as matron of honor. Bridesmaid Julia Crafts of Boston, Mass., was similarly dressed.

Dr. Davis Ralston of San Francisco acted as best man, and ushering for the ceremony were the bridegroom's brother, E. B. Rosser of Reseda, the bride's brother, Barry Schrumpf of San Anselmo, Dr. Jerry Lombardi of San Francisco and Thomas Whelan of Alameda.

A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents in San Anselmo. The couple will honeymoon in Hawaii and then make their home in Tokyo where Dr. Rosser is serving with the U. S. Air Force at Fuchu Air Base.

The bride was graduated from Katharine Branson School and University of California. She also received a certificate in physical therapy from the university's school of medicine and was employed as physical therapist at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Harlamert of Alameda, was graduated from the University of California School of Dentistry last year. The couple will make their home in the Bay Area following the two-year tour of duty in Japan.

Charles McKnew Jr. Claims June Bride

St. Sylvester's Church in San Rafael was the setting on June 4 for the wedding of Kathleen Marie Weitzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Allen Weitzel of San Rafael and Charels Rodney McKnew Jr. of San Rafael.

Kathleen wore a full length gown of white peau de soie trimmed with re-embroidered seed pearls and crystal appliques for the noon ceremony at which the Rev. Richard Mulcahy officiated.

Her sister, Mrs. Theolyn Rosentreter, was matron of honor. She and bridesmaids Sandra Weitzel, Julie McKnew, Marcella Roddy, Helene Cirelli and Joanne Burnam wore floor length dresses of apricot crepe.

Raymond Giordano acted as best man, and ushering for the ceremony were Alfred McKnew, Richard Kientz, Frank Silvestri and Thomas O'Connell. Richard McKnew was ringbearer.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Meadow Club.

Kathleen was graduated from Dominican Convent and the bridegroom is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and attended University of San Francisco. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKnew and the brother of Julie, Alfred, Robert and Richard McKnew, all of San Rafael.

The couple will make their home in San Anselmo.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

College Town Fellows Like The Local Girls Until Semester End

DEAR HELEN:

These college guys can sure hurt a girl. I live in a college town, and twice now I've thought it was "real," only to be told at the end of the spring term that they were going back to their girls at home. I work at a drive-in and didn't quite finish high school. These fellas just use us local girls. Any solution, Helen?

—AVAILABLE SUBSTITUTE

DEAR A. S.:

Now that you know the score, why don't you drop out of the game? I'm sure you can find a local fellow for all seasons. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

We live in a neighborhood where there are always big fights and people getting hurt all the time. One of my friends almost got put in Juvy because he was trying to protect himself.

I wish this wouldn't happen so often, or else it would happen in another neighborhood. Our family can't move because we're too poor. How can I stop these fights? How can I help to stop people from getting hurt? How can I help earn money for my family? I am 12 years old and can't find a job anywhere.

—SLUM BUM

DEAR S. B.:

I wish I had a sure-fire answer to all your questions, but all I can say is, "Act the way you want others to act and perhaps they'll learn from a boy how men should behave."

You might apply for a paper route at your local newspaper office. And how about taking a few free courses at summer school? Street gangs fight because they haven't anything better to do. Keep busy, talk your friends into joining you, and perhaps soon you'll have the right kind of gang — not "slum bums," but good kids on the way up. —H.

TEEN BOOST OF THE MONTH CLUB — It's called "Youth Out Reach" and it couldn't have a better name. It is just that: teen-agers reaching other teen-agers on the Lower East Side of New York.

It began three years ago when a group of young people from Brookdale (New Jersey) Baptist Church decided on their own to start a Youth Center in the Lower East Side. They rented a store (formerly used by a dope pusher) for $35 a month; they carried out bushels of dirt and junk, cleaned and painted, and after many frustratiing moments, finally saw the idea of a Christian Youth Club catch on. Within a year they expanded to a larger hall at 279 East 3rd St., where it is today.

Bob Rendel, a senior at Bloomfield High School, describes a typical evening: "Before even opening the door of the youth center we come before God in prayer. The many miraculous answers to prayer we have witnessed on the Lower East Side have strengthened our trust in God for help in the work.

"The center is opened at 8 p.m. Within half a minute, the guys are enthusiastically deciding over the pool table to see who will break. The girls are pulling out sewing machines and half-finished dresses, and coffee is brewing. Some play Spanish checkers or dominoes. We have a television that works some of the time. It is usually about the middle of the evening when the set of weights are hauled out and the guys try to out-do each other. Besides all these, what takes up most of the nights is just plain old talk.

"By 11 p.m. everyone is ready to wind things up. Then it's 'Adios' until next Friday night."

The hard-working and idealistic teen-agers of Brookdale Baptist Church are new members of HHU's Teen Boost of the Month Club. They not only share their lives with young people who desperately need any help that is offered, but they raise the money, near $100 each month, to pay rent and upkeep on the old building that houses Youth Out Reach. —H.

Little Low Heels

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lots of shape in little and lowered heels is one of the major trends in women's shoe styles. The shapes range from curvy, Louis heels to stacked heels to the geometric slants and angles of modern art. These shapely, lowered heels are necessary for proper balance and proportion with short, short skirts and textured stockings.

September Nuptials Planned In Novato

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Garaventa of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carole-Ann, and Stephen J. Taylor. The announcement was made on the 25th wedding anniversary of the bride-elect's parents, on May 28.

Carole-Ann is the sister of Carla Garaventa of Novato. They are the granddaughters of Mrs. Joseph Daneri and the late Joseph Daneri of Novato.

The future bride was graduated from Dominican Lower and Upper School and the Bay City College of Nursing. She is employed with Dr. Daniel Phillips of Greenbrae.

Stephen is the son of Mrs. Carmel Taylor and James Taylor of San Francisco. He is the brother of Marilyn and Marshall Taylor of Novato. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Taylor of Novato and Mr. and Mrs. Alph Olsen of San Carlos.

The future bridegroom was graduated from 3-R School in San Rafael, College of Marin and the San Francisco College of Mortuary Sciences. He is funeral director for Valenti, Marini, Perata and Co. in San Francisco.

The couple will be married on Sept. 10 at Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church in Novato.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley, Tiburon and Corte Madera.

Wedding forms must be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding takes place. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or pictures more than 30 days after the wedding takes place.

Engagement forms may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be obtained in the I-J office after publication.

Mrs. Pett Heads Dental Auxiliary

MRS. TED PETT

A mother of two teen-agers is the new president of Women's Auxiliary of the Marin County Dental Society. Mrs. Ted F. Pett of Greenbrae has held the offices of recording secretary and membership chairman during her 10-year membership in the auxiliary.

A puppet show depicting dental health which has been shown in Marin schools for the past five years and a student loan available to dental students are projects under way.

Kathleen Pett attended Freed-Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn., and Northwestern University School of Dental Hygiene in Chicago. She and her husband have lived in Marin for 12 years and are the parents of Ted Jr., 16, and Victor, 13.

Mrs. Pett teaches Sunday school at Church of Christ in San Rafael and enjoys gardening. On weekends she and her family enjoy the use of a boat and trailer at Lake Berryessa.

HEART FACTORS

Research Made On Victims

Second in a series of articles dealing with risk factors in Heart Disease, provided by the Marin County Heart Assn., as a public education service.

According to a recent nationwide survey, you—and everyone else in America — worry too much.

You worry about big things—the war in Viet Nam, civil rights, education, paying your bills, getting ahead—and you worry about little things—wasting time, not reading enough, watching too much television.

In short, you are a victim of "stress."

Some people thrive on stress—it is the spice in their lives. Others fall victim to it. There is evidence that in some people stress provokes such ailments as ulcers, headaches and chronic indigestion.

WHAT DOES ALL this have to do with heart disease?

A lot of people wish they knew.

Several hours before former President Eisenhower's famous heart attack, he was interrupted several times during a golf match by what he considered non-essential phone calls. Later he wondered if these frustrating calls had anything to do with his attack.

His experience was not uncommon. Many heart patients can point to a stressful situation—a fight with the wife, a bad day topped by a traffic jam on the way home, working to meet an impossible deadline—not too long before the attack. Yet, how can we know that this is anything more than coincidence in our busy lives?

Some surveys have disclosed a high incidence of heart disease in high stress jobs. Other studies have failed to find any such relationship.

Contrary to popular belief, business executives appear to have no more heart disease than those further down the success ladder. They may even have less.

Any clearcut relationship is also clouded by two painfully obvious facts:

Everyone undergoes stress—and some individuals under extreme and prolonged stress never suffer heart attacks.

And some of the most peaceful, relaxed people have heart attacks with no evidence of undue stress.

Such contradictory observations have led a number of physicians to speculate that the

Dr. Meyer Friedman and Dr. Ray Rosenman of San Francisco's Mount Zion Hospital have concluded after years of study that some coronary prone persons are born to lead stress-filled lives. These people are ambitious, hard-driving and restless. Their calm, easy-going counterparts are less likely to develop coronary heart disease, the studies show.

FAR MORE WIDELY accepted than the notion that stress might cause heart disease is the idea that stress can trigger a heart attack in a person who already has extensive hardening of the arteries or high blood pressure.

All speculations about stress and heart disease have a foundation in human physiology.

The body's reaction to stress is one of "fight or flight." Every part is alert, ready for action. The heart beats faster and pumps more blood. Blood vessels in muscles throughout the body dilate. Subtle chemical changes occur in the blood.

In times of danger, this reaction equips the body to save itself. But for most stress, this mass reaction is unnecessary and unused.

One school of thought holds that the unused stress reaction if it occurs often, might aggravate high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries.

THE OPPOSITE EXTREME holds that the whole idea of stress is a useful excuse for people who won't exercise or diet and insist on smoking, and consequently are high coronary risks.

Of all the possible contributors to heart disease, stress is likely to remain suspect—unproved—the longest. It is the hardest to study and because of its elusive character any evidence linking stress to heart disease is bound to be circumstantial.

While work is underway to answer these questions, many doctors are advising their patients to relax and take it easy, feeling that almost everybody is too tense these days.

So take it easy and take heart.

MRS. WILLIAM BOWEN

Mrs. Bowen, the former Grace Lundblad, now lives in the home that her parents built when she was two years of age.

Grace says her pastimes include "remodeling and redecorating our older home, playing golf with my husband and helping care for our multitude of pets and animals." These include geese, two 4-H sheep and a pet sheep, a rabbit, two collies, many cows, five cats, guinea pigs, lizards and a gold fish.

Sewing, cooking, baking, gardening, camping and golfing are most enjoyed by the new president. Her husband takes care of the vegetable garden, but Grace preserves the vegetables by freezing them.

The Bowens have three children, Clifford, 12, Danny, 8 and Beverly, 7 years of age.

Mrs. Bowen is a 4-H sewing leader with the Aggies and has been a room representative, hospitality chairman, founders day chairman and worked with the Well Baby Clinic during her six years with the parent-teacher organization.

The P-TA plans a fall festival and spaghetti dinner in October. It also hopes to have a mechanical stoplight placed at Seventh and Grant near the school.

Officers to serve on the board with Mrs. Bowen include Mrs. Richard Luddy, first vice president; Earl Farris, second vice president; Mesdames Forrest Bauleke, secretary; Al Fowler, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Pilkington, auditor, and Earl Marshall, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Bowen has chosen as chairmen Mesdames Robert Listman, founders day and safety; Richard Beedle, hospitality; Jack Pinkney, magazine; Charles Schwarm, membership; Phil Reedstrom, newsette; Larry Cato, publicity; Stanley Dennison, room representative, and Pilkington, scholarship.

VICTORIA GROSS

Victoria Gross To Girls State From Mill Valley

Mill Valley Unit 285 of the American Legion Auxiliary will have as its candidate to Girls State June 20 to 28 Tamalpais High School junior Victoria Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Gross of Mill Valley.

The Girls State will be held at the University of California at Davis campus again this year.

Victoria has been co-chairman of Marin Youth for Action, class representative to the student congress, song leader and a semifinalist for the American Field Service.

Alternates, also selected by the Tamalpais High School faculty and dean of women Alice Dolan, are Linda Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook of Mill Valley, and Janna MacDonald, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John MacDonald.

Linda is a member of the French and German clubs at Tamalpais and has been an Honor T officer. Janna is interested in music and the aquacade and is active in Baptist church work in Mill Valley, where her father is pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Norman Boyd, Girls State chairman for the Mill Valley Unit of American Legion Auxiliary, which sponsors the week-long program, announced the candidates' names.

Marinites Work On Jewel Ball

Marin members who have been named to the committee for the Jewel Ball, sponsored by the San Francisco Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Hospital, include Mesdames Robert T. Lindemann of Kentfield and Kenneth A. Hulme of San Rafael, who are decorations chairman and assistant. Others are Mrs. Elmer S. Albritton of Kentfield, who is working on entertainment, and Mrs. Myron DuBain of Kentfield and Mrs. Conrad J. Abbett of San Rafael, game awards; and Mrs. Peter Fisher, who is Marin telephone chairman.

Golfing Mothers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Expectant mothers can improve their golf scores by taking an easier swipe at the ball, says Dr. J. D. Flew, British obstetrician. In a report in "Medical Tribune", the doctor advises pregnant women to take a full swing at golf and to leave their wooden clubs at home. Use the irons. Many, he said, "find they have a better card than ever before."

THE NEAT BEAT—Anthony Durbin beats bongo drum in Unitarian Youth Group "nine-dimensional" review, "Whats-Happening," to be presented Saturday at 8 p.m. in the church at 240 Channing Way, San Rafael.

Munching Audience To Be Part Of Youths' Review

"Whats-happening!" is the topic of the nine-dimensional review to be presented by the Uniterian Church Youth Group at the church at 240 Channing Way, San Rafael, at 8 p.m., Saturday.

Dance, drum, dialogue, poetry, lighting effects, special music and sounds, sculpture and a movie filmed in Marin by the group are part of the sensual experiences to be experienced, according to Bruce Sloan of Corte Madera, producer.

In addition, participants will be given apples, green peppers and strawberries to much on as an added sensory attraction.

Norma Leistiko, known for her work with the Dancer's Workshop Co. as well as work with the Ann Halprin dance group of Marin, is featured in several modern dance solos.

Dialogue and poetry will be by Sloan and others, dealing with contemporary issues from civil rights to art. There will be displays of sculpture, pottery, painting and weaving in the church.

Casey Sonnabend of Corte Madera and his student, Anthony Durbin, 12, of Larkspur, will add to the show's psychedelic effect with hand drum performances. Also performing will be dancer Crystal Mazur of Tamalpais Valley. Admission will be charged.

Colusa Fire In Timber Controlled

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Northern California's largest fire of the summer was under control today, but forestry officials warned of continued high temperaturs and low humidity.

They predicted a very high fire danger for the next several days.

A 9,000-acre fire in timber and brush in Colusa County was controlled yesterday by about 250 men. As soon as it was halted, four aerial tankers were diverted to fight other blazes.

Smaller fires were reported throughout Northern California, but most were controlled quickly.

Youth Dance Set As Conduct Test

A dance run for teen-agers by teen-agers Saturday will provide a test of how well youths in Marin can conduct themselves, according to members of the sponsoring group, Marin Youth for Action.

The dance will run from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the College of Marin gymnasium. Music will be by two local rock 'n' roll bands, the Styx and the Soul Six.

While the group has arranged for policing and adult chaperones, all arrangements have been handled by the youths themselves. Ginger Bills, chairman of the dance committee, said the group plans to hold more such functions if all goes well at this one.

LSD Result Is Labeled 'Horrendous'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Use of LSD, the hallucinatory drug, can be an "overwhelming experience" or a "pretty horrendous thing," a professor declared yesterday.

Dr. Sidney Cohen, associate clinical professor of medicine at UCLA, was speaking at a conference called by the University of California concerning the drug.

BOUNDRY LOSS

Taking the drug, lysergic acid diethylamide, can produce "an overwhelming loss of ego boundaries," he said. "You are no longer yourself, you fuse with the universe. It is an overwhelming experience."

"One thing the taker is likely to overlook is that he has been completely unable to judge the value of his experience and the nature of it, and he accepts it as being realer than real," Dr. Cohen added.

For some persons, the drug may result in a "bad trip," the professor said.

'VERY PARANOID'

"The individual is completely disorganized, very paranoid, highly suspicious and the things goes on forever. Nothing makes sense, and the idea you will ever come back—there is a time distortion with LSD — seems remote," he added. "You think you are going mad."

Both he and Frank Barron, a U.C. psychologist, urged federal laws against illegal distribution of LSD, but Barron said: "The worst thing that could happen would be for thousands of our best young people to find themselves defined as criminals for pursuing a course that they themselves consider constructive."

Motorcycle Shop Use Permit Turned Down

Application for a permit for a motorcycle sales and service shop at 366 Shoreline Highway south of Mill Valley was denied by Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday after 25 residents of the area protested.

Residents objected to noise of motors, particularly if servicing were permitted. Cordill saw no objection to the sale of motorcycles, but denied the application because of the servicing phase.

Women Picket Garbage Trucks

WARREN, Mich. (AP)—Angry housewives blockaded a garbage truck in suburban Warren for two hours as a result of a labor disagreement.

Public Service Director L. Mason Capitani limited the amount of garbage to be collected per household to two cans after DPW workers, in a contract dispute, had refused to work overtime.

About 35 housewives blockaded a truck at an intersection today in protest against being prohibited from empting cans themselves. Then they dispersed peacefully.

Wholesale Prices On An Even Keel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Labor says there was no change last month in wholesale prices — an indication rising living costs may be leveling off.

But the effect of stable wholesale prices on supermarket prices won't be known until the department's Bureau of Labor Statistice issues its May consumer price index later this month.

Doctors Back Physicians In Therapeutic Abortions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Northern California gynecologists are voicing support for the two physicians accused of unprofessional conduct because they performed therapeutic abortions.

Drs. Seymour Smith and J. Paul Shively are to appear July 25 before the Board of Medical Examiners because they performed abortions for women who had German measels early in their pregnancies and therefore risked bearing deformed babies.

Preserving lives is the only cause permitted by California law.

The San Francisco Gynecological Society, which has members from Monterey to Eureka and as far east as Sacramento, polled members on whether they supported liberalizing the law and whether they supported Drs. Smith and Shively.

To the first question, there were 104 'yes' answers, three 'nos' and one abstaining.

Asked whether they supported the doctors, 103 replied that they did, four said they did not and two abstained.

Citizenship Renounced Over War

TOKYO (AP) — William R. Christensen, a 37-year-old artist from Hartford, Conn., announced today he will renounce his American citizenship in protest against U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

"I am sorry to admit," the painter and sculptor told a news conference, "that the majority of the American people feel righteous and just in supporting cruel, brutal and cowardly massacre of the small country of Viet Nam."

He read an open letter to the Japanese people and government requesting that he be allowed to stay and work in Japan and a cable to President Johnson calling for a halt to the bombing of Viet Nam.

Christensen has been in Tokyo with his 5-year-old son Eric for two months, working for a Japanese export-import firm with its French and English correspondence. His wife, a native of Paris, lives with their two other children, Anne, 8, and Eva, 7, in Albany, Calif. Christensen worked there as a typewriter repairman before coming to Japan. He said he hopes to have his family join him in the fall.

A Socialist member of parliament, Kanichi Nishimura, told the newsmen he would sponsor the artist's stay in Japan "for as long as he likes." The Socialists also oppose American participation in the Viet Nam war.

The Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society Museum will present a month-long exhibition of photographs by Anna Jean Cole of Tiburon beginning Sunday.

Included in the show will be her award-winning "Fog on Golden Gate Bridge" and shots of sailing, animals and wildflowers. The show will be open Sundays and Wednesdays from noon to 4 p.m. at the museum in Old St. Hilary's Church, Tiburon.

Dinner Date

The San Rafael Elks Lodge will sponsor a dinner-dance-boat ride July 16, starting at 6:30 p.m. at the Elks Club in San Rafael, rather than July 17 as incorrectly reported in the Independent-Journal.

Woman Pedestrian Hurt In San Rafael

Mrs. Gerry Lee Winkinson, 46, of 107 Taylor Street, Fairfax, was treated for cuts, scrapes and bruises at Marin General Hospital yesterday after being struck in a crosswalk at Second and D streets, San Rafael, by a panel truck, driven by Charles W. Cox, 24, of Petaluma.

School Plan Is Deleted

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved deletion of an elementary school site from the Loma Verde Master Plan, but denied requests for other changes in the plan.

The commission continued until June 27 the request by Hector Rubini to rezone from multiple family to retail commercial 13 acres on Ignacio Boulevard and Alameda De Prado, a request by Shell Oil Co. for a gasoline service station at Highway 101 and De Long Avenue, and rezoning from agricultural to single family of the Stanford Oaks subdivision of eight acres on Center Road west of Ormond Court.

Assignment: Somalia

Two In Peace Corps Leaving For Somalia

Two young members of Marin families are to leave tonight for Somalia, Africa, as Peace Corps volunteers.

The volunteers are Mrs. Melanie Swenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Warren Moorehead of 84 Forest Lane, San Rafael, who is going with her husband, Jerry Swenson of Castro Valley, and Michael C. Walsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Walsh of 172 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Swenson and her husband both graduated from University of California at Berkeley in 1965, and have been living in Oakland since their marriage last July. Both are 24 years old.

Mrs. Swenson has been working for the Cal-Toy Co., wholesale distributors of toys, in its Oakland business office while she waited for a Peace Corps assignment.

Her father is district manager for Equitable Life Assurance Co. in Petaluma, and her mother teaches mathematics in the adult education division at College of Marin.

Ask how she felt about her daughter's going to Africa, Mrs. Moorehead said: "I think it's going to be a fabulous experience—and I think it will be a very trying one."

The trio completed 13 weeks of training at Columbia University Teachers College in New York City. The trip to Somalia, which is on the east coast of the continent, includes stops in New York, Rome and Cairo. They are expected to be in Somalia Thursday.

In Somalia they will teach English, mathematics, science, and industrial and commercial arts.

Bicycle Shop For Olema Gets Permit

Permit to Larry H. Marks Jr. of Novato for a bicycle rental shop in Olema, to serve visitors to the Point Reyes National Seashore, was approved yesterday by Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

Cordill denied the request of Calvin Hopper for a permit to operate a catering truck at Brighton Avenue and Bolinas-Olema Road in Bolinas.

He delayed action on the request of Frank McAuliffe for a permit for a motel on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Cintura Avenue in Lagunitas. Cordill asked for more information.

Sausalitan Given Thailand Post

Alfred L. Anderson, principal in the Sausalito School District for the past two years, has been hired as principal of an International Schools Foundation junior high school in Bangkok, Thailand.

He will report Aug. 1.

Anderson, who lives in Marinwood, will be accompanied by his wife, Irinia, and two children. On a two-year contract, the post pays $16,800 per year.

Anderson was principal of Manzanita School, Marin City, last year and principal of Central School, Sausalito, this year. He said 85 per cent of the students in the school he will head are American.

Churches Back Grape Strikers On Boycott

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The directors of the Northern California Council of Churches urged last night that their congregations support the grape pickers' boycott against DiGiorgio products.

The directors asked that the congregations be selective in their purchases and avoid the purchase of DiGiorgio products and products of S & W Food and Treesweet, subsidiaries of the corporation.

The directors said the boycott should continue until the corporation, one of the largest employers in the Delano area, reaches a working agreement with the National Farm Workers Assn.

The NFWA has been directing a strike against grape growers in the San Joaquin Valley. The directors' resolution called for church members to "stand with these workers in their efforts to secure human dignity...through their union organizations."

The Rev. James Vizzard, a Roman Catholic priest, replied to criticism by the Council of California Growers to his church's stand in the grape strike.

Growers' criticism came after churchmen urged the Teamsters Union to withdraw from its unionization drive among DiGiorgio employees. The Teamsters did withdraw.

Father Vizzard said his church acted solely in the interests of the farm worker and contended the council "is merely defending its own selfish interests."

"The urgent interests of California's farm workers require the cooperation, not the competition, of the Teamsters and the NFWA," Father Vizzard said.

Father Vizzard was in San Francisco on a visit from his church's Rural Life Conference in Washington, D.C.

Mayor Lindsay Hires Aide, 14

Stephen, whose appointment was announced yesterday, works in the office of press secretary Woody Klein. His assignment is clipping newspaper pictures of the mayor.

Stephen's salary is $10 a week, to be paid by his father, Robert Blum, also a Lindsay assistant.

To the most wonderful people in the world... our customers:

It is a large responsibility to maintain a national reputation for excellence in the preparation of sea foods.
It requires a large, well trained staff, expert in the unique qualities of a highly perishable product. Because nature is seldom uniform it requires experience to select the best, at the proper time of its development and then prepared at the exact time that it is at its tastiest best. It then has to be seasoned and garnished and provided with sauces that enhance its natural flavor.
If you think this sounds complicated, it is, but it is necessary if you want to be known as the best.
Experts from all over the world select any one of one hundred and fifty dishes on our Menu and our reputation depends on that one sample, so each serving must be of uniform excellence.
When you bring a friend or a group to share some treat that you particularly enjoy, the Sabellas promise you that your favorite will be the way you like it every day, in every week, or we won't serve it to you.
We enjoy having you bring your family to dinner with us and we enjoy serving you a quick business lunch, any day in the week. We know that if everything is prepared the best way we know how for you, our neighbors, our national reputation will take care of itself.

Sincerely,

Angelo Sabella

Hotel Owner In Bankruptcy Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — James Stockman, California hotel and motel operator, filed a bankruptcy petition in federal court listing assets of $13 million and liabilities of $10 million.

Stockman was a director of the now defunct San Francisco National Bank and is involved in litigation concerning it.

He and his wife filed petitions individually and as co-partners in eight enterprises.

The enterprises are Stockman Hotels Co., Ltd., Long Beach; Edgewater Inn Hotel and Stockman Development Co., both Oakland; City Center Hotel, Long Beach; Transwestern Hotels, Santa Rosa; Stockman Investment Co. and Colonial House Apartments, both Santa Rosa; Caravan Lodge, San Francisco.

The Stockmans live in Santa Rosa and have an office at 455 Hegenberger Road, Oakland.

Hub City Aide Faces Closed Session Tonight

San Anselmo City Council will meet behind closed doors at 7 p.m. today in City Hall to hear complaints against a city employee, who is privately acknowledged to be City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt.

The closed session, which will precede the council's regular meeting at 8 p.m., comes at the request of Councilman Robert M. Scott. He asked for the meeting during the council's May 24 meeting, "to discuss criticisms of a city employee."

Scott declined to name the employee after City Atty. John G. Buresh advised him it was not required. An informed source acknowledged later, though, that the employee is Flautt.

Last September, Flautt was criticised for living in San Rafael rather than San Anselmo, but the council voted 3-2 to amend the city administrator ordinance and allow his non-residency.

At their public meeting, councilmen will consider one appointment each to the planning commission and the library board. They will also receive a letter from the San Anselmo Homes Assn., urging them to meet with Fairfax and Ross to discuss the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

MARIN'S FIRST GEODESIC DOME

County Supervisors Dump 'Super Agency' Suggestion

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted down Administrator Alan Bruce's suggested "super agency" for the administration of health, welfare and other departments, and debated creation of an advisory commission instead.

The unanimous action came during the first day of review of Bruce's proposed $25.9 million budget.

Deletion of three positions for the study of the administrative body during the 1967 fiscal year cut $38,288 out of the budget, the biggest reduction of the day.

Supervisors left the door open slightly for study by saying they might consider addition of an administrative analyst in Bruce's department, who could give further study to the proposal.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, emphasizing that he respected Bruce very much, said he nevertheless was against concentration of "more and more power in an administrative position without the check and balance of a public commission."

Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Peter H. Behr argued against the commission idea. Behr said there were so many commissions already it was hard to keep track of them. Leydecker said commissions always "lobby their own point of view."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss declared the recommendation for a super agency was submitted without sufficient investigation.

Bruce's recommendation called for a director, administrator and a secretary. He revealed yesterday that he would recommend Michael D. Scholl, head of the medical department, as half-time director, raising his salary from $900 to $1,000 a month, splitting it between the super agency budget and the medical department.

That budget, the first to be considered, was increased $13,000 by the board after Dr. Scholl said the case load was off only 41 per cent, rather than the earlier estimate of 50 per cent due to medical care under the state's Casey Act.

Budget for the department will be $403,700 compared with $669,700 for the current year. Accounting procedure throws the comparison off slightly because fringe benefits, about 16 per cent of salaries, are shown for the first time in each department budget rather than as a separate budget item.

Dr. Scholl told supervisors that closing of San Rafael General Hospital has meant an increase in county cost for care of indigent patients. He said the San Rafael General contract gave the county a favorable rate not available at other hospitals.

Behr asked about the possibility of contracting with hospitals in San Francisco, but Dr. Scholl said rates there are even higher.

Supervisors devoted more than two hours to discussion of the welfare (department of public social service) budget without reaching any conclusion other than agreeing a further session is needed.

The board asked Betty L. Presley, the department director, to see if qualifications for general relief might be tightened by denying it to single, able-bodied men who have not lived in Marin a full year.

They also asked her to consider a cut in the request for four additional supervisors positions and a reduction in the budget for services and supplies.

Supervisors questioned the recommendation for increase of staff by 25.5 persons, bringing the total positions in the department to 169.

Miss Presley read a seven-page history of the welfare department, outlining legislative changes that have taken place since 1959. At that time the department operated with 56 people and a budget of $2.3 million. Recommendation for next year calls for 169 people and a budget of $7.6 million.

Net result of yesterday's budget review was a drop of one and one-half cents in the projected tax rate for fiscal 1966-67, leaving it at $2.441 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Rate for this year was $2.185.

Tomorrow supervisors will take up budgets for the department of public works, special districts under board control, and the airport. The session will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. At 8 p.m. supervisors will meet as the Marin Transit District Board to consider that district's budget and other business.

THE SCHOOLS PROBE

Voydat Gets Harsh Words In Report On Personnel

A California Teachers Assn. personnel standards commission had harsh words for the administration of San Rafael's city schools—especially for Mitchell L. Voydat, assistant superintendent for high schools.

The commission, in a report prepared by an investigating team which visited San Rafael late in March, remarked that Supt. Bert C. Corona walked into trouble when he took the job five years ago. "The present superintendent arrived in the district after a number of crucial administrative appointments had been made," it related. "Tensions developed between the district office and the high schools, particularly at San Rafael High School, where there has long been considerable internal staff dissension."

The report, in its section on the superintendent, said: "Complaints regarding the superintendent . . . centered primarily on abandonment of role." It said he was described as hard working, able and conscientious, but "criticized for failing to provide leadership."

The commisison was much more outspoken about Voydat.

"Role confusion for which the assistant superintendent for secondary instruction was criticized was more of commission than omission," it reported. It charged Voydat with by-passing principals, and said critics accused him of being "inconsistent and arbitrary in overruling discipline decisions."

To bolster these charges, it cited a series of instances. On one occasion, it alleged, Voydat had the school administration "destroy all records of an incident which led a dean and principal to suspend a student," then revoked the suspension.

It referred to a "barrage of memos" from the administration to a teacher regarding his alleged written comments on a student's theme "two years earlier." Apparently this was the same theme referred to in a California Federation of Teachers report, which named the teacher as John C. Curtin and claimed the theme was four years old.

It criticized Voydat's handling of the controversy over assignment of "On the Road" for reading by a Terra Linda High School senior English class. Voydat, after appointing a committee whose membership was kept secret to review the book, ordered it dropped, saying he did so on his own responsibility. A majority of committee members did not support this decision, the CTA panel was told.

It seemed to find fault, too, with Voydat's direction that a Terra Linda High School art class participate in the Marin Assn. of Independent Insurance Agents' safety poster contest.

"Much of the information accumulated in this study indicates that the most serious internal conflicts and controversies revolve around this individual," said the report, referring to Voydat. It charged he had failed to correctly estimate staffing needs, issued contracts with errors in salary placement, and made remarks which it deemed inappropriate to teachers being interviewed for jobs. It also charged that held secret meetings with groups of like-minded teachers.

The commission also charged that Mrs. Jean Wilcox, the director of personnel, had incorrectly placed teachers on the salary scale and had conducted interviews that "went beyond the obtaining of technical information." The panel was quite unhappy that Mrs. Wilcox does not have a teaching certificate.

On the other hand, William C. Jordan, assistant superintendent for elementary schools, was one of the few persons mentioned in the report who virtually escaped all censure. "The assistant superintendent for elementary instruction was never identified as a party to the problems studied by the panel," said the report. "He deserves much of the credit for the high morale throughout the elementary schools."

The report said nothing about George Yertson, Terra Linda High School principal, except to note that he had requested resassignment. But of Alfred N. Thomson, San Rafael High School principal, it said:

"The commission does not consider the San Rafael High School principal to be a strong administrator. He has been unable to develop a cohesive working unit of the school's certificated staff (a task at which others before him had also failed) or to solve the problems of faculty factions, overcrowding of students, and unclear lines of staff responsibilities."

It noted, however, that he "has been handicapped by a lack of administrative support" and "has been placed in an untenable position."

Noting a high rate of turnover in the San Rafael High School administrative staff, the commission's report remarked:

"The staff member with longest tenure has assumed a dominant role in administration of the school, due partly to the principal's abandonment of leadership and partly to frequent changes in administartion . . . This adminitsrator was referred to as the power behind the throne,' with considerable evidence to support this belief."

SAN RAFAEL STORE HOURS MAY CHANGE

Stores in San Rafael may change their late night openings from Monday to Wednesday.

Merchants who belong to the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce are being sounded out on the proposed change.

At its latest meeting, the chamber's business development committee unanimously agreed to change the night openings in downtown San Rafael.

Chamber manager Jack Alvarado said a business analysis of the downtown area showed that a Wednesday night opening would be more profitable than Monday. Stores will continue to remain open on Friday nights.

Firehouse Vandalized

Vandals were reported yesterday to have broken three windows during the night in newly installed garage doors at the San Rafael fire house being built on San Pedro Road near Peacock Gap.

Tiburon Council Wants To Soften Prince Charlie Inn Noisy Nights

Eric Hodgman, proprietor of the noisy Prince Charles Inn, was warned by the Tiburon City Council last night that he had better keep his pub quiet.

"We're not persecuting Hodgman," Councilman William R. Bremer said. "If he wants to play ball with the city, he can stay and operate his business as long as he wants."

But the exasperated city council unanimously instructed City Atty. Robert I. Conn to investigate what action the city could take under ordinances forbidding sound amplifying equipment and dancing.

The council discussed the possibility of civil suits, but decided to wait until after an Alcoholic Beverage Control examiner's hearing Monday on Hodgman's liquor license.

Hodgman, 41, was arrested Sunday on a citizen's complaint of disturbing the police. According to Lt. George R. Barnes, the Tiburon sheriff's substation averages 10 complaints a week on the pub's noisy operation.

The council acted last night after City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose reported Hodgman had ignored his request Saturday night to quell the noise. Rose said he had ignored many previous requests also.

Mayor John S. Hoffmire said the "patient citizens of this city won't have their peace and tranquility disturbed by Hodgman."

Marin City Agenda

Marin City Community Services District directors will consider approval of plans for the Manzanita Neighborhood Center at 8 p.m., Thursday, at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church, Secretary John A. Thomson said today. The board announced last week it will also hear details of plans for a center, to be built by Marin City youths, as presented by Donald Warden, San Francisco attorney.

Youngster Injured

Craig Hennesy, 6, of 109½ Shaver Street, San Rafael, was treated for bumps and bruises at Kaiser Foundation Clinit after being struck by a car driven by Alva Grace Tarantino of 1175 Tamalpais Drive, Fairfax, when he ran in front of her car at Fourth and E Streets, San Rafael.

Reed Board To Meet On Tentative Budget

The Reed School District board, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in Del Mar School, will consider adoption of a tentative budget of $1,480,910 for next fiscal year.

Supt. H. Joe Edgington said the proposed budget, up $292,449 over this year, is expected to mean a seven-cent increase in the district's tax rate, to a total of $3.34. Biggest increase in the budget is in teachers salaries, up $107,741 to $766,905.

Match-Head Bomb Wounds Teen-Ager In Mill Valley

A 14-year-old Mill Valley boy was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital after he suffered extensive injuries to his left hand last night while stuffing match heads into a loaded carbon dioxide cartridge.

Police reported that Anthony Crosby, who lives with his aunt, Mrs. Marian Suit, at 93 East Blithedale Avenue, was poking the match heads into the cartridge at 8:37 p.m. when it exploded.

The boy was taken to the fire department for first aid, then to the hospital.

"These cartridges are highly dangerous to fool around with," said Police Chief Dan Terzich today. He said this is the second or third case he knows of where youngsters have lost fingers in such explosions.

Tomales Bay Graduation Today

Graduation ceremonies for 22 eighth graders of Tomales Bay Elementary School will be held at 8:30 p.m. today in the gymnassium at Tomales High School.

James Carroll, president of the Marin County Board of Education, will be guests peaker. Walton Burbank, president of Tomales Bay School District Board, will present diplomas.

Dennis Rickley will introduce student speakers Linda Zimmermann, Katherine Seiler, Madeleine Angress, Daniel Mansergh III, Joseph Tremari Jr., William Jensen, Deborah Nelson and Axel Anderson. Peggy Gordon will lead the flag salute and William Souza will give the address of welcome.

Parochial Pupils Get Diplomas In Fairfax

Fifty eighth graders of St. Rita's school, Fairfax, were presented diplomas by Rev. Matthew Sullivan in graduation ceremonies at St. Rita's Church last evening.

Parents attended the evening ceremonies, and yesterday morning the students had a communion breakfast with the Women's Guild officers, organized by the seventh grade mothers, at which Mary Yetter, class president, was speaker.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, American novelist and poet, was born on this day in 1811.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the U.S. Army was founded when Congress authorized the recruiting of 10 companies of riflemen to serve the Colonies for one year.

In 1922, President Harding became the first Chief Executive to broadcast a speech. The occasion was the dedication of the Francis Scott Key Memorial at Fort McHenry.

In 1940 the Germans entered Paris around dawn. By 11 a.m. the Swastika flew from the marine ministry, the chamber of deputies and the Eiffel Tower.

A Thought for the Day — British poet John Keats said: "I am certain of nothing but the holiness of the heart's affections and the truth of imagination."

Italians Superior Bidders; Americans Better Players

EAST WON

At both tables East won the first spade trick and returned a club to the ace.

Each declarer led a heart, and East took dummy's queen with the ace.

LOSES FINESSE

Sammy Kehela, of the American team, won the jack of diamonds with the king and returned a club to dummy's queen.

Declarer led the ten of diamonds from dummy to repeat the finesse, and now there was no hope.

The defenders had already taken three tricks, and Kehela was sure to get the queen of diamonds and the last club to defeat the contract.

OTHER TABLE

When the suit broke, he cashed dummy's last heart.

Then he took his high spades, and West had to discard a club to keep a low diamond with his honors.

Hamman thereupon led a club to dummy's queen and returned the jack of diamonds for a finesse.

DAILY QUESTION

♠ A Q 2
♥ K 9 7
♦ A 8 6 2
♣ A K 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Double. The hand is too strong for an overcall of one notrump in American bidding systems.

(In the world championship, D'Alelio did overcall with one notrump, but this showed 17 to 20 points in his system.)

HOW

Would you like to earn 300% return on investment your first year in business PROVED BY ACTUAL FINANCIAL STATEMENTS! Books and cash receipt journal are available to attest to this statement. You will show net profits from the very first week open. AAMCO centers show an average gross of $110,000 a year — the best shops do over $250,000 annually. No experience necessary but some business, management, or sales background desirable.

AAMCO is the world's largest and best automatic transmissions specialist with a network of AAMCO shops reaching from coast-to-coast. Our basic qualifications are that you be financially capable of handling an investment of $12,500 to $23,000 (partly financeable) depending upon the size of your shop in the area selected. You must be prepared to attend management training class for 4 weeks.

This is an opportunity to get your share of a billion dollar market which is growing so rapidly that it will double in the next ten years.

Write, wire or call Robert Morgan, President, Franchise Division.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE PARK TOWERS

Dear Apartment Seeker,
We are proud to announce the opening of The PARK TOWERS. It is a luxury building, unique in this area. THE PARK TOWERS was built with beauty and quality as the first consideration. Cost was secondary. If you take pride in your home you deserve to become a resident of THE PARK TOWERS.
The Northgate Shopping center is just 5 blocks and San Rafael only a 5 minute drive. Bus service to San Francisco is 3 blocks. Built on a hillside, THE PARK TOWERS is framed by trees and shrubbery, many units have a magnificent view.
We welcome you to look around, and visit with the managers who will be happy to answer your questions.

1-2-3 Bedrooms

SUMMONS
No. 45771
DEPARTMENT NO. 8

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin.

DSI CORP., a California corporation, Plaintiff, vs. ROBERT A. SMALLMAN, as Administrator of the Estate of NELLIE VICTORIA CAROLINE McALESTER, Deceased, ANNA McALESTER, JOSEPH McALESTER, EARL McALESTER, EDWIN McALESTER, JAMES McALESTER, ALBERT McALESTER, JOHN McALESTER, and also all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in this complaint adverse to plaintiff's ownership thereof, or constituting a cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto, Defendants.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA SEND GREETING TO:

ROBERT A. SMALLMAN, as Administrator of the Estate of NELLIE VICTORIA CAROLINE McCLESTER, Deceased, ANNA McALESTER, JOSEPH McALESTER, EARL McALESTER, EDWIN McALESTER, JAMES McALESTER, ALBERT McALESTER, JOHN McALESTER, and also all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in this complaint adverse to plaintiff's ownership thereof, or constituting a cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto.

YOU AND EACH OF YOU are hereby directed to appear and answer the complaint filed in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Marin entitled and numbered as above, and brought against you, within ten (10) days after the service of summons on said complaint if served within the said County of Marin, or within thirty (30) days if served elsewhere.

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that unless you so appear and answer as above required, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint as arising upon contract, or plaintiff will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in said complaint.

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that said action is commenced by plaintiff herein to determine the adverse claims to and clouds upon the title to the real property hereinafter discribed, and to obtain a judgment and decree of this court to determine that said plaintiff is the owner, in fee simple, of such real property and every part thereof, and that the defendants have not nor has any of them any right, title, estate, lien or interest in or to said real property or any part thereof, and that plaintiff's title thereto is good and valid, and that the defendants and each of them, and all persons claiming or to claim under them, or any of them if adversely to plaintiff, be forever enjoined and barred from asserting any claims whatsoever in or to said real property or any part thereof, adverse to plaintiff, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem just and proper in the premises.

The real property referred to herein is situate in the County of Marin, State of California, and is particularly described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto, and by reference incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

WITNESS MY HAND AND SEAL OF THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF MARIN this 31st day of May, 1966.

GEORGE H. GNOSS
County Clerk

Deputy Clerk

EXHIBIT "A"

DESCRIPTION:

PARCEL ONE:

LOT 22½ in Section 15, Township 2 North, Range 6 West, M.D.B. & M., as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map No. 3 of Salt Marsh & Tide Lands situate in the County of Marin, State of California, 1871", a copy of which map was filed July 20, 1959 in "Can F", Marin County Records.

PARCEL TWO:

The North 12 chains of Lots 15 and 16 in Section 21, Township 2 North, Range 6 West, M.D.B. & M., as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map No. 3 of Salt Marsh & Tide Lands situate in the County of Marin, State of California, 1871", a copy of which map was filed July 20, 1959 in "Can F", Marin County Records.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM that portion thereof which lies Northwesterly of the Southeasterly line of that certain 100 foot strip of land described in the deed from Union Trust Company et al to Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company, recorded November 23, 1916 in Book 183 of Deeds at page 104, Marin County Records.

No. 991 June 7, 14, 21, 28, 1966.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING REGARDING PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE REDEVELOPMENT PLAN OF THE MARIN CITY REDEVELOPMENT PROJECT PRIOR TO RECOMMENDING SAID AMENDMENTS TO THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN

The Redevelopment Agency of the County of Marin, State of California, hereby gives notice that in accordance with the provisions of the Community Redevelopment Law of the State of California, as amended, the Agency will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, the 5th day of July, 1966, at 7:30 o'clock, p.m., in the First Missionary Baptist Church at 501 Drake Avenue, Marin City, California, regarding proposed amendments to the Redevelopment Plan of the Marin City Redevelopment Project, Project Calif. R-8, heretofore adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin on June 17, 1958, and subsequently amended by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin.

The general purpose of the proposed amendments is to revise the land use of several parcels within the Redevelopment Project as heretofore established by the existing Redevelopment Plan. The proposed amendments would change the planned use of a part of Parcel A hereinafter described, from multiple residential to single-family residential and the planned use of a part of Parcel B hereinafter described, from multiple residential to single-family residential. Further, the proposed amendments would change the procedure relating to architectural review of building plans.

A legal description of the boundaries of the project area which is subject to said Redevelopment Plan is set forth in that certain document entitled Redevelopment Plan For Project No. 1, Marin City Redevelopment Area recorded in Book 1443 of Official Records at Page 155 in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California.

The legal description of the parcels within the Redevelopment Project, described in the Redevelopment Plan, are as follows:

PARCEL A

PARCEL B

Interested persons may request additional information pertaining hereto at the office of the Redevelopment Agency of the County of Marin, at its office, 429 Drake Avenue, Marin City, California.

By order of the Redevelopment Agency of the County of Marin.
Dated June 10, 1966.

/s/ DAVID O. STUTSMAN
Executive Director and Secretary of the Redevelopment Agency of the County of Marin

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. Notice is hereby given that the FAIRFAX SCHOOL DISTRICT will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for Furnishing soils materials at the site of the Proposed White Hill School.

2. Each bid shall be in accordance with the Contract Documents now available at the offices of the Architects, Crawford & Banning, 1651 Second Street, San Rafael, California, where copies may be obtained.

3. Bids shall be made on forms to be obtained at the Architect's office, and each bid must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten percent (10%) of the amount bid, made payable to the order of the Fairfax School District. Bids shall be sealed in envelopes bearing name of bidder and name of project, and shall be filed with the Clerk of the Board at the Fairfax Elementary School District Office, Broadway and School Streets, Fairfax, California, before 4:00 P.M., Tuesday, June 28, 1966, at which time and place all bids received will be opened in public.

4. The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Governing Board of the Fairfax School District.

5. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the Contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Governing Board of the Fairfax School District.

6. The Governing Board of the Fairfax School District reserves the right to reject any or all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received; to be the sole judge of the suitability of any bid or bids; to accept bids for alternates if in their opinion the alternate is a better value, whether higher or lower in cost, and/or better serves their purposes. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of forty-five (45) days after the date set for the opening thereof. Award of Contract is also contingent upon approval by State Allocation Board, Department of General Services.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Tuesday, the 5th day of July, 1966, at the hour of 11:00 o'clock a.m., in the lobby inside the Lincoln Avenue entrance to the Title Insurance and Trust Company, being the building located at the Northeast corner of Lincoln Avenue and Mission Street, in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, as substituted trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

PARCEL ONE:

PARCEL TWO:

A STRIP of land 5 feet wide, lying Northerly of and parallel to the Northerly line of Lot Number 33, in Block 7, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map of Marin Heights, Subdivision "B", on file in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California on June 6, 1916 in Book 4 of Maps at page 99.

Said sale will be made, without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by GUNTHER BRAUNER and CATHLEEN BRAUNER, his wife, and WILLIAM GERUNG, a widower, as trustor to MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, a California corporation, as trustee, for the benefit and security of GEORGE L. HERBERT and IRENE B. HERBERT, his wife, as Joint Tenants, dated September 26, 1963 and recorded October 1, 1963, in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 1732 of Official Records, page 274.

U.S. Films Disliked

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain (AP) —Both the feature U.S. color film and the black and white short got a poor reception last night at the San Sebastian International Film Festival. Critics said the 135-minute-long "Cast a Giant Shadow" was "one more war feature with not much technical value." The short was "On Fighting Witches." Most viewers didn't understand the meaning of the film.

Everglades Swamp Fading; Water Being Brought In

By JOHN P. STIRN

MIAMI (UPI) —They're carrying water to the Everglades—the largest swamp in the United States.

An invaluable piece of real estate, it has the only tropical forest in North America. It is the last refuge of some of the rarest birds and plants on earth.

It occupies two-thirds of Florida's fingertip, where 6,000 of the 7,000 square miles is geologically called swamp.

As a national park it ranks third in size, behind the largest, Yellowstone, in the northwestern United States and Mount McKinley in Alaska.

Four years ago it was on its way to becoming a 1.5 million acre wasteland, lifeless, dry and dull.

Everybody is still arguing why. The question is asked by conservationists, tourists, politicians and engineers:

Who almost killed the Everglades?

Dryness is a fatal disease to tropical life. About 19 years ago, the Army Corps of Engineers came up with a plan intended to keep thousands of people from drowning every time a hurricane whipped the state. The plan was also called a boon to agriculture. It was the biggest earth moving job since the Panama Canal. It's still not finished.

It was a canal job rivaling Holland.

The Army and a state agency called the Southern and Central Florida Flood Control District began gouging big ditches back and forth and up and down through southern Florida. In addition to the canals they built dikes.

A survey map of the south Florida canal system today looks like a terminal case of varicose veins. From Lake Okeechobee, the second largest fresh water lake within U.S. borders, to the northern edge of the Everglades, from the Atlantic Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico, the canals drain the wetness from Florida dirt and flush it away. In dry seasons the canal gates are closed and the ditches hold water for public use.

Lake Okeechobee stands like a tea cup, an average of 20 feet above sea level, sitting on an upside down saucer. From the lake southward the land gets flatter and flatter, until in the Everglades park the height above the ocean can be measured in inches.

Geologists said the slow ground flow of water from the teacup lake southward to the ocean was what made the everglades a swamp.

From Miami to Naples is about 110 miles by a highway called the Tamiami Trail. The trail borders the north edge of the park. Much of it runs along the top of a dike.

It is this dike, the naturalists say, that stopped the southward flow of water. There are a few gates in the dike that are opened now and then so the water can get through. But it is not enough, according to the men who run the park.

Four years ago Florida rainfall diminished.

Soon you could kick up dust in the Everglades. The "river of grass," a 20 to 30 mile wide water channel, averaging two to three feet deep and chocked from bank to bank with malted milk colored sawgrass, became a dusty prairie.

At its dryest, in the winter of 1964-65, the "river" caught fire in many places. A daily haze lay between south Florida and the sun.

Park officials blamed the Army Corps of Engineers and the flood control district. The district and state officials blamed the Department of the Interior for not taking steps to preserve water, for not building some sort of reservoir to use in dry times.

Finally the Corps of Engineers announced a new study was underway to determine how to prevent such a thing from happening again. This study will take some time, according to the engineers.

More immediate action was taken. The Corps of Engineers, early in February, began sluicing 130 million gallons of water more than usual each day into the Everglades. The water was drained from the lake.

Late in January the state requested a $3 million federal program to enlarge three major canals that carry water to the park.

The enlargement is to double the amount of water going into the swamp. The state would pay 20 per cent of the cost, the federal government the rest.

It rained a lot late last summer and there was a hurricane. Park officials say the land is reasonably wet for a winter—normally the dryest time of the year.

The snakes, alligators, lizards, deer, bugs, ibis, egrets, fish, orchids, ferns and mangrove are all content. For the time being.

Peru's Sailors Work Two Miles Above Sea

PUNO, Peru (AP) — Grimy lines thud onto the planking. The deck shudders as the screw starts to drive the hull through the water. A whistle roars. A searchlight slashes the darkness until it locates a white channel marker.

With that, the world's highest merchant marine sails again.

The five freighters and two launches of the Peruvian Corporation Limited do most of their sailing at night, crisscrossing Lake Titicaca, the world's highest navigable body of water.

The lake is 12,631 feet above sea level, the maps say, but the sailors say it gets higher. Mountain storms, they avow, kick up 20-foot waves.

"That's one thing that makes my job more difficult than those of the sea captains," said Capt. Carlos Oblitas Ballivian of the Inca.

The 670-ton Inca and two of her sister ships, the Ollanta and Coya, carry passengers between Puno on the Peruvian side of the big lake and Guaqui on the Bolivian side.

The Inca has carried some famous names since she was launched in 1905. A plaque in the salon commemorates the voyage of the Duke of Windsor "about 1935," as nearly as the crew can recall.

Today's passengers are mainly tourists, with a sprinkling of businessmen, mostly traveling on the Lima-Cuzco-La Paz leg of the South American tour down one coast, across and back up the other coast.

The passengers — there were 4,283 of them in 1965 — get what can be described literally as a breathtaking trip, thanks both to the lack of oxygen and the vastness of the lake and mountainous country which surrounds it.

The ships are supposed to begin the voyages about sunset and finish them about dawn, but the schedule is flexible enough that most passengers have enough daylight to see much of the big lake and such sights as fishermen in tiny, kayak-like boats made from reeds which grow along the edge of Titicaca.

On one recent trip, the Inca sailed well after 9 p.m. from Puno and put into Guaqui at mid-morning, giving the passengers about five hours after sunrise for their sightseeing. That seemed to be enough; most of them napped or read much of the morning and a bridge game was in progress in the salon most of the time between breakfast and landing.

The nighttime sailings are scheduled to take advantage of the daylight hours for loading and unloading the cargo which is the main reason for the voyages, officials of the corporation say. They report that the line loses money on its passenger service.

The Peruvian Corporation, a British-Canadian-Peruvian firm, also owns the Southern Railway in Peru and the Guaqui-La Paz railway in Bolivia. The ships serve as a link between the two.

The ships carried 106,000 tons of freight last year, mostly machinery and general merchandise going into Bolivia and minerals coming out.

"You might say that we operate the lake for the governments," says H. F. Matthews, general manager of the company. "We dredge the channels —the lake is very shallow for the most part—and we maintain the buoys marking the channels."

Oblitas says the shallow water is another thing that makes his job different, and in his view more perilous, than that of his seagoing colleagues. A captain in midocean can maneuver in a storm with little worry of going aground, Oblitas says; on Lake Titicaca there is always the danger of hitting a mudbank or island when bad weather obscures the channel markers.

First-class passengers are housed in clean but spartan staterooms equipped with double-deck bunks, washstands and with chamber pots beneath the lower bunks.

Second-class passengers are not entitled to sleeping quarters, but crewmen and officers tend to look the other way when travelers bed down in the dining room cushions and the couches and chairs in the salon—particularly if the passengers are students or Peace Corpsmen.

Film Wedding Told

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Ann Sheridan and actor Scott McKay have been married since June 5 and are honeymooning in Honolulu. The secret marriage was disclosed by a studio spokesman yesterday. He said the ceremony took place at the Bel-Air home of a mutual friend, television writer Robert Shaw.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Never worry about graying hair. It may make it worse and there are hundreds of tints, rinses, dyes, and bleaches on most drug store shelves. It is well to remember that the skin is getting old, too, and that new shade of hair may not compliment the complexion.

Most of us accept the silver threads with resignation, but many resort to a camouflage. Women are more cosmetically minded than men and as a rule abhor graying because it gives away their age. While men usually are unhappy about the change, they are more inclined to consider graying a mark of distinction.

TURNING WHITE overnight has been reported but the majority of such cases are untrue. The victim was said to have suffered from a severe nervous shock. More likely, he failed to apply the customary dyes because of a disrupted routine. It is interesting to note that overnight graying never happens to people we know who have had serious emotional catastrophies.

On the other hand, severe illness, chronic disease, protracted worry, or a long period of nervous exhaustion may hasten graying. It also has occurred several weeks after a shocking experience, but not overnight. After all, melanin pigment is distributed throughout the length of the hair shaft—a dead structure. Grayness appears only as the hair develops.

VERY LITTLE is known about this common condition. Grayness often is inherited and develops prematurely among certain families. Now and then gray hair darkens spontaneously and there is no explanation for this phenomenon. Any remedy tried at this time is given credit and some users become so enthusiastic about their good fortune that they attempt to market the product.

Viamins have been considered because 3 per cent are helped by a vitamin B extract. Para-aminobenzoic acid, a constituent of vitamin B complex, was touted for a short time as being capable of restoring pigment to the hair. It worked on rats. Unfortunately, most studies on animal hair are not appilcable to man.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

CHANGING PHYSICIANS

A reader writes: When does one change doctors? I like the idea of a family physician and dislike changing, but I have some doubts about mine.

REPLY

DYEING AFTER SURGERY

Mrs. E. J. writes: Is it safe for a woman to continue dyeing her hair after a cataract operation?

REPLY

Yes, because there is no relationship between hair dyeing and cataract formation.

SEX RATIO IN CANCER

Mrs. M. W. writes: Do more women die of cancer than men?

REPLY

Yes, according to the latest statistics. But when we consider that there are more women than men in this age group, the proportion of fatalities from disease is approximately the same.

Closed-Circuit Video Tried For Psychiatry

By JUDITH RANDAL
Advance News Service

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Closed-circuit television is entering the practice of psychiatry.

For more than a year, 300 mental patients at Nebraska's Norfolk State Hospital have been using such a system to consult their doctors 112 miles away at the University of Nebraska medical school in Omaha.

Dr. Emmet Kenney, a school psychiatrist, says the system has worked successfully. There have been fewer episodes of violence and less need for restraining patients. Indeed, areas which formerly were locked are now open wards.

The $50,000 TV link was established because the hospital was down to only four resident psychiatrists and short of nurses. The psychiatrist said the system holds promise for other remotely-situated mental hospitals which usually are short-staffed.

Reporting to a meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn. here, Dr. Kenney said that television was first tried with seriously disturbed women and is now being used with men and the mentally retarded as well. The sessions begin with two-way conferences between a doctor in the Omaha studio and the aides and a supervising nurse at the hospital. Later there is time for conferences with individual patients.

The emphasis is on training the hospital aides to be therapists. They are encouraged to ask questions and to motivate the patients toward self care. The "programs" are on the air for a total of about seven hours a week.

One of the project's biggest advantages, Dr. Kennedy says, is that patients and staff can be sure of the undivided attention of the psychiatrist. He is alone in the studio, but might be interrupted were he actually present on the ward. Once a month however the Omaha physicians do travel to Norfolk for face-to-face consultations.

Another psychiatrist, Dr. Louis J. West of the University of Oklahoma school of medicine, urged members of the association to push for abolition of the death penalty which remains in 37 states. In a survey of prison wardens across the country, he said 90 per cent agreed that capital punishment should go.

Moreover, he said there was increasing evidence that the death penalty is no deterrent to crime and often "consciously or unconsciously invites violence."

Studies in Britain, for example, show that nearly half of all murders are followed by suicide attempts, nearly two-thirds of them successful. The proportion of suicides following murder in Denmark is even higher. And there are cases in this country, he said, where persons killed strangers because they were "tired of living" and wanted the death penalty.

Furthermore, the death sentence is wasteful. What with the endless appeals of legal machinery, one man's execution recently cost California more than $500,000. Add to this the cruelty of execution stays with their torment of hope and repeated countdowns and the process is as degrading to society as it is to the murderer, he said.

Criminologists are increasingly aware, Dr. West added, that the death penalty is unfair. Members of minority groups receive it the most, while white Protestants with money often go free.

Another source of cruelty and expense is the fact that men on death row frequently become seriously disturbed, requiring psychiatric care.

Jack Ruby, murderer of Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged assassin of President John F. Kennedy, was cited as an example. Ruby's suspicious or paranoid state causes him to discharge one lawyer after the other. Dr. West said, dreadful delusions in the Dal-dreadful delusion in the Dallas County jail.

"And what is the psychiatrist to do with such a patient if and when he improves? Specify him as ready for death?"

In short, he maintains, capital punishment neither protects society nor facilitates justice.

MEMORIES OF THE MET

Considered "uptown" when it opened its doors in 1883, the Metropolitan marked the passage of the theatrical district from the "20 streets" to the 40s and 50s. Here it is as it appeared during the early 1900's. At left is Enrico Caruso in character for role of "Pagliacci."

The great golden curtains of New York's grand old Metropolitan Opera House will ring down for a final time on April 16.

After 83 years of making musical and glamor history, the Met is moving. It opens in September in a brand new building located in the city's Lincoln Center complex.

It's probable that no other opera house, including the famed La Scala, has ever heard such vocal beauty. The luminaries who have raised their voices there are legendary in the annals of opera.

From opening night, on October 22, 1883, when Christine Nilsson and Italo Campanini appeared in Gounod's Faust, the roll of honor has included such names as Sembrich, Lilli Lehmann, the De Reszkes, Calve, Melba, Caruso, Martinelli, Farrar, Gigli, Chaliapin, Jeritza, Ponselle, Flagstad, Melchoir, Bjoerling and Pons down to the current favorites: Tabaldi, Callas, Tucker, Corelli and Merrill.

It was "home" base for Caruso. Martinelli sang there for 33 seasons. Puccini himself was on hand for the world premier of his "La Fanciulla del West."

The old Met was a place where offstage antics sometimes outdid those on stage, where the glitter of the opening night audiences in their opera finest sometimes drew more spectators than the opera itself, where the acoustics were superb, the sightlines horrible and the facilities for storing sets nonexistent.

Still, with all the disadvantages, there is hardly any person who has been there who doesn't say with nostalgia, "I've been to the Met."

Headstands and cartwheels, in and out of Met, by 1939 fan.

To amusement of her escort, this socialite added to Met's history of hijinks with leggy showing in 1947.

Novato Council To Purchase Two Parksites

The Novato City Council is scheduled to purchase two pieces of property for park purposes when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

A revised agreement with William H. Napier for a road easement on land to be purchased for Pioneer Memorial Park will be considered by the council.

Edward W. Adams, director of parks and recreation, will submit an agreement to purchase additional land adjacent to the Lions Club park below Stafford Dam.

The council will receive the first draft of a proposed motel-hotel tax similar to the one voted by Marin County. Other items to come before the council include acceptance of the new bridge over Warner Creek at South Novato Boulevard, abandonment of a portion of Olive Avenue, introduction of an ordinance requiring dedication of land for schools as authorized in the Kirk Law, and a revenue and expenditure report by finance officer Charles Foster.

Ex-Marinites Complete Global Sail

Dr. Robert L. Griffith, a veterinarian in Inverness until he went to sea in 1959, has completed what he believes to be a record trip around the world in a 53-foot yacht.

The trip included a shipwreck and three months of being stranded on an island in the South Pacific. Griffith, 50, his wife, Nancy, and 11-year-old son, Reid, made the trip from east to west, starting and ending in Argentina, traveling south of all continents.

The family trio left in December, 1963, on their yacht, the Awahane. After the Awahane went aground in January, 1964, on the Vahanga Island reef in the Tuamotus chain, they spent three months on the small atoll. Then Griffith had the Awahane II built in New Zealand, and continued his trip, which ended June 2 in Argentina.

Griffith's daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Eldred of Fairfax, said her father plans to sail up the coast of South America, and is expected to reach Marin in December.

Drake Elects Group For Football Yells

Juniors Lorrie Motta, Robyn McKinley, Dan Elliot, and Dave Kapranos, who called themselves We four, have been elected football yell leaders at Sir Francis Drake High School for next year.

Author To Appear

Author Leonard Wibberley, a former Independent-Journal editor, is scheduled to appear tonight at 10 o'clock on Channel 9 (KQED) in the discussion program, "Speculation," devoted to "The Art of Conversation."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Contemporory Plays Scheduled In Color

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —The ABC network has committed itself to monthly, two-hour color television productions of major, established, "contemporary" stage plays by the season after next—and perhaps earlier.

This pivotal step toward ending the famine for viewers who enjoy good drama—and comedy—is chiefly the result of two factors:

The better-than-expected rating gathered by CBS-TV's recent, acclaimed presentation of "Death of a Salesman." About 16 million persons are estimated to have watched this stage classic.

The fast-dwindling supply of movies for television.

ABC-TV says the properties being negotiated for its once-a-month entry, "Sunday Night at the Theater," include three Pulitzer Prize winners: "A Streetcar Named Desire" by Tennessee Williams, "The Diary of Anne Frank" by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, and "You Can't Take It with You" by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart.

Although the series is planned for the 1967-68 semester, the network says it is going to try to get one or two productions on the air in the coming season if the usual details can be worked out—and if sponsors of the Sunday night ABC-TV movie slot are agreeable.

In short, the monthly "Theater" presentations will, when scheduled, alternate regularly with the ABC-TV motion pictures, and take up some of the slack of the dwindling supply.

In the coming season, the same network will also offer the debut of a new weekly one-hour series of original dramas, musicals and documentaries entitled "ABC Stage 67," employing prominent talents.

ABC-TV said Monday that "Sunday Night at the Theater" will represent the "largest financial investment in television history for a series of live or taped dramas." The budget is estimated at about $625,000 per show. One of the factors that makes such thinking credible now is the tremendous cost of buying the top holdout movies.

In addition, ABC-TV now is in the process of merging with the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., a step which has sharply changed its position and former image as the smallest network.

The producer of "Sunday Night at the Theater" will be David Susskind's firm, which produced "Death of a Salesman" for CBS-TV.

Newspapers Said Good For Pupils

Hope Shackelford, who even watches "Batman" to find out what makes students tick, said yesterday that a texebook becomes quickly outdated for students but the newspaper "gives them something that will still be there when the last school bell has rung."

Addressing a conference on classroom use of the newspaper in Austin, Tex., Mrs. Shackelford said that when she asks students to look up something in a newspaper such as compound sentence, they exclaim:

"Wow, this is for real! They really use this goop you tell us about."

Two Get Treatment After Autos Collide

Mario J. Aquilino, 35, of 756 Beechnut Court, San Rafael, and Felix Watenberger, 55, of 301 Chapman Drive, Corte Madera, were taken to Marin General Hospital Saturday after the cars they were driving reportedly collided on Camino Alto near East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley at 7:43 p.m.

Aquilino told police he had pain in his right arm and cuts on his right shoulder and forehead. Watenberger reported pains in his neck and left knee.

Lion's Victim Seeks $3 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Model Nell Theobald, who was mauled by a lion during a publicity stunt in New York City, has filed a $3-million damage suit.

Miss Theobald, 22, charged in the New York State Supreme Court yesterday that the attack by the lion at the International Automobile Show caused permanent injuries.

She named a number of defendants, including the owner of the lion, the auto show and the Coliseum where the show was held last April.

Tomales High Construction Discussed

The Tomales High School District board does not know whether to go ahead with part of the rehabilitation of old Tomales High buildings or attempt to replace them with new ones.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. June 21 to wrestle with the problem. The county counsel has been asked to attend to give legal advice.

The problem arose because the low bid of Page Construction Co. of Novato for restoring the old buildings, was nearly $70,000 over the $175,000 in bonds voted by residents for the purpose.

The board asked legal advice from the county counsel on whether it could give Page a contract for the classroom wing but not the auditorium.

The board has adopted a tentative budget of $327,477 for fiscal 1967, which will call for a tax rate of approximately the same as the current $1.46, Supt. Anthony Matulich said.

Player Says He Doesn't Have 'Desire' This Year

By BOB GREEN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gary Player is a subdued, slightly fretful little warrior as he prepares for defense of his U.S. Open Golf title, the sharp edge of his desire dulled by his fantastic successes in 1965.

"I just haven't been playing enough golf," the black-clad little South African said yesterday after a practice round over the tight, tough Olympic Country Club.

"No, I don't have the desire," he admitted. "Certainly not the desire I had last year. Last year I wanted it so badly. I was so keyed up—more so than I have ever been in my life.

"Now, this year, it's all different. I have achieved my ambition. The desire isn't there, there, certainly isn't so intense.

"I'm not playing well. But that's because I'm not playing enough. There are so many other things I have to do now. There was this department store tour. Five cities in five days. Try that some time.

"It's just that I'm not getting enough golf. I haven't played a tournament since the Memphis Open. That hurts the desire, too. The more you play, the more you want to win. The less you play, the less you care."

Player's victory in the Open last year made him the third man in history to win golf's big four — the Open, the Masters, the British Open and the PGA. The others were Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan. Player also copped the Australian Open, the World Series of Golf, and the Canada Cup—both team and individual—for one of the most spectacular showings in years.

He played his fourth round over hilly, tree-lined, 6,727-yard Olympic Club course yesterday and was far from satisfied.

"I really don't know what's wrong," he said. "But I'm playing very poorly."

None of the other top choices in the 151-man field would admit to good rounds, either.

"Just so so," said Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio strongboy who may be the favorite.

"I can't keep it out of the rough," said 53-year-old Ben Hogan, the four-time winner who was extended a special invitation for this tournament, which opens Thursday.

"I still get tired after a couple of rounds," said Arnold Palmer, plagued with a balky back injury. "It's feeling better, though."

All agreed on the par 70 layout that winds through, around and over the San Francisco hills. It's tough.

"The rough is the worse I've ever seen," Nicklaus said. "It's knee-deep. You have to keep the ball on the fairways. I've had only two birdies in three days, shooting about 73."

There are 43,000 trees clustered around the extremely tight fairways and tiny greens, but Nicklaus and Player both agreed that the rough would be a greater factor.

"The player who hits it straight and putts well will win it," Player said. Nicklaus, sharing the same cubicle in the clubhouse, nodded. "Sure, you still have to hit for distance, but it's the straight shots that will win this one.

"You put it in the rough," Nicklaus continued, "and you're lost. Particularly a guy like Gary or Deane Beman (the crew-cut little amateur from Bethesda, Md.) They get in the rough and nobody can find them."

At that time he hadn't even noticed that he had been assigned locker No. 13.

Golfer May Plead Insanity; Boccabella's Life Of Riley

A FUNNY thing happened to San Rafael attorney Bob Corlett during the Meadow Club's invitational golf tournament last weekend. He scored a hole-in-one on the 11th hole.

What's so funny? Well, a brand new Buick was a tournament prize for anyone shooting a hole-in-one. On the EIGHTH hole.

Ha-ha-ha-ha. Bang! Mr. Corlett may plead insanity.

Yesterday, for example, he arose late in his room at the Jack Tar Hotel, moseyed out to Candlestick, took a couple of dozen batting practice swing, then retired to the bench to watch his teammates battle the Giants.

This daily routine, sans the batting practice, has been Boccabella's life for more than a month. Throw in the excitement of considerable travel throughout the nation and good pay, fine hotels, etc. and it adds up to a dream situation.

But Johnny Boccabella would rather be working for his pay. He's getting restless. It's been a little more than a month—May 6 to be exact—since the Marin County born and raised slugger dislocated his left elbow in a game against the Mets in New York.

"I think I might be taken off the disabled list by next week—I hope," Johnny Sock said yesterday at Candlestick. "My arm is still bent and weak," he said, "but I've been taking batting practice the last four games and it feels a lot better. It doesn't hurt when I swing. I've been doing a lot of exercises to regain my strength."

Boccabella, the Marin Catholic and Santa Clara grad who can catch, play first or the outfield for the Cubbies, says it's been either a feast or famine with his teammates this season en roue to their miserable last place standing in the National League. "Mistakes have cost us," he smiled, adding, under questioning, that Manager Leo Durocher has kept a stiff upper lip through the adversity. "He's held up remarkably well," said John, offering, "He is a tremendous guy —a dynamic person."

YOU CAN HAVE your old Sandy Koufax and Juan Marichal.

The guy I have in mind has a 7-0 won-lost record this season including four shutouts. In his last three games he has pitched a no-hitter, one-hitter and no-hitter, holding the opposition scoreless in that remarkable streak.

In spite of these glittering achievements on the mound, the professional scouts will have to wait some time before they start bidding for this ace's services. Dave Cohen is only 10 years old, a 73-pound (soaking wet) fourth grader at Larkspur-Corte Madera School who compiled his record for the undefeated Fugate Chevron team in the L-C.M. Little League minor division.

ITS GREAT record (24 wins in the last 26 games) has earned the Litchfield semi-pro baseball team of San Rafael a junket to Grand Junction, Colo., next month.

Manager Joe Anselmo's Marin and San Francisco champions will battle the powerful Grand Junction Eagles, perennial national semi-pro contenders, in a three-game series July 15-16-17.

Anselmo and team sponsor Irving B. "Whitey" Litchfield hope this top-flight competition will give their boys a lift toward the national semi-pro tournament in Wichita, Kansas later in the summer where first prize is $10,000. Which kind of separates the semis from the pros.

Mrs. Flinn Wins At Indian Valley

Mrs. Vern Flinn was point-par winner Saturday at the Indian Valley Business Women's Golf Club tourney, with 36 points.

Next were Chris Griffin, Mrs. Robert Keller and Mrs. Carl Forsman tied at 35, Rae Purdy and Mrs. Thomas Gibson tied at 34, and Dicie Gates at 33.

Bob Shaw Wins For Mets, 5-2

Shaw, who flew East to New York with his dog Bo tucked into a crate beneath his seat, was traded to the New York Mets by San Francisco last Friday.

While Bo was some sort of celebrity with the Giants and had a free run of the clubhouse, his master was in the doghouse. Shaw, the longest spring holdout in the National League, finally agreed to a $40,000 contract a week before the season began.

The 32-year-old righthander, however, couldn't condense five weeks of spring training into one week and fell to a 1-4 record with a 6.19 earned run average, much to the displeasure of San Francisco manager Herman Franks.

Although Bo isn't too welcome in the New York clubhouse, Shaw made a home for himself last night by pitching the Mets to a 5-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Making his New York debut, Shaw allowed only five hits in hurling his first complete game this season.

"Just say I'm happy to leave San Francisco and I'm delighted to be here," commented Shaw, who won 16 games in 1965. "This is the fifth time I've been traded and each time it was after a salary squabble. The thing to do now is prove they made a mistake."

Fisher's counterpart in the second game of the doubleheader —Jack Hamilton —wasn't nearly so successful as the Cards stopped the Mets 4-1.

Shaw, winning his first game in two months, settled down after allowing the Cards a triple, two singles and two runs in the first inning. The Garden City, N.Y. native received the home run support of Bill Murphy and Bob Taylor, including the latter's three-run homer in the sixth inning.

Emerson Is Wimbledon No. 1 Seed

LONDON (AP) — Defending champion Roy Emerson of Australia was named today the top seeded player for the Wimbledon tennis tournament as two Americans were listed among the eight seeds.

Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., was seeded No. 6, and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, No. 8.

Wimbledon starts next Monday. Emerson, 29, has won the men's title for the last two years.

Officials of the All-England Club, which runs the Wimbledon tournament, placed three other Australians in the seeded list — Tony Roche at No. 2, Fred Stolle, No. 3, and John Newcombe at No. 5. The others are Manuel Santana, Spain, No. 4, and Cliff Drysdale, South Africa, No. 7.

Two Americans were in the eight. Mrs. Billie Jean Moffitt King of Long Beach, Calif., was seeded fourth and Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., fifth. The others are 3, Mrs. Ann Jones, Britain; 6, Annette Van Zyl, South Africa; 7, Francoise Durr, France, and 8, Norma Baylon, Argentina.

Pitcher Frank Burch Signs Astro Contract

Frank Burch of San Rafael, former Marin Catholic High School star and University of San Francisco pitching standout, was signed to a bonus contract by the Houston Astros yesterday.

Terms and details of the contract were not disclosed.

Burch, who received the Harney Award presented to the outstanding scholar-athlete at USF, will report to Bismarck, N.D. in the Class A Northern League tomorrow. The league, composed primarily of college signees, will start play next Monday.

Burch, a righthander, compiled a 6-3 record for USF and led the team in strikeouts with 100 in 75⅔ innings. At Marin Catholic, Burch led the Wildcats to their first Marin County Athletic League title by recording a 5-2 record in 1962.

"Frank is definitely a major league prospect," Anselmo said. "He has a fine fast ball and a good curve and excellent control."

Burch played for Anselmo's Litchfield's team, as did pitcher Rich Nye who signed with the California Angels yesterday.

Burch's signing makes the fourth member of Litchfield's to sign with the Astros. Already signed are pitchers Ron Cole and Steve Miller and shortstop Jerry Ard.

JACK SIMS
Athletic director

'Ang' Colombo Moves To S.R. 'Front Office'

Angelo "Ang" Colombo, athletic director at San Rafael High School for the past 10 years, moves out of the athletic department into the "front office" for next school year.

Colombo, dean of the San Rafael High School District coaches will be taking over a new position for the 1966-67 fall semester, that of dean of student activities. A former basketball and baseball coach at San Rafael High, he has been in the athletic department since 1947.

Jack Sims, a member of the S.R. athletic staff for the past 10 years, will take over the job as athletic director for the Bulldogs' sports program. Sims will still be the varsity baseball coach.

Moving into Sims' job as physical education department chairman will be football coach Bob Muster.

The changes actually go into effect now, as Sims will have the responsibility of scheduling the interscholastic sports activities for San Rafael High, leading off with the 1966 football season which starts next September.

Paul Taylor Wins In Mill Valley Golf

Paul Taylor won the Professional's Day Tournament at the Mill Valley Golf Club Sunday with an 89-19-64 score.

Taylor edged out Bill D'Alvy, Chet Howlett and Keeler Nash by one stroke in the tournament held in honor of professional Malcolm Brown. In third were Syl Auteri, Joe Louw, Gene Quinn and Dick Simpson followed by Pete Fisher and Tom McAuley.

San Francisco Is Back On Top

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Without Gaylord Perry the San Francisco Giants played .500 ball. With him, they look like a solid contender once again for the National League pennant.

This was shown yesterday when Perry pitched seven innins against the Chicago Cubs for his seventh victory against a single loss. Lindy McDaniel hurled the last two innings and completed an 8-0 shutout of the last-place cubs.

Perry was removed by Giants manager Herman Franks because it was the right-hander's first appearance in 20 days, and the temperature reached 91 degrees, the hottest June 13 in San Francisco since 1874. He jammed his left ankle May 24 sliding into second base and went on the 15-day disabled list three days after that.

"I could have gone nine if the game had been close," Perry said afterwards. "But with a big lead like that, it didn't make any sense."

After Perry left the club May 24, the Giants won 10 and lost 10, dropping out of first place. That's how important last years 8-12 pitcher has become. The Giants went back into first place as the Los Angeles Dodgers lost to the Houston Astros 9-6 in 11 innings last night.

Perry's trouble in 1965 was the home run ball. But he has not given up one homer yet this year.

"That guy's always shown me more than anyone on the Giants staff," said Ron Santo, the Cubs leading hitter. "He's got everything—the fast ball, the curve, the slider. His change might not be as good as (Juan) Marichal's."

The 27-year-old Perry, who hasn't lost since May 15, gave up three of the five Chicago singles, walked one, struck out four and never allowed a Cub past first.

"I was just on crutches for two days," Perry disclosed. "The doctor said it would be better for the ankle.

Perry rejoined the Giants in Philadelphia at the beginning of the month and started running again last week at Houston.

Although it didn't affect his pitching yesterday, the injury slowed him on the basepaths. He singled and doubled, the single starting a six-run rally in the third inning.

The Giants scored the six runs after two were out off starter and loser Ernie Broglio and reliever Fergus Jenkins.

Perry moved to second on Len Gabrielson's single and scored on a single by Willie Mays. McCovey, who hit his 11th homer in the second for the first Giants' run, was intentionally walked, and Jim Hart Singled in two more runs, bringing in Jenkins.

Jenkins walked Tom Haller, loading the bases again. Ollie Brown cleared them with his first double of the season, but ended the inning when he was thrown out at third trying to stretch it into a triple.

The Giants were to call on Ron Herbel 1-0 to face the Cubs' Ken Holtzman (2-6).

Angels Sign Cal's Ace

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—The California Angels have signed Andy Messersmith, their number one draft choice, and shipped him off to the high minor leagues, Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

Messersmith, a 20-year-old righthander, posted an 8-2 record this spring with the University of California at Berkeley. His 1.63 earned run average was the best in the tough California Intercollegiate Baseball Association.

The prospect, who hails from Western High in Anaheim, the Angels' new home, reports to Seattle this Thursday.

HANLEY

Now that one-third of the 1966 National League race has been run, it is time to re-evaluate the outcome in October.

The Dodgers still look like the pick of the lot. They may not "run away and hide" as Maury Wills said was a possibility. But the defending champs are the class club because of their pitching depth and Wills himself.

There is little danger of the Dodgers ever going into a big dip with their great southpaw Sandy Koufax acting as a stopper. Conversely, the Dodgers have the capability of taking off on periodic win streaks with Koufax, Don Drysdale, Claude Osteen and Don Sutton.

No other club in the league has four frontline starters to compare with the Dodger quartet. And no other club has a bullpen that is the equal of Ron Perranoski, Phil Regan, Joe Moeller, Nick Willhite and Jim Brewer. The Dodgers don't even seem to miss Bob Miller who hasn't done much relief work this year after three workhorse seasons during which his ERA never was over 3.00. Miller suffered a pulled elbow muscle last August.

NOT ONLY is the Dodger starting quartet perfectly balanced with two southpaws and two righthanders but the balance extends to the bullpen with an equal division of southpaws and righthanders.

This year's Dodger pitching staff definitely is the best since the team moved from Brooklyn to Los Angeles in 1958. If it escapes injuries, the Dodgers are going to be very tough to beat.

A BUNT, bloop and sacrifice team last season, the Dodgers have more punch this year but it is Wills who sparks the Dodger attack. If there is any doubt of that just recall what happened when the Dodgers and Giants met in their first 1966 series at Candlestick Park early in May.

Wills, because of aching thighs which he punishes with his stealing slides, missed the first two games against the Giants who won them handily, 8-1 and 6-1. Wills returned to the lineup for the third game and the Giants squeeked to a 9-8 win in the 10th.

WITH THEIR captain in his customary leadoff role, the Dodgers look like champs. With Wills out of the lineup, the Dodger scoring ability is reduced 50 per cent.

In the just-concluded three-game Dodger-Giant series at Candlestick, Wills started a four-run sixth inning rally in the first game with a topped single down the third base line. He tied up the second game with a two-run seventh inning double and then bunted the winning run into scoring position in the ninth.

WILLS IS an indispensable man in the 1966 bid of the Dodgers to repeat as world champs. He is the salt and pepper of any Dodger offense. Excluding Koufax, Wills is the one man Dodgers cannot aford to lose to injury.

BUCS EDGE REDS,

Astros Beat L.A.

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that National League pitchers have turned Donn Clendenon's power off, they've turned Roberto Clemente's on.

And it's proved a shocking experience for them.

Billy McCool was the latest victim of the Clemente explosion as the Pittsburgh star lashed a three-run homer that gave the Pirates a 5-4 victory over Cincinnati last night.

The homer was the ninth for the flashy right fielder this season, just one short of his total last year, and the runs batted in gave him 36 for the season, fifth best in the league and more than half as many as the 65 he had in 1965.

Why the sudden power surge for Clemente who has built three batting championships on hits that stay inside the park?

"Clendenon isn't like he was last year," the 31-year-old Puerto Rican explained after helping the Reds to their 14th loss in 18 games. "If he comes back again, I'll start punching the ball again. But I've been taking a good cut and swinging hard."

Clendenon was the Pirates' second leading slugger last year but has gotten off to a slow start with only four homers and 22 runs driven in.

Clemente, meanwhile, is headed for his best slugging year. In 11 major league seasons he's average 11 homers and 66 rbi while batting .309.

This season is just slightly more than one-third gone, and he's rapidly approaching those figures as well as hitting .330, the second best average in the league.

His latest effort was a dramatic performance. McCool had just relieved starter Joey Jay in the eighth inning, coming on with two men aboard and the Reds leading 4-2.

McCool would have preferred facing Clendenon.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco crushed Chicago 8-0, Houston trimmed Los Angeles 9-6 in 11 innings, Philadelphia swept Atlanta 6-2 and 6-4 and New York defeated St. Louis 5-2 before bowing 4-1.

In the American League, Baltimore walloped New York 8-0, Detroit edged Washington 4-3, Minnesota defeated Kansas City 6-1 after losing 5-2 and Chicago downed California 5-1, then lost 2-1. Rain halted Boston at Cleveland.

Before Clemente's homer, the Reds had built their 4-2 lead on Vada Pinson's three-run homer in the fourth inning and his run-scoring single in the fifth.

Before Clemente's homer, the Reds had built their 4-2 lead on Vada Pinson's three-run homer in the fourth inning and his run-scoring single in the fifth.

Joe Morgan tripled across two runs and scored on Sonny Jackson's single in the 11th inning for Houston's triumph over Los Angeles. The Astros had exploded for six runs in the eighth inning, three on Felix Mantilla's homer, and a 6-4 lead, but the Dodgers tied it on Tommy Davis' homer and Willie Davis' run-producing single.

Larry Jackson pitched a four-hitter in Philadelphia's opening-game victory over Atlanta. Clay Dalrymple sparked the Phillies' attack with a homer and a single, driving in three runs.

Jack Brandt triggered the Phillies in the second game, hitting a homer in the third and tripling across the first run in a five-run fifth. Rich Allen added a two-run double in the fifth.

Bob Taylor backed Bob Shaw's five-hit, New York Met debut with a three-run homer in the sixth inning. Bill Murphy also homered for the Mets. It was Shaw's first game with the Mets after being sold by the San Francisco Giants.

St. Louis won the nightcap, getting two singles and a triple from Lou Brock, who also stole two bases and scored twice. Three Cardinal pitchers scattered seven hits, including Ken Boyer's homer.

Spaniard, Frenchman Rated Threats In Peacock Tennis

El Matador Gemino Has Good Record

In his amateur days, Andres Gemino was the greatest thing in Spain since El Cid.

The 28-year-old Spaniard became a national hero in a country which, outside of bullfighters, is not overflowing in outstanding athletes. During the 1958 season, he defeated Neale Fraser, Roy Emerson, Earl Buchholz and Barry MacKay to give Spanish tennis a big lift.

Gemino, although popular and a consistent winner, never reached the top of the amateur ranks, through no fault of his own. He broke a leg in 1956 just when he was expected to hit it big internationally, then broke a wrist just before the Wimbledon Tournament in 1959.

EL MATADOR

Although the big titles eluded him, Gemino, who is nicknamed "El Matador," compiled a sparkling Davis Cup record, winning most of his matches.

Gemino turned pro in 1960, and he has been no slouch, finishing second to the great Pancho Gonzales in the 1961 tennis world series.

Spain has another hero now, Manuel Santana, who is stirring up talk in amateur circles, but nobody has forgotten Gemino, who is doing his own stirring in pro tennis circles.

PIERRE BARTHES
The youngest

Berthes Is Youngest Pro, Could Upset

The youngest player in the tournament also may be one of the most dangerous.

Pierre Barthes, a 24-year-old Frenchman, made the jump into professional tennis quickly. Barthes, who stopped Spanish star Manuel Santana in 1965, jumped into the pro circles because he wanted to play the very best.

He has been a professional for only six months but has already surprised everybody with victories over Earl Buchholz and Rod Laver on successive days.

ONE OF FINEST

One of the finest players in France as an amateur, Barthes also has victories over Lew Hoad and Andres Gemino and additional wins over Laver and Buchholz.

His powerful serve makes him a constant threat. It is considered one of the most dangerous in the game.

Barthes may be a newcomer, but he has already shown that he is in the "big money" game for keeps.

A Bad Day For Pitcher Bo Belinsky

The controversial hurler was sent back to the minors yesterday to make room for pitcher Ed Roebuck, recalled by the Philadelphia Phillies from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Belinsky was sent to San Diego after losing two games for the Phils without a victory.

The 29-year-old pitcher, who listed his home uddress as Hollywood, Calif., was in his hotel room packing his clothing for the trip last night when a motorcycle crashed into the front of his expensive convertible on the hotel parking lot.

Police said the accident damaged the auto extensively. Belinsky said the Phillies were to have sent the car to him in California by freight.

Five Marin Youngster Advance In Net Tourney

Mark Vance, San Anselmo, defeated Mike Hotaling, Concord, 6-0, 6-1 in the boys 18 singles, while San Rafael's Peter Youtz lost to Steve Newbrough, Bakersfield, 6-1, 6-3, in the same division.

In the boys 16 singles, Barry Brink, Mill Valley brushed aside Bob Wynne, Alameda, 6-0, 6-1 and Mike Machette, Belvedere, blanked Ed Scott, Pebble Beach, 6-0, 6-0.

In the boys 12 singles, Ray Moffat, Mill Valley, ousted Robert Fisher, 7-5, 6-4, Dave Ford of Mill Valley lost in the Boys 10 singles to Roger Tout, Stockton, 6-1, 6-2. Andy Moffat, Ray's brother, beat Eugene Kilgore of Belvedere, 6-1, 6-0, in Boys 14.

In the Girls 14 singles, Pamela Winslow, Tiburon, lost to Laurie Roantree, Atherton, 6-2, 6-2.

More Trades For Boston, Kansas City

COMBINED AP & UPI

BOSTON — The Boston Red Sox, making their second major trade in 12 hours, shipped right-hander Earl Wilson to the Detroit Tigers today for veteran outfielder Don Demeter and a minor leaguer to be named later.

In addition, the Sox assigned the contract of outfielder Joe Christopher to Syracuse, the Tigers' affiliate in the International League.

The A's handed pitchers Rolland Sheldon and John Wyatt and outfielder Jose Tartabull to Boston late yesterday for outfielder Jim Gosger and pitchers Ken Sanders and Guido Grilli.

The trade marked the fourth major deal of the season for Kansas City in which the A's have given up seven men.

Last week Kansas City exchanged starting pitcher Fred Talbot and catcher Bill Bryant with the New York Yankees for outfielder Roger Repoz and pitchers Bill Stafford and Gil Blanco.

The trade announced in Boston came in the wake of a six-player swap with Kansas City last night.

Early NCAA Baseball Showdown

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Ohio State Coach Marty Karow gambled and won, saving ace pitcher Steve Arlin for the starting job against Southern California tonight in an early showdown involving the nation's two top teams at the 20th NCAA basball tournament.

Arlin pitched to the last three batters in wrapping up Ohio State's 4-2 first-round victory over Oklahoma State. The big right-hander with a 9-1 record and 103 strikeouts in 83 1-3 innings will start for the second-ranked Big Ten champs against Top-ranked USC, however.

Southern Cal, 6-2 winner over North Carolina behind John Stewart, will start either lefty John Herbst, 11-3, or right-hander Ray Lamb, 8-5.

Ohio State stands 23-5 and has 18 straight games without a loss, only a scoreless tie marring the record since its last defeat April 2. USC, 43-7 against college foes, has won 12 straight since its last defeat April 26.

The winner of their showdown at 8:30 p.m., CST, will have the inside track for the college world series crown. Texas, 5-1 winner over third-ranked Arizona, will start right-hander Bob Wells, 7-3, against St. John's of New York in the 6 p.m. game.

St. John's, 5-3 winner over Northeastern of Boston on a three-run triple by Richie Freund in the eighth, will start right-hander Walt Witowski, 3-1, and a 0.90 ERA.

Swimmers Bring Home Jr. Olympics Awards

The Marin Pirates Swim Club led a strong Marin County contingent with five individual place winners and a relay team place winner in the Age Group Junior Olympic Swim Meet at Arden Hills, Sacramento, last weekend.

Fifty-five Marin County swimmers had qualified for the huge meet and 15 of them scored in 21 events.

Carolyn Hill (MPSC) brought back Marin's only first place, winning the girls 10 and under 50-yard freestyle. She also finished third in the 100-yard freestyle.

The Ann Curtis Swim Club had one place winner who scored in three events. Rick De Mont took second in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle in the boys 10 and under division and finished fourth in the 200-yard freestyle.

The girls 11 and 12 200-yard medley relay team of the San Rafael Swim Club finished fourth. Jo Hislop, Joan Morehouse, Mary Andrews, and Katie Parnow swam for the team.

Others scoring for the San Rafael Swim Club were Tami McDuffie, 4th, girls 10 and under 50-yard breaststroke; Tom Panages, 6th, boys 13 and 14 100-yard breaststroke; Jo Hislop, 6th, girls 11 and 12 100-yard backstroke and Kim Knudsen, girls 11 and 12 100-yard breaststroke.

Robin Bachrach scored in three events for the Marin Pirates Swim Club in the girls 11 and 12 division, finishing second in the 50-yard butterfly and the 100-yard butterfly and fourth in the 100-yard backstroke.

The MPSC girls 15-17 200-yard medley relay team of Dianne Johnston, Roberta Shistar, Candy Beeler and Terry Shistar finished fifth.

Candy Beeler also scored in three events of the girls 15 and 17 division, taking fifth in the 200-yard freestyle and the 200-yard individual medley and sixth in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Dianne Johnston finished fourth in the girls 15-17 500-yard freestyle and Roberta Shistar took fourth in the girls 15 and 17 200-yard butterfly.

Sailing Classes Begin Monday

The first 10-day session of summer "learn to sail" classes will get under way next Monday at the Greenbrae Marina.

Sponsored by the American Red Cross and The Sea Gals, three classes will be held daily—10 a.m. to noon; 12:45 to 2:45 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Requirements are a minimum age of 12 years and the passing of a 10-minute survival swimming test.

Registration will be performed at Terra Linda Community Pool, Sunday at 10 a.m.

Two Rec Teams Still Unbeaten

Burgar Construction and Conti Plumbing won their second straight games yesterday to remain undefeated in the San Rafael Youth Baseball League sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department.

Burgar, with pitcher Gary Welch striking out 12 batters and contributing a triple and a single to the attack, shot past Rotary-Native Sons, 10-3.

Ken Lazzarini, the winning pitcher in Saturday's opener, moved to third base and banged out two singles and a home run to help Conti to a 10-4 victory over United Market. Bruce Maglione was the winner.

WHITHER MILL VALLEY?

Survey Asks Town To 'Come Alive'

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Mill Valley is a fine place to live but it should "come alive" as far as some business aspects are concerned.

Answers, compiled by Mrs. Robert Mountjoy and Mrs. John K. Robinson of Mill Valley, include:

Shops should be open on week ends, as in Carmel. Quality restaurants should be tied in with an Alpine-style hotel or motel. "We need one more of each kind of store to develop some slight amount of competition."

There was general agreement that enough outlets for groceries, drugs, clothing, hardware, variety stores, children's shoes, pet supplies, florists, gasoline and auto repairs, furniture, stationery, hairdressers, gifts and laundries are available, although some could stand more competition.

Needed, however, the people said, are stores for sporting goods, more specialty foods, some less expensive children's clothing, more services.

Some complained that "prices are too high" and there is often a poor choice of merchandise.

Two-thirds of the persons think parking, store display, traffic circulation are generally good. However, many suggest improving city entrances, putting utility lines underground, and developing outdoor restaurants and wildlife observation areas.

One-third would make major changes: Move the bus depot, install a mall, condense the shopping area at Locust, and revamp parking methods. Trying free parking from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. was suggested.

The bus station parking lot is unsightly, some said, and many stores need painting and cleaning.

Under ideas for changes and development, these proposals were made:

Encourage hikers, theater people, restaurant clientele for quality restaurants; install a mall, more trees along city approaches, fountains, permanent flower beds and benches; move the bus loading site to a side street; keep bus station rest rooms clean and erect a kiosk or billboard for directions to attractions; reopen the railroad between Sausalito and Mill Valley on weekends.

"Don't" included: Don't let Mill Valley lose its "uniqueness" in the name of progress.

Specific comments included "no signal" or "chimes" on top the City Hall for a time signal; "nothing, it's wonderful" to the question what should be done to the city esthetically, and "more flowers, a la Switzerland, in downtown area."

Others said: "For heavens sake don't encourage maximum building; all problems will get worse the bigger we get. Let's stop now and enjoy what we have." "This is primarily a residential community and should remain so." "We don't need tourist trade; Sausalito has that."

One person wrote: "Congratulations on your questionnaire. In all the years we have lived here, this is the first time we have been invited to voice our opinion on these matters."

Billiard Parlor Plans Revealed

Town and Country Billiards will open two places of business in Marin, in Sausalito and Kentfield, within the next five weeks.

The establishments will feature billiards, and music and will serve alcoholic beverages.

National Recreation Sales of San Francisco is remodeling the building at 1417 Bridgeway in Sausalito, the former Attell's furniture store, and will locate in Kentfield at 941 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The Sausalito business is to open about July 1 and the Kentfield operation in about mid-July, according to Alec Liu, sales company president.

Food Firm Sale Set

CHICAGO — Consolidated Foods Corp. plans to acquire Idaho Frozen Foods, Inc., a processor of frozen potato products, for common stock with a market value of approximately $3.4 million.

Polar Flights Set

Polar flights daily from San Francisco to London are scheduled by Pan American Airways, starting Aug. 1. Four flights each week will fly on from London to Paris.

Market Closes High After Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher in a burst of buying today after the Dow Jones industrial average cleared the upside barrier of 900.

The market was down in early trading as profits were taken on the rally of the pervious two sessions.

Airlines were leaders in the rebound. Pan American, American, United and Eastern all were up 1 or 2 points in late dealings.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.8 million shares compared with 7.6 million yesterday.

A number of the glamor stocks, particularly airlines, snapped back from early selling and moved ahead. Gains of more than a point were posted for Pan American, American and Eastern.

The over-all market still had many soft spots. All Big Three motors were fractional losers. American Telephone and Jersey Standard were easy. Eastman Kodak was off about a point, but Anaconda was ahead nearly 3. The top three steelmakers lost fractions. Oils were irregulary higher, with Indiana Standard up more than a point.

New York Central, down 2, an Pennsylvania Railroad, off nearly 2 were reacting to opposition to their merger registered by Norfolk and Western.

Avco, off nearly a point, looked like the day's volume leader, chiefly because of a single block of 89,800 shares. Benguet, up a fraction, was giving Avco a close battle on volume.

Motorola sank 3 and there were losses of a point or more by many issues, including National Biscuit, Pitney - Bowes, Teledyne, Texas Instruments and White Consolidated.

Up a point or better were Braniff Airways, General Instrument, MCA and Collins Radio.

Differing Views On U.S. Economy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Current perplexing business trends are at least letting you separate the pessimists from the optimists. Mostly they use the same sets of figures and come up with different interpretations or presentations.

The pessimist says the economy is slowing down. The optimist says it is still growing but at a more moderate and therefore healthier pace.

The pessimist says retail sales turned down in April and May. The optimist says consumers still are buying more than a year ago.

AUTO DROP

The worrier points to a drop in auto sales and production. The booster says sales are still higher than in most previous years — and another model year is just around the corner.

The same division in attitude determines how you view the latest unemployment estimates. You can take alarm that the jobless rate rose in May. Or you can take comfort in the still rising total of those with jobs.

The stock market's steep drop and then its uncertain backing and filling can be viewed as a barometer of stormy weather ahead for the economy. Or it can be accepted as a healthy cooling of speculative fever.

INFLATION HERE

The more conservative minded will tell you that inflation is here and that the threat of still more is as strong as ever. Others will tell you that the inflation threat has been curbed by the healthier pace the economy is now setting.

High interest rates are seen as hurting borrowers, especially smaller businesses. But another view of the tightness of credit is that this curtails some dangerous risk taking and thus helps keep the economy on an even keel. And the man giving to look on the bright side of things is sure to stress that the savers are profiting from higher interest rates—and furnishing the capital funds that will finance future economic growth.

ROAD BLOCKS

The pessimist points to the road blocks that are beginning to trouble business expansion. He cites tightening supplies of materials, difficulties in getting deliveries, rising prices, skilled labor shortages, and competition of defense demands with civilian demands.

But the optimist views this with less alarm. He notes that business is still planning to spend more this year for plant and equipment than it did last.

Fog Prediction Idea Wins Award

WASHINGTON (AP)—A systematic method of predicting fog more accurately at West Coast terminals of Pacific Ai lines earned Donald E. Welch of San Francisco the Edgar S. Gorrell award of the Air Transport Assn. today.

Welch, PAL flight coordinator, developed a method of using the daily local observation for an airline terminal to yield a forecast of whether fog will form the following day, and the time at which fog will form and when it will dissipate.

His report told of using the Fresno Air Terminal as a pilot station, and of applying the system also at the San Francisco and Reno Terminals.

Army Tightens Enlisting Rules

New men entering the service no longer will be guaranteed specific assignments abroad under the overseas command enlistment option. These two changes take effect July 1 — a result of Viet Nam requirements.

Seaman Arrested After Knife Fray

Police said that at 5 p.m., Dodson was reported to have called Young a name and Young struck Dodson in the face with his fist. Dodson then allegedly pulled a knife and cut Young's hand.

Mill Valley's Youth Fete Attracts 5,000

An estimated 5,000 people attended the five-day long Mill Valley Optimist Club Youth-O-Rama, which ended Sunday.

"The fine participation means the club will be able to go ahead and construct fencing, two players' dugouts and raise the backdrop at the Optimist ball park," reported club president Albert Lourdeaux. Lourreaux thanked all those who participated in the annual event.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because they have dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Do not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

MRS. WALTER F. JOHNSON
Named to new position

Foundation Picks North Area Adviser

Mrs. Walter F. Johnson of San Anselmo has been appointed Northern California volunteer adviser for the National Foundation-March of Dimes, it was announced today.

Mrs. Johnson is chairman of the foundation's Marin chapter and has been a board member for 14 years. She has been county Mothers' March chairman five times.

In her new post, Mrs. Johnson will work with women's clubs and youth-serving organizations to develop educational projects on prenatal care, problems of birth defects and the help available to patients, families and communities through the March of Dimes.

Mill Valley Coed In College Rite

Miss Taylor, a 1962 graduate of Tamalpais High School, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Taylor of 30 Reno Road, Mill Valley. She will graduate cum laude and has won a Fulbright Fellowship to study next year at the National University in Tucuman, Argentina.

Mrs. Nancy Lewis Kleiber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lewis of 402 Alexander Avenue in Larkspur, will also be graduated cum laude. She is a 1962 graduate of Redwood High School.

Stuck Auto Causes Blaze, Is Destroyed

A Kentfield driver accidentally started a fire that destroyed his car when he started spinning his wheels at the end of Ridgecrest Road in Kent Woodlands at 12:58 a.m. Sunday.

The driver, Robert L. Louis of 30 Blue Ridge Road, Kent Woodlands, got stuck and was spinning his wheels to work his car free when they ignited the dry grass, starting a brush fire that burned about 200 square feet, the Kentfield Fire Department reported.

Pro-Marijuana Probation Man Should Be Discreet

A Marin County probation officer recently wrote a letter to the editor, describing marijuana as less toxic than tobacco and far less harmful than alcohol.

Every citizen has a right, of course, to express such personal views in public. However, those who are hired to enforce the laws of the state must be far more discreet than other citizens about encouraging others to violate or skirt the laws.

The probation officer is an arm of the court. A public statement made by such an officer, even as a private citizen, tends to be given more credence by the public at large because the statements come from a person whose duty it is to uphold and enforce the law.

The probation officer, in writing the letter, was careful to point out that "I do so with no intent to malign or show disrespect for our law." However, the tone of the entire letter was to poke fun at those who would exercise strong control over the use of marijuana.

"Marijuana is about as 'habituating' as coffee, coca cola, or angel food cake."

"If we're going to arrest people who possess a marijuana cigarette and impose these inordinately punitive laws, then we should arrest a man walking down the street with a six-pack under his arm, or if the so-called 'pusher' of marijuana should be arrested, then why not the bartender or the store clerk who provide the alcohol for our consumption?"

The effect of such statements, especially on youngsters who look to men like the probation officer for guidance, is to breed contempt for existing laws against narcotics.

If the personal views of a police officer or any other officer connected with law enforcement are such that he cannot in good conscience enforce the laws that are in the books, he should get out of that position. How can such a person be expected to influence others to respect the laws?

As for the probation officer's tolerant views on marijuana, we would be inclined to give far more weight to the repeated warnings issued by authorities in the field.

Dr. Ira H. Degenhardt, then president of the Marin Medical Society, declared last summer: "The argument that making its (marijuana) purchase legal would remove it from its sordid surroundings is pure unadulterated tripe."

He added that marijuana can bring loss of inhibitions and controls, riotous imagination, impulsive behavior and translation of random ideas into action in the motor field.

"When one adds to this the space and time distortion which makes near objects distant and makes minutes seem hours, it is easy to understand how violence may occur when the user is a psychopathic personality . . ."

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch said: "The free availability of marijuana would only increase our drug problem since it is the traditional first step for addiction-prone citizens."

We attach more weight to these observations by authorities than to the private expressions of a probation officer, who ridicules the law while being paid to uphold it.

We find it difficult to understand how the chief probation officer and the courts, of which the probation department is but an arm, can sit by quietly while a deputy probation officer is publicly advocating what amounts to a disregard of the law.

Parks, Schools Have Problem

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We are writing to bring attention to a problem in San Anselmo that needs a prompt and permanent solution.

Last Thursday, during a supervised physical education class at Isabel Cook School, our son collided with a power mower being operated on the playing field. Fortunately, only his right thumb and two fingers went into the mower; he could have lost a limb, or possibly his life.

Since the school uses city-owned Memorial Park for its recreational program, the school and city should be able to work together in arriving at a maintenance schedule that will not conflict with the children's use of the field.

However, there appears to be friction between these two groups:

1. The school principal and district superintendent claim that they have asked the city park department not to operate the equipment when the children are using the field.

2. The head of the park department claims that he has asked the school officials not to allow the children on the field while it is being mowed.

Incidentally, the operator of the mower was an elderly handicapped man who reportedly continued to mow after the accident and did not even report the incident to his superior. We support employing the handicapped, but feel this man should be transferred to a job which does not involve operating dangerous equipment around children.

Perhaps only an aroused public can bring about an adequate solution. We urge every San Anselmo parent to let their city councilmen and school board members know how they feel regarding this problem.

Disappointed Over Board

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a university student who attended San Rafael High School, I am terribly concerned about the actions and criticisms of the San Rafael School Board with regard to the faculty at San Rafael High School, specifically concerning philosophy/humanities teacher John C. Curtin.

Being a former student of John Curtin's, I was impressed with his approach to high school instruction. Mr. Curtin conducts his classes similar to college classes so that his students will be better prepared when they enter college. His only deviation from the university atmosphere is that he does care about teaching and his students, whereas most college professors are mainly preoccupied with research and publishing. For this, John Curtin is criticized when he should be congratulated and encouraged.

The School Board also is concerned that the faculty at San Rafael High School is teaching controversial issues that "may" be above the heads of the students. This is utterly ridiculous. We live in a controversial world, these are controversial times. Are the teachers to ignore this and tell the students everything is fine? I should hope not.

The people who are most concerned about the material their children learn, the books they read and the ideas they are exposed to are the same people, who, in a few years, are going to wonder why their children, who received high marks in high school, are flunking out of college or are having nervous breakdowns because they were unable to cope with controversy. If students are to be exposed only to antiseptic ideas in high school, how can one expect them to adjust to life in a college or university where they will not be watched over and spoonfed by a hyper-protective school board?

I can only hope that the San Rafael School Board will re-examine and change its attitude towards the faculty at San Rafael High School and their methods and materials of instruction, for the sake of the school children of our community.

Are We Bent On Suicide?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Well, I guess we really are bent on committing national suicide. Twenty years of pro-Red China propaganda "weareth away a stone".

It needs only our present ultra-liberal Administration to take the final step to degradation by granting a seat on the Security Council of the United Nations, complete with veto powers, and thus diplomatic recognition to the "outlaw" government of China.

That is what is about to happen, if you don't protest, and nothing will please the Communists and their friends more.

Now we know the reason for the "limited" war in Viet Nam. After all, you don't point a gun at someone and at the same time ask him to kiss and make up! Now we know why our real ally, Chiang Kai-shek's highly trained army and the thousands of anti-Communist guerillas on the Chinese mainland have not been used in Viet Nam. We didn't want poor Mao to "lose face"!

Then, of course, there's the matter of trade with long-term paper credit (which will probably never be paid), access to our money in the International Bank, "exchange" of industrial and scientific know-how and "culture". There's nothing like helping your avowed enemy to get along with the business of annihilating you!

What about the 48 million Chinese these "agrarian reformers" have murdered? What about our boys' lives they have taken in Korea and Viet Nam, not to mention those of their neighbors? What about the 750 million slaves they own? What about the drug traffic they are promoting all over the world and especially here in our own country?

For that matter, what about our national integrity?

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Uncivil Disobedience Requires Action By Democratic Government

WASHINGTON—The far-out fringe of the protest-everything movement in the United States ought to be seen for what is it: An enemy of democratic government.

It does not believe that laws made by the majority have to be obeyed; it demands total respect for its "rights" and shows total disrespect for the rights of others.

Nobody in government is trying to silence the critics of U. S. policy on Viet Nam, on the Dominican Republic, or on anything else. Nobody should trample on the right of vigorous disagreement and dissent.

But unless we keep clearly in mind the gulf between illegal social protest and legal social protest, we are going to be in trouble.

I'M NOT TALKING about civil disobedience. I'm talking about uncivil disobedience.

Some people seem to think that the First Amendment guarantees the right of assembly. It does not. It guarantees the right of peaceful assembly. Its words are: The right of people peaceably to assemble."

If we are to succeed in successfully protecting the right of peaceful assembly—which should be protected at every point—we must not make the mistake of throwing the cloak of either law or idealism around, the assertion of the right to law-breaking, peace-breaking assembly, which is not secured by the Constitution and should not be.

In his remarks to the high school Presidential scholars at the White House this week President Lyndon B. Johnson began to come to grips with this problem. He very usefully gave this counsel:

"I URGE YOU never to dissent merely because someone asks you to, or because someone else does. Know why you protest, what it is you dissent from.

"And always try, when you do disagree, to offer a choice to the course you disapprove. For dissent and protest must be the recourse of men who, in challenging the existing order, reason their way to a better order."

This is a good beginning, but Johnson did not go far enough. There is also an urgent need to mark sharply the differences between civil and uncivil disobedience.

Uncivil disobedience is deliberate law violation such as burning draft cards, urging evasion, occupying the offices of a draft board so it cannot do its work, mass sit-downs in campus buildings which prevent a university from functioning and which prevent other students from getting their education.

SIDNEY HOOK, professor of philosophy at New York University, writing in the New York Times, points out that social protest becomes civilly disobedient and illegal when it is "in deliberate violation of laws that have been enacted and sustained by the highest legislative and judicial bodies of the nation; for example, tax laws, conscription laws, laws forbidding segregation in education and discrimination in public accommodation and employment.

"Another class of examples consists of illegal social protest against local and state laws that clearly do not conflict with Federal law."

It should be clear that those who resort to illegal protest reject the democratic process. They are unwilling to rely on reason and persuasion, but seek to force social change by creating social chaos through law violation.

Illegal social protest needs to be seen for what is it, not mistaken for something worthy.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Republican Victory Could Mean Constitution Principle Return

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO—Some of the speculation regarding the trend of government involves the possibility that with a Republican administration in 1967, the state might see some return to constitutional principles in California.

During the past eight years under the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, the trend has been away from the provisions of the basic law of the state, just as nationally, the federal government has been and is disregarding the will of the people.

THERE IS nothing in either state or federal constitutions that says the producing segment of society is required to support the non-producers in the manner to which everyone is accustomed.

From all indications, this is what the state and federal governments are attempting to accomplish through boondoggling waste of taxpayer money in the form of gifts made through a vast bureaucracy of welfare workers.

Morally, perhaps, there should be enough to eat for everyone, but supplying food hardly extends to renting tuxedos for graduation for the poor, as was done in the Middle West.

EQUALLY UNNECESSARY, and equally foolish expenditures are being made in California at the present time, involving the payment of subsidies to unemployables to attend special skill centers, which are duplications of educational facilities already offered through the state's expensive school system. This is to the tune of more than $33 million, says Brown.

Further abridgement of constitutional rights was seen recently when the State Supreme Court overturned the mandate of the people in holding Proposition 14 unconstitutional. Now the court has back-tracked slightly and said its decision does not apply to single family dwellings.

Actually, what has happened and is happening is a concerted effort on the part of the Brown administration to dispose the tax monies collected by the state, and turn these rights over to that segment of society which malingers on the taxpayers.

WITH THE prospect of new and more burdensome taxes in 1967 under Brown, and a constantly sky-rocketing budget for state operations, it is small wonder that that Democratic standard-bearer obtained fewer popular votes than his opponent on the Republican side.

The taxpayers have about reached the limit as to what they can contribute to government. And it is a certainty they will resent a greater tax bite when the 1967 legislative session rolls around.

Added to this, the state is fast reaching the limit of bonded indebtedness as far as ability to pay is concerned, a situation caused as the result of the many bond issues supported by the administration and voted by the people in the belief the issues were necessary to meet the needs of progress.

The people of California have been generous almost to a fault over the past few years. But like all other good things, there can come an end to giving away the peoples' substance.

THE LATE Kin Hubbard created the once famous character of "Abe Martin," Hoosier rustic, for his newspaper column of cracker-barrel witticisms. It was Hubbard (and not Vice Persident Tom Marshall) who coined the oft-quoted "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar." Other Abe Martinisms: A restaurant waiter allus lays your check on the table upside down so you won't choke t'death . . . The hardest thing t'stop is a temporary chairman. . . . AND IT WAS Kin Hubbard who invented what he claimed to be a fool-proof formula for exterminating roaches:

"Procure a box of roach powder from the nearest grocer, being careful to have the grocer guarantee it. Scatter powder freely in the crevices about the sink and pantry, repeating the dose each day until the powder is all gone."

"In a few days the roaches will arrive at the conclusion that you are not going to buy any more and will desert the premises."

Space Program Faces Quiet Cut Of Funds

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

On direct White House orders, James Webb, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is slashing spending by $400 million in the coming fiscal year.

In addition, the President has shelved a proposed $200 million NASA supplemental appropriation for a number of manned space projects in the next 12 months.

Under the unannounced directive, Webb has been told to hold space spending to $4.9 billion in the new fiscal year starting July 1. That compares to $5.3 billion in the expiring fiscal year, and the $5 billion budget Congress is in the process of authorizing.

WHILE THESE significant backstage decisions do not directly affect the plan to put a man on the moon by 1970, they will necessitate drastic revision of other space timetables and goals—notably manned flights to Venus and Mars.

Decision on the last two projects—estimated to cost $20 to $30 billion over a 10-year period—is being delayed pending the formulation of a new space policy.

At President Kennedy's urging, Congress in 1961 approved manned flights to Venus and Mars as "national objectives." This policy is now being vigorously questioned in inner Johnson councils.

The question is being raised as to the wisdom of these plans in view of the steadily pyramiding demands for large-scale spending to meet domestic needs.

FOREMOST AMONG the potent challengers are Defense Secretary McNamara, HEW Secretary John Gardner, Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, and Anti-Poverty Director Sargent Shriver.

While NASA Administrator Webb is insisting on the need for more billions to keep pace with Russian space progress, the influential Cabinet group is maintaining that the first need is a sweeping re-examination of the entire space program and the determination of new policies and objectives.

Particularly they are urging a definite decision be made on how much of the federal budget is to be allocated for space spending in the next 10 years.

Webb contends the space budget should be increased to $6 billion by 1968, and $8 to $10 billion a year thereafter. He insists that is essential to keep abreast of the Soviet. He also argues such space spending will lead to many distinctive benefits on the ground.

AS AN ILLUSTRATION he cites manned space laboratories which could be of invaluable aid in weather forecasting, astronomy, communications, solving air and water pollution, and uncovering subterranean water supplies.

NASA's Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala., is preparing guidelines for contracts to design and construct such space laboratories. Webb wants the President to ask the new Congress next year for $300 million to launch a $3 billion program for a series of such stations manned with 12 scientists and technicians.

In talks with members of the Senate and House space committees, Webb says that a 17-month study by International Business Machines Corp. shows conclusively that such a program would have direct and far-reaching value on earth.

Want To Have Some Fun In Marin? Then Just Plan To Hold Election

Tuesday's election, which kept on happening through the rest of the week, provided more jolly sport than blind man's bluff.

THERE WERE misleading clues on sample ballots which challenged both the patience and imagination of voters.

This time, county election forces evidently decided that the "find your polling place game" had been overworked in the school elections of April, 1965. There were no calls for help Tuesday in locating Smith's Garage.

But we did have a new game which allowed a voter outside a district to vote for directors of the district. This innovation opens the door for unlimited fun.

Next time, if candidates are on the alert, they can conduct the secret campaign.

FOR INSTANCE, if a candidate for the Ross Valley Sanitary District board knew prior to Tuesday's election that he could get support from voters in San Rafael, he could have crossed the border after dark and played the secret campaign game.

Candidate: Psssst!

Voter: Who's That?

Candidate: I'm running for director of the Ross Valley Sanitary District and I want your support.

Voter: But isn't that district on the other side of the hill? Don't I have some kind of Sanitation District of my own?

Voter: Don't apologize. In San Rafael that's the best kind to have.

YOU SEE HOW much fun this can be? I think the person or persons who thought this up should be given full credit. But sadly, the people in the election department are reluctant to take credit for anything.

In fact, John Musser, who runs the election department, was too modest to take credit for the delightful "find the polling place game."

Supervisors, however, understand these things pretty well. In fact they are very smart about it. Boy are they smart!

IN DECEMBER, his salary was raised from $9,570 a year to $9,948. And the next month it went up again to $10,440.

Children's Poetry May Go To Italy

Poems by children in Marin County may, this year, be placed in an international exhibition in Parma, Italy.

Remo Pozetti, librarian at Parma, is asking parents to send examples of their children's poems to Parca Mazzini 7b, Parma. Pozetti is a leading poet of Italy and has organized shows in France and Belgium.

The first efforts to close drinking places on Sunday were made in the 15th century during the reign of Henry VI of England.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Please Write Letters, But Don't Expect Answers From Columnist

This is that annual obligatory column, and longtime readers are sanctioned to give it a quick glance and go on to weightier matters. They've heard it all before; and no book of baseball rules, though necessary, can ever be as exciting as an actual game.

So, if this piece proves more pedestrian than usual, it is because even those who live on the highest plane are still condemned to take care of some earthy chores.

E.g., the Knights of the Round Table found they had to take a sabbatical from their jousting every so often to go to the tailor for a new suit of armor, with two pairs of pants; Jefferson, in between writing the Declaration and ascending to the Presidency, did some needed hoeing in his garden; and even Samson, you may recall, took time out for a haircut.

SIMILARLY, about once a year I find it necessary to descend from Olympus and do some fence-mending by explaining the rules to some new customers who seem disgruntled. And I can't afford to lose anybody.

The biggest complaint is that I do not acknowledge their letters. But, alas, mine is a one-man operation, run by a factotum who is chief cook and bottle-washer and only a two-fingered typist. With columnar mail averaging 200 letters a week, I can answer only a few.

But, rest assured, every note is gratefully received and carefully read; they come from every stratum and most of the states and I believe I get a clearer picture of grassroots thinking from these frank and unsolicited expressions—brickbats as well as bouquets — than any pollster can give me.

MANY A COLUMN has been sparked by the mail from readers, who often send information I would never have access to otherwise. And an essay that touches a vital nerve —not all of them do, I regret to say—will evoke an immediate response of heavy mail.

The recent article on fluoridation, for example, brought forth an astonishing amount of documentation on the subject from doctors and dentists. Clearly, I cannot vouch for the bona fides of all of them, but certainly no objective person could look at the evidence and not have considerable doubt about the wisdom of forced fluoridation.

Several were members of groups which are officially for fluoridation, and asked me to withhold their names. Let me say—and this will answer some queries in other fields, also—that I never reveal the source of my information unless specifically authorized to.

I know what it means to buck the Establishment and have often gone out of my way to protect a member of a union or any other association from possible reprisal. Thus J.W.G. of Ohio may find himself referred to here as L.X.Q. of Oklahoma.

AND—TO ALLAY some fears expressed—if your letter is addressed to me care of your paper and marked "Personal," it will reach me unopened. The various editors respect the postoffice laws and, besides, they have all they can handle to read their own mail.

Incidentally, some complain bitterly that they have written letters in praise or blame of me and Ye Ed won't run them. That's out of my jurisdiction. Ye Ed doesn't tell me what article to write, and I don't tell him what letter to run. Co-existence, we call it.

Let's see, now. Oh, yes. Never send me documents you cherish—a photostat will do, and I must do some checking on it in any case. I'm not the most careful filer in the world, so hang on to your own copy.

About requests for back copies of columns: I keep two copies and can't very well let them go. Your own paper can usually supply them. And one tip: You often get better service if you enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Well, that should do it. Now I can go back to Olympus until June 1967. Keep the place tidy, will you, fellers?

Handicapped Set For Candlestick

The Marin County Recreation for the Handicapped will sponsor a "Candlestick Park Day" for handicapped adults June 30, when the San Francisco Giants will play the Atlanta Braves.

Transportation will be by buses, which will make pickups in San Rafael at the parking lot on Second Street between Lincoln and Irwin at 11 a.m., and at the Mill Valley Youth Center at Sycamore and Camino Alto at 11:30 a.m.

Reservations may be mailed by June 24 to Mrs. R. J. Tikker, 120 Tulane Drive, Larkspur. A small donation will be requested to help defray costs.

More Chances To Be Queen

The Petaluma Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that more girls will have a chance to become queen of the 1966 Sonoma-Marin Fair July 14-17 at the Petaluma Fairfrounds.

The reason: This year there will be one queen from Marin and another from Sonoma. Both will compete in the Maid of California contest at the State Fair in Sacramento.

Contestants must be 16 or older by Sept. 2, 1966 and not more than 26 years old on that date. They must never have been married. They must have lived in Sonoma or Marin at least 90 days prior to July 14, or in California at least a year by Sept. 2. Entries, obtainable at the Fairgrounds or any Chamber of Commerce office, must be submitted before June 30.

YOUTH-IN-THE-NEWS CONTEST ☆

How many news stories "favorable" to young people will appear in the I-J during the month of June?

$500.00 AWARDED IN U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

$250.00 FOR ADULT WINNERS
1st $100 Bond
2nd $ 75 Bond
3rd $ 50 Bond
4th $ 25 Bond

$250.00 FOR YOUNG PEOPLE UNDER 21
1st $100 Bond
2nd $ 75 Bond
3rd $ 50 Bond
4th $ 25 Bond

You Can Win — Enter Now!

Send in your estimate of the number of news stories "favorable" to young people (under 21 years of age) which will be published during June in the Independent-Journal. "Favorable" stories are those which report any and all activities of young people which may be considered constructive and from which no inference may be drawn that the activity or behavior reported is harmful to the young people involved or to society. (As opposed, for example, to delinquency).

Stories may cover every aspect of community life: education, cultural activities, jobs, social affairs, athletics, clubs, travel, hobbies, politics, business, careers, vacation activities, meetings, conferences, college plans, etc. Note: the Independent-Journal will report the normal run of such activities throughout the month of June.

PANEL OF CONSULTANTS TO AID

News stories will be reviewed for content and evaluation by a panel composed of:

- VIRGIL S. HOLLIS, Marin County Superintendent of Schools
- PAUL MILLER, Instructor in Journalism, College of Marin
- MRS. LILLIAN SEAVER, Lecturer in Journalism, English Dept., Dominican College
- EDWARD J. NEUMEIER, Coordinator of Public Information, Tamalpais Union High School District

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

1. Contest open to everyone — all ages
2. Two prize groups for adults and young people under 21.
3. Only one entry per person allowed.
4. Use Contest Entry blank shown here.
5. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, Tuesday, June 21.
6. In case of ties, first postmarked entries win. Decisions of judges final.
7. I-J employees and families not eligible.

A FEW OBSERVATIONS ON THE CONTEST

The Independent-Journal and the panel of consultants recognize that evaluation of what is "favorable" or "unfavorable" in a news story constitutes an opinion. Some stories undoubtedly will appear controversial; others may lie within a neutral "gray" zone. In the main, however, the great bulk of stories fall within the familiar bounds of what society as a whole considers either favorable or unfavorable. Every attempt will be made to apply reasonable interpretations. Determinations by the panel will be final.

County Asks Marin City Culture Cash

With some hesitation an one dissenting vote, Marin County supervisors today approved yet another application for funds for a War on Poverty program in Marin City.

This one would be called "total enrichment." It would provide guidance in leisure time activities and training in drama, dance, arts, crafts and music.

Douglas J. Quiett, acting director of the county's Community Relations Service, told supervisors that the federal government would put up $58,032 and the county $8,718 for the first year of the program.

Staff would be a director, three recreation aides, a clerk-typist and a custodian, plus half-time positions for an arts and crafts specialist, dance and music specialists, and a drama specialist.

Quiett said the program would be something normally provided by the Marin City Community Services District, but the district's tax base is not broad enough to support any organized recreation.

Prior to the vote, Kettenhofen asked for a report on the use and condition of the temporary recreation center in Marin City financed with county funds.

Quiett said the center gets heavy use each day, but there have been several break-ins at night with damage done to the building. The break-ins have not been so frequent during the last three weeks, he said.

Two-Foot Setback Ruling Reversed In Corte Maderc

Corte Madera Planning Commission last night reversed a board of adjustment decision to grand a variance allowing D. A. Beacock to build the front of his home to within two feet of the property line on Alta Way.

J. H. Sweeney, vice president of the Alta Terrace Homeowners Assn., appealed the variance. Commissioners agreed it was too much a variance from the town's required 20 feet setback.

Commissioners were "very receptive" to a proposal by trustees of Marin Country Day School that the campus be relocated across Paradise Drive from its present location, on three parcels of residentially zoned land, according to secretary Betty Long. Letter from the trustees did not constitute a formal application, she said.

Corte Madera Planning Commission also:

1. Ordered owner Guido Bisazza to remove illegal signs from the Big G Market in the Paradise Shopping Center and refused permission for another sign there.

2. Approved tentative map for John Fredericks' six-lot subdivision at Redwood Avenue and Summit Drive.

3. Approved the design of an addition to the California Highway Patrol office, an ice skating rink on Fifer Avenue, a duplex at 239 Corte Madera Avenue, and a Humble Oil service station at Fifer and Nellen avenues with a side entrance.

4. Rejected the design of a Twin Castles restaurant proposed for Redwood Avenue and Montecito Drive.

Flood Repair Works Still Being Completed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state still is working to repair roads damaged in the devastating Christmas flood that struck Northern California in 1964.

Bids were called by the state yesterday for $527,000 in two Humboldt County road projects that will be paid for from funds allocated for the repair of roadways damaged in the flood.

Mulford Shifts Stands On Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislative approval of $526,000 for 96 new teaching assistants at the University of California has been requested by a Republican leader first opposed to the funds.

Assembly GOP Caucus Chairman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, said yesterday that he has asked his colleagues to reverse an earlier recision urging removal of the money from the $4.64 billion budget as an economy gesture.

After talking with chancellors at the Los Angeles and Berkeley campuses where the assistants would be hired, Mulford said he now is "convinced that to not provide funds for ... these teaching assistants will have an extremely damaging effect upon the class size at UCLA and UC Berkeley."

Tradition Kept

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) —Jarvis P. Garrett, son of Sheriff Pat Garrett who killed Billy The Kid in 1881, was excused from a jury yesterday when the defense attorney challenged all persons related to law officers.

Penny Candy Grows Even More Important

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A penny still has more use today than it may seem. Take that child's delight, penny candy, for instance.

The National Confectioners Assn. reported today that 6 per cent of U.S. candy production last year was penny candy. Twenty years ago, penny candy accounted for only 3 per cent.

Water Meeting Set

A special meeting of the board of the North Marin County Water District will be held at 8 p.m. today in the district office at 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato, to consider the proposed budget for fiscal 1967 and a water and sewer study for Northwest Marin County.

Chuck Wagon Is Ready

All you hungry westerners who want a right good portion of chow to get you through the parade should shuffle right up to the Chuck Wagon for Buckaroo Breakfast at Lee Brothers Parking lot at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street from 7 to 11 a.m. Saturday.

The Mariner's Club of the Novato Presbyterian Church will be serving hotcakes, ham, eggs, fruit juice and coffee for adults and children. They promise all you can eat for the modest price they are charging.

Last year they served 1,600 from the chuck wagon and are prepared for more this year.

Wayne Hathaway is the committee chairman. Others helping him are: Robert Patterson, Russell Meserole, Ralph Leeder, Jake Keely and Junius Thompson.

Six Are Seeking Queen's Crown

Six lovely young women from Novato will vie for Queen of Western Weekend at the Queen Contest at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

The queen and her two princesses, the first two runnerups, will ride in the parade on Saturday, rule the rodeo on Saturday and Sunday and attend the other events of the celebration.

In addition they will be given prizes by the Novato merchants immediately following the judging at the Community House. The girls will be judged for poise, personality and natural beauty by a panel of five judges, to be announced later. They will have been judged for horsemanship by a panel of three judges from the Novato Horsemen's Assn. at the Horsemen's arena on Bugeia lane last Saturday.

Those entered into the contest are: Maggie L. Giubbini, Gerrie Tanzi, Eileen Azevedo, Bonnie Boinski, Nancie Kimbell and Lee Baldwin.

Maggie, who is 17, is a senior at Novato High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Giubbini of 49 Chamberlain Avenue, Novato.

Gerrie, also is 17 and a senior at Novato High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tanzi of 7 Norma Court, Novato.

Eileen, 19, is a dental technician in Kentfield. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Buck Azevedo of 2 Concord Court, Novato.

Bonnie, 18, is a freshman at the College of Marin. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boinski of 75 Rica Vista, Novato.

Nancie, 18, also is a senior at Novato High School. She is the daughter of Glenn Kimbell of 588 Atherton Avenue, Novato.

Lee, 17, is a senior at Novato High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Baldwin of 75 Palomino Circle, Novato.

The Novato Jaycettes are sponsoring the queen contest again this year. Mrs. Sandy Keefe is chairman of the queen contest committee.

In addition to chosing the queen tomorrow night at the Community House, awards will be given for the store front decorations and the beard contest will be judged.

Entertainment will consist of a combo and barbershop quartets.

Western Chairmen Are Named

Chairmen for the Eighth Annual Rodeo sponsored by the Novato Horsemen's Assn. for Western Weekend were announced by Orville Petersen, rodeo chairman.

The rodeo is sponsored by the Horsemen with the cosponsorship of the Novato Kiwanis Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Donald V. Westlund Post 7816.

Dick Du Fault and Bill Cresta are the arena cochairmen. Stanley Gobbin is the gate sales chairmen. Sgt. Wade Powell is in charge of parking. Mary Jo Swall is in charge of the clubhouse. Linda Cullins is in charge of the steer raffle.

Publicity is being handled by Sue Forest, Joseph Wright and Al Sims.

Hoedown Set For Thursday

All western music fans have a real treat in store for them Thursday night when there is an old fashioned hoedown at the San Marin Corral at the carnival grounds on Seventh Street between Grant Avenue and Novato Boulevard.

Jerry Leeds, KSAY disc jockey will act as a master of ceremonies when professional Western Bands play for the enjoyment of the crowd.

With the wit of Jerry as emcee and the playing of the professionals, it promises to be an evening of fun for western music lovers.

Novato Horsemen Are Giving $1,500 In Money For Prizes

The Novato Horsemen's Assn. this year has put up $1,500 in prize money for the rodeo which should assure top riders from all over the west, according to Orville Petersen, chairman of the rodeo.

"Ours will be the only Rodeo Cowboys Assn. rodeo in California that weekend. This should assure us top riders from all over the United States and Canada," he said.

In addition, the rodeo will get its stock from the Cotton Rosser and his Flying U Rodeo of Marysville, as it has in the past several years. This is the top rodeo stock in the country, Petersen said.

Rodeo times are 3:30 to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 1 to 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Petersen said.

We have a choice of styles, colors and blends for you. This one, a 6 x 2 rib of 60% stretch nylon and 40% cotton with Lycra* Spandex top, comes in two stretch sizes—regular (10-11½), king (12-14). The cost is a modest $1.50

RIDE 'EM COWBOY

Bronco riding and bull riding, are the two most dangerous parts of any rodeo. Cotton Mather stock which the Novato Horsemen Assn. have hired again this year, is noted throughout the West as some of the meanest riding broncs in the rodeo business. This bareback rider is barely able to hang on using the leather handhold cinched behind the bronc's shoulders.

Bronco Ball Slated

Keeping in the spirit of Western Weekend, the San Marin Club will hold a Bronco Ball from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Friday during the celebration.

"The Honky Tonks," a western combo, will furnish the music for this hoedown in which the dress is strictly western.

Residents Can Compete In Rodeo

Local Novato residents may compete in the Western Week-end Rodeo it was announced by Orville Petersen, chairman for the rodeo this year.

Under the Rodeo Cowboys Assn. rules, local residents may compete in any event of the rodeo whether they are members of the RCA or not.

Entry blanks will be available from the rodeo secretary at the clubhouse from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

Some of the local men who have competed in the past are: A. D. Schwindt, John Hogan, Walace Schott, Lloyd Leftus, William Cresta, Glen Jones and his son Phillip.

Vote Booth Set Up By Women

The booth will be open from 3 to 6 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, from 1 to 4 p.m. Friday; 2 to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

A person should register who has not registered in California or has not voted in the last general election, moved since registering the last time, changed one's name or wants to change party affiliation.

Greased Pig Contest Out —Pole And Bell Instead

One new event planned for this Western Weekend Celebration was stopped by authorities higher than celebration officials, so another had to substituted in its place.

It was a greased pig contest.

Several pigs were to be greased and placed in the corral at the carnival grounds. Prizes were arranged for those who could catch these pigs.

All was set until the Marin County Humane Society stepped in. They issued their verdict: "No greased pig contest."

Then the Marin Motorcycle Assn. came to the rescue. If greasing a pig with a vegetable shortening was inhumane, greasing a pole was not.

It will have a 15 foot, three inch pole, greased, in front of its booth. It will give a $5 prize to anyone climbing the pole and ringing the bell at the top. There will not be an entry fee and there is no qualification for age or sex. Young and old alike of either sex may try their luck at climbing the pole.

Chicken Barbecue Set

Just so that folks won't get hungry after watching the parade or while walking around the carnival grounds, the Novato Moose Lodge is putting on a chicken barbecue with all the trimmings.

They will feed all you hungry cowpokes from 3 to 7 p.m. Saturday and from noon to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Even the most expensive watch can't keep time as precisely as Accutron. That's because all the mechanical parts that make a conventional watch fast or slow have been left out of it. The Accutron® movement is electronic. It's powered by a battery that keeps a tiny tuning fork vibrating 360 times a second, and it comes with the first guaranteet of accuracy ever given. (You might like to know that the U.S. uses Accutron movements in satellites and issued them to all X-15 pilots.) You can't give a man a more perfect gift of time.

Cannonball, Bumper Cars New This Year

Two new attractions have been added to the carnival this year which will be presented at the grounds beside Lee Brothers Market on Seventh Street.

One is a new ride—the old time favorite of permanent amusement places, the bumper cars. This ride takes more space than others and is harder to assemble, so is quite an attraction for a traveling carnival, said Larry Davis, owner of Showtime Carnival, which has played at the Western Weekend celebration for many years.

The special event which is another added attraction is the Human Cannonball. This daredevil act will be seen at 9 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. It will be seen at 3 and 9 p.m. on Saturday and only at 3 p.m. Sunday.

When asked how he felt in such an occupation, Davis reported that his star once replied: "Well, for my part, I get quite a boot in the rear end out of it!"

Western Store Fronts

One thing that lends more spirit each year to Western Weekend than most other events of the celebration, is the western appearance of the stores all over the city.

This year there are three prizes for the best store fronts for the entire city.

GREAT BANK ROBBERY

The Miwok Indians rose up against the whites in the tradition of the old west and robbed the Bank of Marin's Novato branch of all the Western Weekend script intended to give the kiddies free rides. Miwok Phillip Westergard (on right) leaves the bank with all the script while self-appointed Police Deputy Leo Wasset pursues on foot. Having recovered the loot (above) Wasset runs some members of the tribe out of town while riderless horses make their way through the streets.

Balloons Floating Around

For the past several days, residents of Marin County and Sonoma county have seen baloons floating overheard.

Those kiddies who were lucky enough to capture one or more of these balloons found themselves the lucky owner of a piece of Western Weekend Scrip.

This is "bona fide genuine unadulterated redeemable Western Weekend money." Each piece of it will be redeemed the same as cash.

CALF ROPING

Calf roping is one of the events of any rodeo in which speed and skill must be combined to win. From the moment a calf breaks from the chute, the cowboy must not only rope, but throw and tie the calf. This event calls for the best of co-operation between the horse and its rider.

Boys, Men, Are Competing In Separate Beard Contests

Entries for the beard growing contest were closed early this year, so not many men had gotten into the spirit of things when the closing date came.

By March 31 there were only 16 contestants. Since then, many men around Novato have gotten into the spirit of things and beards are everywhere.

Last year, officials at Novato High School frowned down on the boys attempting to grow beards. However, this year, they have had a change of heart.

So with officials relenting, seven high school students made the March 31 deadline and signed up for the Beard Contest which will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

So that the boys will not have to compete with the men, a special prize for the best beard among the high school students started this year.

Entering from the high school are Bill Johnson, Bill Doughty, Rolle Rankin, Robin Marks, Phillip Gjervik, Lon Wright, and Eric Hanson.

Kentfield, Novato Firemen Planning Waterball Fight

Novato firemen hope to regain the revolving trophy which Kentfield has had for the past year for drubbing Novato firemen 11 to 3 last year.

The fight will be held on the Marion School grounds immediately after the parade. It promises to be a wet and mighty struggle as the two departments drench each other in their effort to shoot the three foot ball from one end to the other of a 200 foot wire stretched about 10 feet in the air.

Bystanders sometimes get sprayed with the jetstreams from the hoses, but if the day is as hot as usual, they do not mind.

Novato Parade Will Be Highlight Of Marin's Western Weekend

This year's parade promises to be bigger and better than ever. With the number of entries already reaching 200 and more last-minute entries expected, the parade promises to be the biggest, and of course, the best yet produced in the celebration.

Television star, Novato's own Marshal J., will be the Grand Marshal of the parade.

Right behind him will come the Queen of Western Weekend and her two princesses. They will not be chosen until tomorrow night (Wed.) at the Novato Community House.

Ralph Baker's professional band, "The Frisco Islanders," will be one of the professional bands taking part in the parade. Another highlight of the parade will be "The Freelancers" a drill team sponsored by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

They will meet stiff competition from San Francisco's Black Raven Pipe Band and St. Mary's All Girl Drum and Bell Corps from San Francisco.

The Novato High School Band and the Marine Band from San Francisco will also be in the parade.

Those interested in the youth will find nine Boy Scout troops with more than 180 scouts, plus their own drum and bugle corps in the parade.

Floats have been entered by the Native Sons of the Golden West, the Alameda County Fair Assn. and the San Marin Club.

As in past parades from the very beginning of the celebration, there will be many horse entries. The celebration started with a parade by the Novato Horsemen's Assn. parading down Grant Avenue to their arena on Bugeia Lane to put on a local rodeo.

This year, entries are expected from all over Northern California in the various categories of horses.

The Western Weekend Inc. this year made the largest budget for parade prizes and trophies in the history of the celebration when it budgeted $4,200 for the event.

So with the entries already assured and last minute entries always coming in, officials expect the parade to last about two hours.

In the past the parade crowd was estimated at 20,000 people, but last year, it almost doubled with Police Chief Robert di Grazia estimating the crowd at 40,000 that lined Grant Avenue to view it.

Hugh Turner of KTIM will be the master of ceremonies.

CROWD PLEASING ENTRY

Every year the crowds have looked forward to the Nave brothers' float in the parade. Dressed as wild Miwok Indians the brothers make the parade route a riot with their smoking car as they are pursued by General Custer.

Businessmen Slate Calf Roping Contest

Novato businessmen, who fall into the spirit of Western Weekend each year, this year will have a chance to prove their mettle in the rodeo.

A special event has been planned for them this year by the Novato Horsemen's Assn. It is called "The Businessman's Calf Roping."

The rules for this event are that a calf will be turned loose from a chute and a cowboy will rope it. However, instead of the cowboy dismounting and running down the line to the calf, the cowboy will stay mounted and then the businessman will run to the calf, pick it up and throw it on its side.

The businessman who can throw the calf the fastest will receive a trophy.

Carnival Grounds Planned

Xi Kappa Psi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and the Petaluma Citizens Radio club will sponsor food booths, the Novato Rainbow Girls, No. 194 will have a taco booth and Kiwanis club will sell beer.

The organizations and the various games they will operate are:

Lion's Club, "Poodle Pitch"; Marin County parents of hearing handicapped, "Basketball Pitch"; Upsilon Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, "Balloon Dart Throw"; De Molay, "Ring Toss"; Jaycettes, "Funny Fotos"; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Donald V. Westlund No. 7816, "Numbered Slots"; United Republicans of California, "Balls and Bottles"; Villa Anita Tract Assn., "Add-um-up Dart"; Junior Chamber of Commerce Jaycees, "Jingle Board"; International Footprint Assn., Chapter No. 15, "Cat Throw"; Injectors of Marin, "Dunking Tank"; Moose Lodge No. 2041, Chicken Barbecue and Mariners Club, Buckaroo Breakfast.

During the parade, the Novato Little League and St. Francis Episcopal Church sixth grade church school will sell food to the parade watchers.

Get Ready To Cheer, Hiss At Melodrama

The original Ole Fashioned Mellerdramar, "Virtue Victorious or The Widow's Plight," will be presented to three hissing and cheering audiences Friday night by the Novato Community Club.

This was the original mellerdramer which the club presented five years ago for the Western Weekend celebration. This year it can be seen at 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. Friday.

Joe Jacob is agin the director for the mellerdrama which stars Scott Wright as the brave fire laddie, Tobias Trout, also known as Launcelot Blitherington. Stacy Brennan plays the part of Arminta Heartensole, a poor young widow. Playing her devoted mother is Claudia Smart. Mazda, her child, is played by Saunde Brown. The Terrible Terror of the play is Bludsoe Heartensole, the villian who holds the mortage on the house and brings forth the foreclosure papers at a moment's notice, played by Bill Jacob.

Others in the cast include Ken Craig as the policeman, Betty London as Mrs. Pert, Connie Craig as Mrs. Sartin and Jack Gibbon as Launcelot's drinking father Herodious Blitherington.
